LOCKWOODS

AGAINST EVERY FURNITURE HOUSE IN THE UNITED STATES, MAIL ORDER HOUSES INCLUDED In Open Competition with Every Furniture Dealer.

A Clipping from the Alliance Herald.

"It should not be forgotten that when the Elks recently bought their furniture, that local dealers in competition with Omaha and Chicago merchants carried off all the business. In one case six tables were bought and one of the Alliance dealer's prices f. o. b. Alliance was as low as the same goods were quoted by Chicago merchants f. o. b. Chicago, and yet the freight on each of these tables was $1.81. The same is true in most other lines. You can save money by patronizing home merchants."

We landed the lion's share of the furniture and furnishings for the Elks' swell club rooms. In one instance on a seven dollar table we saved them one dollar and eighty cents apiece.

Just think of it!

A Fair Field and no Favors

is all we ask. What we did for this order we can do for you on all lines in our establishment. Come and figure with the OLD RELIABLES.

T. Hemingway.

A May Nuptial.

The friends of Jos. A. Rails and Miss Amanda Rorenson were surprised to learn of the marriage of this worthy young couple, which took place in the parlor of the Hila Grand hotel last Monday afternoon, Rev. C. Ray of the M. E. church performing the nuptial tie. The groom has been a reliable, trustworthy employe of the Burlington road for the past five years and is at present running with Conductor Robinson. His bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paulson of the Hila Grand and is a most estimable young lady. Some of Joe's close friends claim they knew of the intentions of the young couple, but there is no doubt that the majority were not quite so wise.

Baccalaureate Sermon.

The baccalaureate sermon last Sunday was listened to by a crowded house at the Methodist church. The first was an anthem by the choir, assisted by several musical instruments, Rev. Dr. Bogue then read the scripture from the second chapter of Daniel. A song followed, sung by the choir.

Invocation by Rev. Ray. Song by the choir. Announcements. Another anthem was given by the choir, assisted by several instruments. The class sermon was then delivered by Rev. McConnell, of the United Presbyterian church, from Daniel 2-48. In well chosen words he spoke, urging the graduating class to make a destination for themselves, and holding up Daniel in all the stronger points, as an example to look to. Although the house was too crowded, the services were enjoyed and appreciated by all present. The sermon was followed by the song, "My Country 'Tis of Thee," by the congregation. Benediction was pronounced by Rev. Roehrig, of the German Lutheran church. The class commencement exercises will take place in the opera house this evening. Tickets on sale at Holsten's drug store.

Mission at Holy Rosary Church.

The mission which was mentioned to take place at Holy Rosary church this week is well under way and the attendance each day and evening has been large and the people take an active and devout interest in the services and sermons. The missionary fathers, Revs. Lambert and Murphy, are active and devout teachers and the sincerity in which they enter into their work, is sufficient to inspire everyone who listens to their eloquence and deep thoughts expressed in the word of God. The renowned lecturer, Father Lambert, whose wisdom is recognized from ocean to ocean, has indeed been especially endowed with a keen perception of the teachings of Jesus Christ and humanity's duties to its creator. The mysteries of life and the deep sense of the spiritual world are made so plain and intelligent that even a child can understand. What he does not know about human nature and all the frailties lying in its path, amounts to very little. In the true sense, his intelligence is simply inspiration. As is said in the holy scripture, "A man of God." Surely the world would be better if more such noble men were engaged to enlighten mankind and educate the people in the true path of honor and Godliness.

The mission services consist of mass at 5:30 each morning followed by a short sermon. In the afternoon at 4:00 o'clock, instructions are given for little ones and at 7:30 there is the principal sermon of the day followed by cantillation of the Most Blessed Sacrament. The mission concludes next Sunday.

Commencement Exercises.

The Alliance high school graduates will give their commencement exercises at the Phelan opera house this evening. Arrangements have been made to make this, the eighth graduating class of the high school, a most interesting affair; that the program will be one of merit there is little doubt. THE HERALD takes pride in the school work of Alliance, and the education of the young people is considered the key note of our advancement in civilization. How well they have succeeded in their duties will be demonstrated at the entertainment this evening.

Swallowed a Staple.

While assisting his grandpa, Mr. Broich, build a chicken fence one day last week, the little son of Mrs. Anna Robinson swallowed a small, but sharp-pointed staple, which lodged low down in his throat, causing intense pain to the lad. A physician was unable to extract the obstacle and for a while it looked as if the boy would die, but after eating a crust of bread the staple passed down to the stomach and since then no pain or dangerous symptoms have developed. We need a hospital.

Romero in Jail.

John Wehn, the president of the Bridgeport bank, and all other good citizens will be glad to know that C. D. Romero, the forger, was landed in the Sidney jail Saturday night by Sheriff Lee, who brought him back from Buffalo, N. Y. The fellow admits being the party wanted and could not get over the idea that a Bridgeport banker would go to so much trouble to get him. Wehn believes the case is so clear that he will land behind the bars for a long term and be a warning to others.

Score One For Alliance.

James B. Gray and T. J. O'Keefe were at Lincoln last Sunday attending an initiation of a class of about eighty candidates into the Knights of Columbus. While the work and banquet were interesting and pleasant, it was the general opinion of those present that the "boys in Alliance" led their brethren of the capital city in their like initiatory work and as to the banquet, the Alliance ladies put the Lincoln banquet in the shade. In fact those who attended the same here express themselves by conceding that the banquet here was the finest they had participated in, in the state.

Bankers Convene.

The men who handle the finance of the Northwest met at the opera house yesterday afternoon to discuss ways and means and elect officers. The officers elect are: C. A. Minnick, of Crawford, president, S. K. Warrick, of Alliance, vice president, W. B. McQueen, of Hay Springs, secretary-treasurer.

There were but fifteen of the foreign bankers present but they put in the time to good advantage, relating each other experiences in caring for the money entrusted to them.

No doubt the most enjoyable feature of the day's meet was the banquet at Hotel Charters in the evening. Fred Nye, the genial host, has won a reputation as the finest banquet caterer in the west, and his spread for the hungry bankers and their friends demonstrated his right to the reputation. Covers were laid for thirty guests. R. C. Noleman presided as toastmaster and all the "coupon clippers" responded in a happy vein as well as a number of citizens who were present. At 11 o'clock a toast was drunk to the guests of the city and the meeting adjourned.

City Council Meet.

The city council met last night and transacted a big batch of routine business. Among other things, Councilman Joder's resignation was accepted. He has recently been promoted to a passenger run on the Sterling division and has removed there, hence his resignation. The vacancy was filled by the appointment of L. F. Smith to fill the unexpired term. They also vetoed the matter of a street fair that has been advertised here and the promoters have gone. The council believes that the celebration here the fourth is plenty, and they do not propose to license a parcel of traveling fakirs.

Sidewalks and crossings petitioned for, were left with committees for investigation.
