Mrs. W. B. Burton and daughter May are here from Sheridan, Wyo., to visit friends and relatives for a month.
Mrs. Nellie Bunnell of Chicago, who is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Ketchum of Crawford, is here visiting Mrs. Gregg.

There were a number of family picnics on the 4th. Some went to the groves, others met in different homes to celebrate.
A gentle breeze from Deadman brought the news that a daughter had arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Betbenner.
Mrs. N. G. Poole, Misses Ava and Fern Snow and Master Linn, Beth and Ralph Thomas, Miss Boche, Miss Planansky, the Hunsaker boys, Mrs. Burton, and daughter, May, Smith Poole and Joan Gaines all boarded 45 Monday for Alliance, where they will assist in the celebration the world has ever known.

The 4th was gloriously celebrated at George Gregg's home, a son having arrived on the evening of the 2nd. Mother and child doing well.

The Omaha Bee points with fun making finger at the fact that there is $444,972.07 less property in Dawes county from this year's assessment than last. What's the matter anyway.
Nineteen years ago we spent our first fourth of July in Nebr., the first outside of the old Hawkeve state, the place of our nativity. We drove to Hemingford, sixteen miles distant to participate in the first celebration held in Box Butte county. The day was beautiful, calm and bright but we were homesick for some familiar face. However we were soon made to feel at home by the hospitable people of that place. We made the acquaintance of A. Sherwood and family, Rev. N. E. Gardner and wife, Mrs. R. H. Blanchard, then Miss Bowers the village schoolm'am, F. M. Broome and many others all of whom have proven lasting and abiding friends. We ate dinner at the hospitable table of Elijah Gregg, and there met the genial Clint Soltenburger and his wife of a few days. That was a happy day and a green spot in our memories, when each one vied with the other in hospitality and kindly feeling.

THE HARDINESS OF TREES.

Said to Depend Largely on Where Seeds Come From.
An expert nurseryman says the hardiness or non-hardiness of trees depends largely upon where the seeds from which the trees in question sprang came from. Satisfactory results are seldom experienced by planting a seed obtained from the Sunny South, say. By planting seeds gradually further north, however, trees may be at length hardened and acclimated until a seed from such a tree may be reasonably expected to thrive and mature its fruits.
Trees, like people, acquire their habits from the climate in which they live. The northern tree knows instinctively when the time has come to ripen its fruit. The southern tree follows the same instinct, being in no hurry, as there is little likelihood of real cold. With transplanting further north its habits change.
The great trouble with most people is that they want to jump a tree from South to North at one move. This same idea is evident in the attempt to bring various fruit trees from Russia to the northern United States.
Apples and plums from the land of the Great White Czar have taken kindly to the below zero conditions of the gentle Dakotas.

FOR ECONOMY ON RAILROADS.

Effective System Recently Introduced by James J. Hill.
James J. Hill has introduced a new economy on the railroads which he controls. Each engine has a tab kept on its daily employment and against it is charged every cent used for oil, fuel, repairs and operation. Thus if engine 200 is found to be costing more than engine 250 the engineer of the former is asked to explain. The same plan is to be extended to every car on the system. Then the conductors and enginemen who make the best showing are to have bonuses.

Tight Clothes Cause Distress.

Some of the most eminent physicians in the world declare with emphasis that tight gloves, shoes and clothing have a tendency to cause colds and a great deal of suffering during the winter, no matter how warmly a person may be clad. He says: "Tight shoes on anyone's feet will arrest the circulation, and while, of course, the foot might not freeze, it has no chance to get warm, and thus invites the cold, with a good possibility of pneumonia stepping in to charge up more trouble to the tight shoes. The same thing is true, though in a lesser degree, of tight gloves on the hands, and a tight collar or tight neckband on a shirt is apt to cause a cold in the head by interfering with the veins in the discharge of their duties. Shoes and gloves that fit snugly ought to be worn in the winter, but those that are tight are absolutely dangerous, extremely so because the general public knows so little about it."

The Seven Ages of a Racehorse.

First, the foal.
Wobbly, and nursing at its mother's side; And then the whinnying colt, with gentle manners.
And softly floating mane, triking in paddock.
Nibbling luscious green. Then comes the saddle.
Fiercely fought at first, with many a kick.
But later borne with grace. Then daily training.
Months of pampering care, and trials on a track.
Traveling, and racing under clever hands. Eager to records make or break.
Win cup or land fat purse. And then a mishap.
Tendon strained, and as a "selling plater" bargained.
His days of money earning ripped in bud. For him no more the soft caress of hand.
And he has played his part. The sixth age shows.
The horse of gentle breed docked, and drawing cart.
With weary stride, eyes bulging and mark of whip.
On his shrunken shank; and the full, deep breath.
Once drawn in measure strong, labors And whistles in its sound. Last scene of all.
That ends this strange, pathetic history. For which 'twere mercy to implore oblivion.
Sense tall, sans sight, sans strength, sans everything.
—Florence M. Blair in Rider and Driver.

Algerian Wheat.

Practically all the wheat grown in Algeria is hard wheat. The total product in 1902 was 21,000 metric tons. Of the annual crop all but a very small portion is consumed in Algeria. The native population use only the Algerian wheat, which is made into bread, semoules and couscous. The latter is a dish highly esteemed by the Arabs and very extensively used. The flour used for breadmaking and other cooking purposes by the European population is imported.

The Really Clever Pose.

There is much more intellectual cleverness among the girls of to-day than there was fifty years ago. A flippant cousin says: "It does not pay for a girl to be clever; men are afraid of you if you are, and the other girls hate you." The really clever women are those who disguise their learning, and pose as amiable and charming idiots.—Ladies' Field.
