A GLIMPSE OF THE WEST

G. L. Shumway of Scottsbluff Writes Interestingly of His Trip to the Coast and the Portland Exposition.

It was the pleasure of our party to meet Senators W. V. Allen and Tom Carter early on our trip to Portland. Also C. F. Robertson and party, including Congressman Kinkaid, who were bound for the Big Horn Basin, as was also the Hon. C. H. Morrill.

The pleasure incident to the society of distinguished persons was ours, but the discomforts of travel I have seldom seen equalled. We were unable to secure a sleeper until we arrived at Livingston, Montana, and chair cars were crowded to the limit. Dining car service was likewise wholly inadequate, and altogether the traveler will commend the Burlington as giving about as little as it is possible in the way of comforts.

We passed progressive Sheridan in the night, and Custer's battle field in the gray dawn. At Billings we found one green oasis of the Yellowstone. The thrift and enterprise reminded us of our own Scotts Bluff county. In all our trip we found but few spots that compare. East of Spokane and near North Yakama, Washington, are extensive irrigated areas, where land values are phenomenally high, and tell us what we may expect when orchard and vineyard covers our acres of fertile lands in the North Platte Valley. Small valleys in the mountains and on the dreary plains of Idaho and Oregon are cheerful contrasts to the expansive areas of sand and sage brush and lava rock. After visiting a number of the contemplated federal projected enterprises, we are convinced that none can offer such elements of cheer and comfort as our own delightful section.

The most picturesque of all the scenic features of the trip is that portion of the Northern Pacific where the road scales the mountain tops before it enters Butte. The Stampede tunnel, two miles long, that cuts through the Cascade mountains, is another notable feature, and Tennessee pass, Grand River canyon and the Royal Gorge are Colorado's contribution to the panorama on our return.

All are of course interested in the Lewis and Clark exposition at Portland. It is indeed a very creditable show, abundance of water and natural terraces, making an ideal foundation to build upon. The attractions differ not materially from usual exhibits at such places, except preponderance of western products and resource are evident. We lingered long around the forestry building, with its logs, 5 to 20 feet in diameter, and hundred of feet long. Fruit exhibits are also magnificent, but the vegetable array is not so good. Scotts Bluff and Box Butte potatoes are a luxury almost unknown in the coast country, and our personal regret is that Nebraska's exhibit did not contain more of that nature and not so heavily on corn. Our localities could well afford to give away a few cars of our tubers, and results could not have failed. I would commend it even yet.

The reclamation service has an interesting exhibit in the government building, and information relative to every project under contemplation is being disseminated.

"The Trail" abounds with novelties galore. Trained and educated animals and Streets of Cairo of course are there. What exhibition would be complete without them?

Worthy of special mention is the Carnival of Venice, which is a high-class entertainment with fifty or more characters. The scenes are laid to represent Venice in gala attire, fun and pathos, music and laughter, acrobats and rainbow dances, conspiracy and rescue, all combining to make an hour in Venice one of the pleasures of remembrance.

A trip to Siberia is an interesting panoramic effect of a ride over the Trans-Siberia railway from Moscow to Nadvostock, which, owing to present international disturbances is of peculiar and abiding interest. On this trip we enjoyed the pleasure of company with Prince Nicholas Sinelnicow, a Russian ambassador, now doing America, studying our methods of agriculture. M. Sinelnicow was accredited delegate from Russia to our National Irrigation congress.

A touching yet coldly scientific tribute to this age is the triumph of infant incubators. Tender and scarcely alive, poor tiny atoms of humanity are nursed in artificial chambers of glass, all unconscious of public curiosity, nourished and fed for weeks and months before the coming of nature's customary natal hour. Thus accidents, that might presage sorrow's childless doom, may be transformed to boyous parentage.

A trip to Venus, the Haunted Castle, Darkness and Dawn, are good attractions, and the Land of the Midnight Sun is a marvelous electrical illusion and takes one through raging storms upon the Pacific and amid falling snows of Alaska, from Pugin Sound to the golden Yukon river, under bleak, forbidding clouds, or illuminated by Auroras, until the midnight sun shines in its splendor over glacier covered mountains. G. L. SHUMWAY.

VACATION IS AT AN END

Scholars Return to Their Books After Weeks of Pleasant Recreation—Large Attendance.

Another season has rolled around and the younger generation is again attentively engaged pouring over their lessons, the attendance for the first week is very good and indications point to a larger number of children at the two schools than heretofore.

It is a grand sight to see the boys and girls as they gather on the school grounds and it points to a higher civilization. All hearty and active of mind and body, they will engage in their studies with a greater ambition, now that they have had a long season of rest. The scholars that attend most closely to their studies and the instructions of their teachers will be the ones to make a success of their school life and their future will be a happiness to them; while those who neglect the opportunities offered and prefer to act smart, smoke cigarettes and curse and swear from the minute they leave the school till they butt into the postoffice, will have only regrets confronting them in time to come. A boy may choose for himself which road he prefers to travel.

Died on His Way Home.

A lad about four years old, named Carter, from Hebron, this state, accompanied by his mother, was taken from the train Monday to the Charter's hotel sick with cholera morbis. They were on their way back from the Portland exposition when the boy was taken sick. He lingered that night and died. The mother was assisted in the care of her son by Mrs. Lester and Mrs. Tash. The remains were shipped to the home at Hebron.

Death of Peter Muntz.

Peter Muntz, a highly respected old resident of Westlawn, died at the home of his granddaughter, Mrs. W. E. Tice, last Saturday, aged about 74 years. He leaves a widow and eight children, all of whom were present except a daughter, Mrs. Annie Snodgrass of Doniphan, Kans.

The funeral took place from the M. E. church last Sunday and interment at Greenwood cemetery, Rev. C. W. Ray officiating.

Will Sell Nebraska Soil.

J. F. Ringler, railway postal clerk, has resigned his position and will engage in the real estate business. Mr. Ringler was one of Uncle Sam's most efficient clerks and if he succeeds as well in his new adventure he'll make a success of it, which we hope to see him do.

Big Flour Sale.

Beginning next Saturday and continuing until September 20, we will sell "Seal of the Rockies," a fine high patent flour, at $2.60 per hundred for cash only, as we must have money. 38-2w J. ROWAN.

Their Work Completed.

The concluding session of the thirteenth annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal church comprising northwest Nebraska was held at the M. E. church in this city last Sunday. The spirit manifested during the conference was a guarantee that the work in the Lord's vineyard is not being neglected. The lectures given by Bishop Hamilton, Rev. J. T. McFarland of New York City, Dr. Isham, Mrs. Roberts and others were well prepared and forcibly delivered.

At the conclusion of the session the ordination as deacons of Angus M. Washburn of Newport and Jesse E. Parsons of Crookston.

Rushville was selected as the place for holding the next conference.

Select Delegates.

The republican primaries were held last night and today the boys are speculating on the situation. There is more than one opinion who has the best of the deal and it will take the convention to decide who is who. The general opinion on the clerkship is that Billy Manchester has a little the best of the race; aside from this, THE HERALD reporter was unable to gain much information on the situation. It is said that there are some democrats on the town delegations, but we hope not enough to spoil things. Following is a list of the delegates elected in the first and second wards and Lake precinct:

A Trip to the Coast.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Miller contemplate a trip to the coast next Tuesday morning and will be gone about a month. Si has been figuring on taking a holiday or recreation for it has been a long time since he laid off, in fact he has not had a rest since the World's fair, which was held in Chicago. We've often wondered what made Si so cussed sassy and cranky, but since we've heard the situation we are ready to forgive him. While our popular drayman is gone his understudy George Snyder will have charge of affairs and Si is in great luck to have such a trustworthy man to depend on for George does everything right. As far as the dray business is concerned it don't make a partical of difference wether Si ever comes back or not, it will go on just the same, and if he's drowned in the Pacific ocean George will see to it that the dray customers will get their goods just the same. Mr. and Mrs. Miller will visit from the Canadian line to the coast of Mexico and no doubt a delightful trip is in store for them, if Mrs. S. only succeeds in keeping Si in line.

Stock Dipping Certificates—The form of blanks proscribed by Government Stock Inspector Dr. L. S. Campbell especially for THE HERALD are kept in stock at this office. tf

Two extras had a head-on collision at Rutland Saturday morning, causing the ditching of four cars and light damage to both engines. Trainmen on the extra east overlooked their meeting orders.

Tuesday morning a stock extra in charge of Conductor Rider and Engineer Tillet met a hand car and in putting on the emergency air a drawbar was broken, which dropped down and was the cause of nine cars being ditched. Four of the cars were loaded with cattle, but strange to say, only two head were killed. Trains Nos. 41 and 43 were delayed several hours on account of the wreck.

Tuesday morning while the fourth section of No. 13 was taking water at Brush, freight train No. 77 ran into the rear of the passenger and demolished three coaches. Four persons were killed and a score injured. Both trains were west bound. East of Brush is a steep grade, and it is said the engineer of the freight was unable to control the train in coming down the hill. A private car to the rear of the passenger train in which were seated a number of Pennsylvania people going to Colorado to inspect mining property, was demolished and many were injured. A Whitticker of Chillicothe, Mo., E. Vaughn, colored porter from Philadelphia, and an unknown colored porter, were instantly killed.

Everything is in the name when it comes to Witch Hazel Salve. E. C. DeWitt & Co. of Chicago discovered some years ago how to make a salve from Witch Hazel that is a specific for Piles. For blind, bleeding, itching and protruding Piles, eczema, cuts, burns, bruises and all skin diseases DeWitt's Salve has no equal. This has given rise to numerous worthless counterfeits. Ask for DeWitt's—the genuine. Sold by F. E. Holsten.
