Miss Clementina Gonzales, Hotel Provincia, Guatemala, C. A., in a recent letter from 247 Cleveland Ave., Chicago,

"I took Peruna for a worn-out condition. I was so run down that I could not sleep at night, had no appetite and felt tired in the morning.

"I tried many tonics, but Peruna was the only thing which helped me in the least. After I had taken but a half bottle I felt much better. I continued its use for three weeks neath and was pletely restored to health and was pletely restored to health, and was ble to take up my studies which I had been forced to drop. There is nothing better than Peruna to build up the system."-Clementina Gonzales.

HEN WILSON IN TROUBLE.

Scandal Disturbs Serenity of Inhabitants of Bingville.

It is rumored on reliable authority that Hen Wilson has left his wife again owing to some marital trouble between them. This is not the first time Hen and Sary Ann have had marital trouble. The last time before this Sary Ann struck Hen with a rolling pin above the left eye and he went out of the house and did not return for several weeks. Some says he went to the Co, seat and spent most of his time in a hospital. Finally he returned home a sadder and wiser man and him and Sary Ann made up again and started out together to try to live a different life with the dove of peace perched above their hearthstone, as you might say.

But now ruction swift and terrible has broken out in their midst again. We got this straight or we wouldn't say anything about it in print. Mrs. Wilson herself told Mrs. Caroline Hooper that Hen had left home followed by all the cooking utensils in the kitchen. Mrs. Hooper told it to Ben Wade's wife and Ben Wade's wife told it to Mrs. Widow Henderson who told us.

Sary Ann has a quick temper and when she gets mad there seems to be nothing else to do but for Hen to dig out for a while and wait until the clouds roll by. What the trouble was this time was that Hen went right into the house like a durn fool and set hisself down on a new sofa pillow which Mrs. Wilson had just finished. Mrs. Wilson stated that Hen might think that sofa pillows were made to sit on, but he was mistaken. Hen's whereabouts is at present unknown .- "Bingville Bugle Items" in the Boston Post.

ARTIST MET HER IDOL.

John Ruskin's Self-Introduction to His Admirer.

The London Outlook tells a pretty story of the late John Ruskin, artist, author, reformer, which shows that courtly and chivalric gentleman and great writer in a playful mood:

Mr. Ruskin was taking a morning walk down the road just in front of Brantwood, when he saw a lady seated on a camp-stool making a sketch of the house, and, with a courteous grace which was intensely his own, he addressed her, inquiring her reason for choosing the house in question for her subject.

"It is the house of the famous John Ruskin," she frankly asked.

"Have you met Ruskin?" she was "No, indeed," she replied. "If I had, would have deemed it one of the greatest privileges of my life." "Then, madam, if you care to follow me, I will show him to you." In a twinkling the stool and easel were packed up and the artist eagerly followed the guide. To her surprise and gratification, he led her up to the house, and entering, bade his guest follow, which she readily did. On marched the stranger into the drawing-room; then, placing his back to the fireplace, a familiar attitude, he exclaimed, to the amazement of his com-

Properly Introduced.

Margaret is a well-brought-up little girl who has some knowledge of etiquetie. She has been taken to the country this summer to a house where there is a large dog.

"Don't go near the dog, Margaret," said her mother; "he doesn't know you and he might bite."

But that did not suit Margaret and she knew how to arrange matters. Going to the dog, she made a little courtesy such as she has been taught to make at dancing school and said politely:

"Doggie, I am Margaret Brown." Then, the introduction having been made and the dog having no excuse for not knowing her, Margaret waltzed up and petted him, while he wagged his tail with much graciousness. New York Times.

The Two Brothers. Harry Lehr told at Newport a story of two brothers-the one rich and ugly, the other poor and handsome. The two brothers sat in a cafe garden, and the rich one, as he lighted a cigarette, sighed complacently and "Confound it! All the mothers in New York are after me. There's no rest."

The other brother, laughing, answered:

"Yes, and all the daughters are after me. We divide the women folks between us."
