Five cars of company coal was derailed at Northport Tuesday afternoon, in a freight train coming north in charge of Conductor Ayres. The cause of the accident is as yet unknown but is presumed that some of the brake rigging broke and dropped on the rails causing the accident.

A large number of persons braved the windstorm of last Sunday and walked across the viaduct to the roundhouse to get a glimpse of the new Mallet compound engine No. 1906. This engine has twelve drive wheels with two cylinders on each side and weighs 353 tons and will be used as a helper engine on Crawford hill. The shopmen were obliged to disconnect the tank in order to get the engine into the roundhouse. Engine 1907 of the same type arrived here Tuesday. These engines will be enumerated into the class "T" series of the "Q" and will the 4001 and 4002.

"A Woman of Mystery."

An intensely interesting and fascinating drama in the Phelan opera house, Friday night, May 1.

Alliance is fortunate in securing a company of such merit as the one under direction of Mr. Roy D. Way who presents the noted English actress Miss Courtenay Morgan with an able company of ten players in the beautiful drama "A Woman of Mystery" in the Phelan opera house Friday night, May 1. This is one of Mille Bernhard's great successes which has thrilled audiences of thousands of people throughout all parts of the civilized world and it will be faithfully reproduced in Alliance Friday night, handsomely mounted and gorgeously costumed. It is a beautiful play, a beautiful story and has a strong caste to present it properly. Those failing to attend will miss a treat in the line of a high-class drama. Prices have been reduced to 75, 50 and 35 cents with a special rate of 25 cents for children. It is specially requested that those having small babies will arrange for someone to care for them at home, should they desire to attend, for this is a play that is intensely fascinating and any distraction will spoil the play for any one desirous of getting the full effect from it.
