This week will end the writer's connection with the Alliance Herald as correspondent from Hemingford. Work in other lines has so increased that the correspondence for several months has not been what it might have been, therefore I turn it over to less busy hands. The Herald editor has secured the services of the principal of schools here, Mr. Ora Phillips, who will without doubt demonstrate superior ability as a gatherer of news. Anyone wishing to pay subscriptions may pay me as heretofore or any one having job work to be done may leave it with me and same will receive the careful consideration of the Herald management.

Alonzo Sherwood received the sad intelligence of the death of his son Alva, which occurred on Tuesday night. He was riding his horse at the West Michigan fair at Grand Rapids, of which he was president. He was accidentally thrown from the horse Thursday and died Tuesday evening. Mrs. Sherwood was at Hot Springs and Mr. Sherwood and she made arrangements by telegraph to go east Wednesday night but later they received news that they could not be there in time so they did not go. Alva Sherwood was county treasurer of Berrien county, Michigan, and by unusual business ability had accumulated considerable property in the course of an honorable business career. Besides his wife he leaves a son and a daughter not yet grown. This is a sad blow to Mr. Sherwood and every one sympathizes with him.

Omer Roland was accidentally killed Friday evening by being violently thrown to the ground on account of the lines becoming entangled about his feet. His neck was broken and he passed away almost instantly. The funeral services took place at the cemetery at 3 p. m. Sunday. Omer Roland was 22 years, 6 months and 25 days old and was the eldest of nine children. He leaves five sisters and three brothers. He was married about two years ago to Miss Bessie Keane. He leaves one child, a girl. Omer was a hardworking, upright young man who had a host of friends. His sudden death came as a shock to the whole community. His wife and his near relatives cannot but be very sorrowful at this time and all their friends grieve with them at their untimely loss. The widow and parents desire to thank those who kindly assisted them.

Something will have to be done to get the crossings here cut 100 feet as required by the town ordinance. Trainsmen seem to find much pleasure in cutting the crossings enough to clear the planks which is worse than no opening at all as no place with any life will go through such a place. A fund is being raised by the farmers east and north of town to prosecute conductors to the full extent of the law who fail to comply with the town ordinance. Now that Justice Sherwood is away it will be necessary when a conductor is arrested to take him to Squire Rockey, who lives three and one-half miles north of town. The ordinance provides five minutes as a limit of time crossings may be held, to clear the crossings and sidetracks 100 feet and that no engine be allowed to stand more than five minutes within 100 feet of any crossing. The writer is pleased to see that the ordinance is about to be rigidly enforced.

For Sale.

Thirty-three head of cattle as follows:
 Fifteen 2-year-old heifers
 Two yearling heifers
 Three 5-year-old cows
 Thirteen heifer calves.
 All are sired by pure bred bull. Next calf crop by one of the best bulls in western Nebraska. Most of them have four crosses and nearly pure bred. This is fine stock and will be sold for $600.

FRED A. NEELAND.

 MISS MANGAN,
 Alliance, Neb.

PLEASANT VALLEY.

Miss Edith Mastrude was visiting here Sunday.

Harry Wescott, Jim Strassack and Carl Kothman will stop threshing Tuesday to dig their potatoes. The boys have 100 acres.

The old settlers' picnic last Saturday was fine, what there was of it, but owing to the inclemency of the weather many were prevented from attending. After the picnic a number of the young people followed the Pleasant Valley orchestra to the residence of Link Davis where they had a fine time dancing until 12 o'clock.
