Put Your Shoulder to the Wheel and "Boost" for Alliance.

Well, the Commercial club of Alliance has duties to perform and it stands this organization in hand to call upon all our citizens to get busy in the work of advancing our interests. Mr. Batterson, the representative of the Municipal Service League of Chicago, arrived in the city this week to pursue the work that organization has begun of assisting in "boosting" the advantages of this western metropolis. Regular meetings are being held every evening by the members of the club and already there are indications that much good will come from this united co-operation. Mr. Batterson is a young man who gives evidence of progressive business ability and he has entered into his work here with a will that should be appreciated. Attend the meetings and take a hand in the game of "boosting" for Alliance.

Cowboys Victorious.

One of the best games of ball that has been seen in Alliance for a long time was played Monday afternoon between the Alliance team and the Wyoming Cowboys. The Cowboy team has been selected from amongst the best players in the west and the Alliance team proved their own worth in the game they played against them. The local team lost the game, but put up one of the best articles of ball playing to be seen in amateur circles anywhere. While all are deserving of praise for their playing it must be said that the work of Copey and Gadd, the battery, was of particular excellence. Loeb pitched a good game for the Cowboys. Owing to some poor judgment on the part of the umpires at critical times Alliance suffered considerably, and had this not been the case Alliance players feel that they would have won the game. The score follows:

Cowboys.....100002000-3

Chas. Huss is the energetic owner and manager of the Cowboy team and it is his intention to take the team as far as east as Chicago playing the various towns and cities enroute. Mr. Huss has gone to considerable expense in getting the team together, and his friends will watch with interest the success of the team while on the road.

the faculty of making and retaining friends, we trust he will include Alliance in his wedding tour. The following is taken from the Livingston Post: Although it has been the idea of the happy young pair to keep the fact of their approaching marriage a profound secret, it has leaked out that on September 16 Miss Lettie Nolan, daughter of the late F. J. Nolan, will be married to Martin O'Connor of this city. Miss Nolan is one of the most accomplished and most popular young ladies of Livingston, while her husband that is to be is a member of the local lodge of Elks and a highly respected young mechanic in the employ of the Northern Pacific railway.

Refreshments were served and the ladies enjoyed the evening most pleasantly.

Death of Ed. Barry.

Last Friday evening at 10 o'clock the soul of Ed. Barry took its flight and he closed his eyes in peaceful oblivion to the sufferings of this world. For a number of years a sufferer from dread locomotor ataxia and kindred diseases, from which he could obtain but little relief, Mr. Barry bore with much patience and resignation the sufferings of his affliction.

Mr. Barry was born in New York state in August, 1864. With his father he moved to this section of the country about eighteen years ago where he has continuously resided with the exception of short periods spent in Newcastle and Sheridan, where he was engaged in business.

Besides his wife, Mr. Barry leaves to mourn him, his father, an old and respected resident of the county, three sisters, Miss M. Barry, proprietress of the Barry house, Mrs. Wm. King of this city and Mrs. Nate Hart of Lead, S. D., and two brothers, John and Phillip, both residents of this county.

Mr. Barry was a man who possessed the faculty of retaining his friends because of his sincerity and steadfastness to them. Genial and liberal there are many to mourn because he has gone.

The funeral was held from the Catholic church Sunday afternoon and was attended by many friends of the dead. Father McNamara conducted the last sad rites at the church and Catholic cemetery.

Death of Mrs. Knight.

After an illness of several months with tuberculosis, Mrs. Edith Briggs Knight, a former resident of this county and well known, died at her ranch home near Edgemont, S. D., and the remains were brought to this city Tuesday afternoon on 44 for burial at the old Carpenter cemetery. Rev. Jeffers conducted the services at the Baptist church yesterday morning after which the funeral cortege took up its journey to the last resting place in the little country cemetery in the neighborhood of which deceased spent her happy childhood days. Mrs. Knight leaves besides her devoted husband, a father, mother and brother to mourn her untimely death for she had only reached the age of 26 years. A short time ago deceased was taken to Hot Springs with the hope that benefits might be derived at that famous watering place but with no avail and she was hurried back to her home only in time to meet the grim reaper. Mrs. Knight is the third daughter in that family to be carried off by the white plague in a few years. She was a most estimable lady and while she has gone to her eternal reward she will long be remembered by her many friends who will speak her name with sweetest recollection and love.

Wilson-Kruger.

At ten o'clock Saturday morning at the M. E. parsonage, Rev. J. L. Valow performed the sacred ceremony that united in holy wedlock Mrs. Amelia Kruger of St. Louis and John A. Wilson of this county. The happy couple have commenced housekeeping in their home near here. They have many friends who will wish them much joy in their married life.

Another Attractive Entertainment Soon

Arrangements are being perfected to give an entertainment next Thursday evening at the opera house for the benefit of the pipe organ fund of the Presbyterian church. Maud Palmer Terrell, who so successfully managed and directed the vaudeville show at the opera house last evening, has been secured to lend her assistance with local talent for the purpose of carrying on this entertainment. Having considerable time to devote to rehearsals, she will be able to produce a much more interesting and elaborate program. Novel features of unusual interest will form a part of the forthcoming program. The best talent, including musical, dramatic and humorous, in the city, will take part. By special request, the Indian dance, that made such a decided hit at last night's entertainment, will be reproduced. Mr. Griffith, whose excellent piano execution has attracted the attention of the music-loving people of Alliance, has consented to render a few selections, so that a fine program of music and acting may be looked forward to.

Carrie Nation Visits Alliance

The renowned Carrie Nation stopped off in this city yesterday morning on her way to Scottsbluff, where she fills a date at the chautauqua meeting this week. Carrie came in on the early morning westbound passenger from the east and was a guest at the Hila Grand between trains. The earliness of the hour made her "admiring" visitors but few. However, just before the Guernsey train pulled out the saloon smasher made her appearance on the platform of one of the coaches and spying two young men smoking cigars, proceeded to "hawl" them out for indulging in the "nasty habit," as she termed it. "If God Almighty intended you young men for smoke houses he would have turned your noses up the other way," piped the little dried up woman, who was dressed in black. Though having the appearance of sixty years, Carrie possesses lots of life and mighty good lung power, which she does not hesitate to use. A young man, who was smoking a cigarette, accompanied a young lady to the car on which Carrie was standing and she proceeded to give her opinion of any young woman who would keep company with a man who smoked the filthy little pill. But every one took Carrie good naturedly and had a hearty laugh over the queer way of carrying out her pet reforms.

Miller-Jessup.

The marriage of Mr. Guy A. Miller and Miss Margaret C. Jessup was performed at the Baptist parsonage in this city Tuesday evening. Rev. Jeffers officiating. Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Jessup were witnesses to the ceremony. Mr. Miller is an old-time employe of the Burlington railway in this city and stands well with his fellow workmen. His bride is a charming lady and will make her husband an able helpmate.
