MEN OF BUSINESS RECOGNIZE ADVANTAGES OF ACETYLENE.

Famous Summer Hotel, the Grand Union of Saratoga, Has Installed This Best of All Artificial Lights-Means Increased Comfort and Health.

Saratoga, June 27 .- The very name, 'Saratoga," brings to every mind health-giving springs, unsurpassed hotels and beautiful drives. It has been for many years the Mecca for all who admire nature, enjoy good living, and are searching for health, or are simply taking a vacation.

The Grand Union, the largest summer hotel in the United States, set among green trees with its long wings enclosing a court with fountains and flowers, grass and trees, music and light, is throughout the season thronged with guests. With the progressive spirit always shown by its management, the Grand Union has again added to its attractiveness by introducing acetylene gas to make still more brilliant the evening hours. The genial proprietors believe in furnishing their guests with the best of everything, and now, after investigating and finding that Artificial Sunlight can be had, they have installed a complete acetylene gas plant to produce it, and have connected upwards of six thousand acetylene burners in and about the house and grounds to this

Why One Woman Has Determined Henceforth Not to Commit Herself When Advice Is Asked

When the wise woman is asked by [the friend of her heart, "How do you think this gown fits?" she edges away from the precipice which yawns at her feet and takes refuge in platitudes. "It's a beautiful gown," she says, and then, with animation, "Aren't we having lots of strawberries this year, and the fruit people say the crop of peaches will be abnormally large," says the Baltimore News.

The wise woman has learned how to answer such questions by sad, sad experience. There was a time when she would have replied, after much thought: "Why, the seam which should go down the middle of your back is a little awry, and one armhole is larger than the other."

"She remembers the time when she was innocent and thoughtless, and she did this for the benefit of her dearest friend, who had implored her to be perfectly frank.

She remembers that the friend gave her one look of scorn and swept from the room, remarking frigidly as she did so: "There certainly must be something the matter with your eyes. for this gown was made by the smartest cutouirere in the city, and I think it is quite the prettlest and best-fitting I have seen this season."

This page, knowing these things, came the other day upon a friend in her boudoir wearing a new and tiptilted hat and an absorbed and anxious expression.

"Come In, come in!" said the friend when she observed the woman's page looking at her; "you are the very person 1 most wanted to see. Give me your red-hot ideas about this hat. I have had it sent up on approval, and so I don't have to take it, and I'm not quite satisfied with it myself. Tell me what you think."

The woman's page imagines she is wise in her generation, and she hedged gracefully. "What lovely roses," she said enthusiastically, "and how artistically they are placed.'

"Nonsense! What do you think of the hat." persisted her friend; "tell me the real truth, for I must decide to-day, and I really believe I could get something prettier, don't you?"

Thus conjured, the page dropped her wonted caution. "If you really want to know what I think, I will tell you that, in my opinion, the hat is too large for you; a smaller one would be more becoming."

"Well, this one sults me," replied the friend, tersely, And to a maid passing the door: "Mary Anne, telephone Mme, Browne and tell her I will take the hat she sent up."

The vocabulary of the woman's page was not large enough to meet the occasion, but she anathematized herself by everything she knew, and made a new and unbreakable resolve never to speak her mind again about the possessions of a friend.
