HOSPITAL SOON TO BE OPENED

Arrangements Being Made by Drs. Churchill & Thornton to That Effect.

Alliance is soon to have the convenience of a hospital, which is conceded by all to be one of the most needed institutions of the day, and Drs. Churchill and Thornton will establish the same. They have secured the Dr. Miller residence in the west part of the city and will arrange the same in the best shape for the purpose for which it will be used. An operating room will be one of the main features, and there will be a number of comfortable bedrooms also. The dining room and kitchen will also receive the best attention and the institution will be ready for active work within a short time, possibly the latter part of this month. Drs. Churchill and Thornton came to this city well prepared for surgical work, but have been handicapped by the absence of a proper place in which to care for patients, and hence have taken it upon themselves to arrange a private hospital for their work until the sisters' institution shall have been erected and is ready for patients. The doctors are more than anxious to have the sisters take charge of the hospital of this city well knowing their adaptability for the same but the fact that it will be accomplished, Drs. Churchill & Thornton have taken it upon themselves to establish this temporary affair. Mrs. Churchill has had years of experience as a nurse and with her will be another nurse who has been with the army service in the Philippines and another of considerable experience, thus making three nurses to start with, and others will be secured just as soon as they are in demand. So we can say that the city of Alliance will soon have the distinction of having a hospital which will accommodate the sick and injured of this community.

CHANGE IN HARDWARE BUSINESS

John Hague and B. F. Ashley Buy Hardware Stock of George G. Gadsby.

A change in business circles occurred Monday, Geo. G. Gadsby selling his stock of hardware to John Hague and B. F. Ashley, who have assumed charge of the store. The new firm will do business under the name of The John Hague Co. and carry a complete line of hardware, windmills and pumps and do plumbing and heating work. Mr. Hague, who is an old resident and a man of integrity, already has a well established business in the plumbing and heating line. Mr. Ashley was formerly associated with Mr. Hague and is experienced in this line of work. They are both hustlers and THE HERALD bespeaks for them a successful business. Mr. Gadsby retains his stock of implements and buggies and will continue business at the same place.

557 Page "Brief."

On behalf of the government, in the Richards and Comstock case, the printed argument to be presented by S. R. Rush in the circuit court of appeals, April 5, is 557 pages long. Mr. Rush calls it a brief. His friends say that until he wrote that much and then had the courage to give it that kind of a name, he was a respectable citizen, who might have stood some chance of one day being invited to deliver a Fourth of July oration. But now, see what he has done; the great ambition of his life completely blighted. A man who is 557 pages brief couldn't even be invited to be an auctioneer. That printed argument of his doesn't look like anything that was ever before called brief. It's a whole reference library, an exhaustive treatise on the alleged land fraud transactions of the Nebraska Land and Feeding Company. There are more things in it than are dreamed of in the philosophy of the circuit court of appeals.—Omaha World Herald.

EVERYTHING FOR BRYAN

Shortage of Seats at the National Democratic Convention at Denver.

"Everything is Bryan," said Mayor Brown this morning after his return from a three days' visit in Denver. The mayor visited the western metropolis on business but incidentally took time to look over the preparations for the coming national Democratic convention. "There is one thing absolutely certain, however," continued the mayor. "There are not going to be seats enough by any means."

"The convention hall in Denver seats about 12,000 people and of this number there will be fully 10,000 seats distributed for the use of delegates."—Lincoln Star.

HAVE YOU THE NAME?

New Moving Picture Parlor Looking For a Suitable Non de Plume.

Alliance will have a new attraction in the moving picture line beginning next Monday night. The spacious lower floor of the new W. D. Rumer block is being prepared for this purpose, and will be arranged expressly for this business. The seating capacity is ample and comfortable and conditions are so arranged that the place is absolutely safe in every respect. The stage and arrangements for the auxidaphone has been well arranged and the audience will be treated to programs of moving pictures, instrumental and vocal music of the most popular kind, besides numerous other entertaining features.

Now, the management of the moving picture parlor are anxious to have a name befitting the place and the Herald readers are invited to enter the contest for the same. Read the proposition on the first page and get your wits to working. You may be the lucky one and that will mean something valuable to you.

A team of horses belonging to Krause Brothers, the well known ranchers northeast of this city, thought they would give the people of Alliance a touch of high life Monday morning by making a speed record. The driver, a Mr. Smith, who is employed by these ranchers, came to town that morning and when Box Butte avenue was reached the team got away and tore down the thoroughfare at break-neck speed, causing Snyder's dray team to join in the race which scattered boxes and other stuff in every direction. When the wooden shack near the new depot was reached, the horses plunged into the building with enough force to make kindling wood of several boards. This put a stop to their gay lark and they were captured, slightly bruised as a result of the exhibition. The wagon box was ditched and the running gear scattered over the street.

Arthur Bennett and Luther Clark of Marsland had business in the metropolis Monday.

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS.

Philip Michael of Hemingford was in the city Sunday.

C. E. Wiltsey and P. H. Rocky were down from Hemingford Friday.

Father McNamara made a hurried trip to Omaha the fore part of the week.

T. F. Allen, Crawford's hustling real estate agent, was in the city Saturday on business.

Miss Lillie Lundeen, eldest daughter of Capt. N. P. Lundeen, returned Sunday from her visit at York.

Mrs. M. O'Brien visited in Chadron this week and spent St. Patrick's day most pleasantly with relatives and friends.

Misses Carrie Bushnell and Rachel Brown were two young ladies from Hemingford who visited in Alliance Monday.

E. E. Ford, a well known stockman of Lawn precinct, stopped in Alliance Saturday forenoon on his return from a business trip to York county.

Sheriff J. H. Afferbach of York spent Monday forenoon in the city. He was looking for a runaway girl and went to Sheridan on the afternoon train.

The Anderson blacksmith and repair shop on Dakota street is undergoing extensive rebuilding and will be a practically fireproof building when completed.

Joe Smith, the popular dispenser of sweets and liquids at the handsome Holsten soda fountain, returned last Sunday noon from a visit at Aurora, Columbus and Omaha.

Bert Freeland writes from Los Angeles that himself and Simon Spry and families are enjoying good health and the fine climate of California. They are now living at 227 W 31st St.

Mrs. R. J. Hamilton and daughter returned Thursday evening from their visit of several days at Chadron. Conductor "Billy" no longer tells those "hard luck" stories of being so lonesome.

A. G. Price and family returned Sunday from their visit at York and Lincoln. Mr. Price will go to Whitman as agent, temporarily, expecting to get back his old place with the Burlington in Alliance soon.

Mrs. Gene Sights received a telegram last Tuesday afternoon announcing the death of her brother at Henderson, Kentucky, and Mr. and Mrs. Sights left the same night for that place to attend the funeral.

Francis O. Quinn, who was employed at the Famous Quin Store the past six months, packed his collar box and struck out for Omaha last Saturday night, where he expects to hold forth in one of the clothing emporiums of the Missouri river metropolis.

Mrs. F. B. O'Connor received the sad intelligence by wire Monday from Sutton, Neb., that her mother, Mrs. Martin Prendergast, was in a dying condition and advised her to come at once. Mrs. O'Connor and son Joe left the same evening for that place. Mrs. Prendergast is 90 years of age and has been blind for more than two years.

C. C. Jameson, general manager of the Nebraska Land and Feeding company, at Ellsworth, was greeting his many Alliance friends Saturday. Mr. Jameson returned recently from California where he spent a couple of months with his family. He met several former Alliance citizens among whom were Samuel Smyser and R. C. Noleman whom he says are evidently prospering.

"Blow, blow; thou wintry winds." There was nothing particularly wintry about the winds that blew, but they certainly did blow. They blew signs, hats, dust—and skirts. However, this is March and the lion and the lamb will soon "lie down together," and give way to April with her bountiful rains. And the suburbanite will be seen wending his way homeward with hoes, rakes and garden seed.

One of our popular young ladies who is contemplating matrimony, with the advantages which leap year gives her, was handed a testament by the father, with the leaf turned down at the following passage: "He who giveth in marriage doeth well; but he who giveth not in marriage doeth better." She immediately returned it with the following reply written underneath: "Dear father, I am content to do well; let those do better who can."—Columbus Telegram.

"IRELAND WAS IRELAND"

St. Patrick's Day Fittingly Observed in This City by Knights of Columbus

IRELAND'S SHAMROCK.
(Thomas Moore.)
Through Erin's isle,
To love a while,
As Love and Valor wander'd,
With wit, the sprite,
Whose quiver bright
A thousand arrows quandered;
Where'er they pass,
A triple grass
Shoots up, with dew drops streaming,
As softly green
As emerald seen
Through purest crystal gleaming,
O! the Shamrock, the green immortal
Shamrock!
Chosen leaf
of Bard and Chief
Old Erin's native Shamrock.

The anniversary of the patron saint of Ireland was observed in Alliance in memorable style and there was evidence on every hand that good old Saint Patrick was still dear to the hearts of mankind. In fact there was no nationality lines drawn. The wearing of the green symbolized the occasion and the beautiful shamrock that answered as a convincing argument of the divinity for Saint Patrick when he carried on his missionary work in the green isle was on almost every lapel. No doubt there are many who never learned the symbol of the shamrock but such is the case.

At 8 o'clock Tuesday morning high mass was offered up at Holy Rosary church in honor of Saint Patrick and the attendance was quite large. Father Peiper of Crawford acted as celebrant in place of Father McNamara.

A good sized audience assembled at the Phelan Opera House on the evening of the 17th, where a lecture and entertainment was given under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus. At eight o'clock William Mitchell arose and, after a few very appropriate remarks, announced the program as arranged. The first number consisted of a violin solo by Mr. Baker, with Mrs. John Wiker as accompanist at the piano. This number was well received and brought forth hearty applause.

The classical scholar, and versatile entertainer, Hon. N. K. Griggs, of Lincoln, met with a warm and enthusiastic reception as he came forward to furnish the feature of the entertainment. With that simplicity of language which marks the man of much erudition, he told of his visit in Ireland, and of the sights awaiting the visitor to Erin's isle. His praise of Emmet's and O'Connell's patriotism, of Burke's oratory, Moore's music, Goldsmith's poetic sense, was indeed a treat to his auditors. He told of his particular friendship and acquaintance with Parnell. Following his address Mr. Griggs ran the gamut of human emotions by singing songs and reciting pieces of his own composition. Particularly appealing to his audience was the song written by him and dedicated to the mother of Mike Elmore, picturing her dreariness of the home of her childhood in the Emerald isle. Mr. Grigg's had as his accompanist at the piano Miss Kessler of Lincoln, whose skillful execution won for her much merited praise. Father McNamara premised his recitation with a few remarks expressing the gratitude of all to Mr. Griggs, who, free gratis, came several hundred miles to assist in the entertainment.

In the rendition of the Exile's Death, Father McNamara touched a popular chord, and received well deserved applause. Following Father McNamara's recitation a long and very interesting program consisting of songs and recitations by local young people was rendered in which all the participants succeeded in pleasing their audience. As a fitting close to the entertainment those present joined in singing America, and the pleasant evening came to a close.

Others who took part in the evening's program were W. C. Heelan, who delighted the audience and especially aroused the noble Irish blood of the Celts present with the rendition of Robert Emmet's last address, when all the spirit of the patriot was aflame with love of his native land, and the eloquence of this speech was well presented by Mr. Heelan.

The vocal renditions that pleased the large audience were rendered by Messrs. Jack Watson, Richard Burke; Misses Helen and Virginia Broome, and Anna O'Connor.

Civil Service Examination.

The examination of applicants for a clerkship or carriers in Alliance will be held in the Central school building Saturday, March 21, beginning at 9 a. m. The examination will be in charge of J. N. Johnston, an employe of the Alliance postoffice.
