NIGHT RIDER PEACHES

Ted Burton Tells Remarkable Story of Depredation,

Gives Names of Forty Members of the Band and Makes Damaging Disclosures Regarding Killing of Captain Rankin.

Ted Burton, self confessed night rider, under arrest at Tiptonville, Tenn., told a remarkable story of night rider depredations in the vicinity of Reelfoot Lake, confessing to the part he played in the outrages which reached a culmination in the putting to death of Captain Quentin Rankin, a prominent attorney of Trenton, Tenn., on the banks of the lake a week ago, and implicating men prominent in that section of the state. Of the number, he declared, who had a part in the killing of Captain Rankin, more than half are now in custody at Camp Nemo, the military base near Samburg.

While Burton denies that he was present when Captain Rankin was put to death, he admits that it was through information given by him that the band congregated and secured the attorney while he stopped at the hotel at Walnut Log. According to Burton's confession, Tom and Garret Johnson, under arrest, and William Wilson, under bond in connection with another raid, were the leaders of the lake band. Burton declares that the first part he played as a member of the night riders' band was when he aided in the burning of a fish dock at Samburg and several weeks later was one of a party which crossed the county line from the Reelfoot lake district into the adjoining county of Lake and whipped Justice of the Peace Winn, an aged man.

Coming to the killing of Captain Rankin, Burton declared that the night before the lynching he went to Walnut Log and there met James F. Carpenter, the attorney of Union City, at whose solicitation Rankin and Judge R. Z. Taylor, his associate in the West Tennessee company, the owners of the land upon which the lake is situated, came to the lake. It was stated that the visit of the two men was to enter into a timber deal with Carpenter. After this conversation, Burton states he communicated with the night rider leaders and told of the intended visit of the representatives of the land company. On the following night he saw the two men at supper at the hotel, but declares he left Walnut Log early in the night and went out into the lake to fish. He states that he was fishing when he heard the shots which ended the life of Captain Rankin, but did not return to the shore for some time. In the course of his confession, Burton gave the names of no less than forty members of the night riders.

GREAT CROWDS GREET TAFT.

Yonkers People Brave Elements to Greet Republican Candidate.

Industries of the towns which line the banks of the picturesque Hudson from Greater New York to Troy were made the text for the speeches of William H. Taft to the people of these cities and towns.

Yonkers smiled on the big form of the Ohioan through a heavy shower. He talked at length to as many as could get into the largest theater, and then addressed those who had stood and waited in the rain, whose number was even greater.

Mr. Bryan spoke in Yonkers Monday and, saying he understood his distinguished opponent had charged that the Republican party had done nothing for labor, Mr. Taft first asserted that the policies of the Republican party had been chiefly devoted to the interests of labor and then pointed out that the protective policy made possible the sugar refining industry, the chief enterprise of the city.

Mulford in Billibid Prison.

Omaha, Oct. 24.—Word has been received here that Harry B. Mulford, who went to the Philippines as captain of the Thurston Rifles when the Spanish war broke out, has been sentenced in Manila to two years and eleven months in Billibid prison and will be forced to pay a fine of $1,000 into the insular treasury. He was convicted some time ago of falsifying entries and using forged notes as legitimate assets of the American Bank of Manila, of which he was cashier and his wife vice president.

Republicans Deny Bryan's Claims.

Lincoln, Oct. 23.—Mr. Bryan's statement at New York that he would carry his home precinct and the city of Lincoln is sustained by the Democratic state and county committee chairmen, but is denied by Republican campaign managers, who declared Mr. Bryan had probably been misled by reports from home. The city of Lincoln has a normal Republican plurality of about 1,600 and to overturn this would require a Democratic gain of slightly in excess of thirty-one to the precinct.

Aged Woman Files Suit for Divorce.

Beatrice, Neb., Oct. 23.—This city has been stirred up over a divorce suit filed by Mrs. Eliza Erb, who is eighty years old and wife of Rev. Edmond Erb, a prominent minister, also very old, in this city. Erb has filed a cross-petition, in which he sues two daughters of his wife by a former husband for $25,000 damages for alienating his wife's affections. The case has received more than ordinary attention because of the prominence and age of the principals.

THOUSAND WORD A MINUTE TELEGRAPH IN OPERATION.

Mayor of Boston Inaugurates Teletype Service—One Cent a Word the Highest Rate For Any Distance.

"In sending you the first Teletype message between Boston and Portland I extend congratulations upon the successful inauguration of quicker and cheaper means of communication which automatic telegraphy has now brought about and which cannot fail to be a great boon to the people of our own and other municipalities."

With this message to the mayor of Portland, Me., Mayor George A. Hibbard of Boston announced the opening of the lines of the new telegraph company, the Teletype. This system, which sends and receives wire messages at 1,000 words a minute, makes possible so many economies that the new company is able to make a rate of 25 cents for twenty-five words between all points. On Teletypes delivered at destination through the mails the rate is 25 cents for fifty words, telegrams 10 cents for ten words.

One of the best descriptions of the Delany automatic system controlled by the Teletype is given in the report of the Franklin Institute, just made public, awarding Patrick B. Delany the Elliott Cresson gold medal. In making this award the Franklin Institute authorities describe the Delany system as "the latest development in automatic telegraphy."

The system embraces both electromagnetic and electro-chemical methods of receiving messages and transmitting them by perforated tapes. Referring to the main features of the Delany system, the Franklin Institute report says:

Could Killed Former Automatic Co.

The most notable use of the chemical system was by the Automatic Telegraph company, which built lines in 1871 from New York to Washington and Charleston, with offices at Philadelphia and other intermediate points. It continued in business for about three years with fair success, when Jay Gould obtained control of the stock and sold it to Vanderbilt and Western Union interests. Delany, Edison, Johnson and some other well known electrical engineers were prominent in that company, Mr. Delany being its general manager. He has never wavered in his belief that automatic telegraphy must eventually become universal.

The principal difficulty encountered by all high speed telegraphs and which gave the old automatic line the most trouble is "retardation," or the "static charge," or "capacitance," of the circuit.

The most important of the Delany patents deals with the objectionable static charge. In this patent Mr. Delany describes a method of utilizing the "capacitance" of the circuit in producing the record on the receiving tape.

The capacity of the line as a disturbing factor having been removed, it is a short step to increase the speed and distance over which chemical telegraphs may be operated.

Tested at 1,200 Words a Minute.

The committee saw the Delany apparatus in operation on two occasions and tested the speed of transmission of the chemical system at 1,200 words a minute. The record on the tape was perfect, much more uniform than could possibly have been made by hand transmission.

The commercial importance of Mr. Delany's completed system of high speed automatic telegraphy and particularly of his elimination of that bane of telegraphy, the static charge, or retardation, becomes more and more evident as its application to existing conditions is considered. High speed upon long or short lines is now assured. The carrying capacity of a line is made sixtyfold greater than hand worked lines. Expert service is reduced to a minimum. Errors in transmission are eliminated. Line maintenance is decreased in proportion to increased speed. As a result of these conditions the cost of service can be made so low that the volume of business should be very great.

Elected President of W. C. T. U. by Acclamation.

Resolution is Adopted to Prepare Welcome for Men of Atlantic Fleet or Their Return From Trip Around the World.

Mrs. Lillian M. N. Stevens of Portland, Me., was unanimously re-elected president of the National Woman's Christian Temperance union by the convention at Denver.

Thanking the convention for the confidence in her, shown by her re-election, President Stevens said: "I will bear the torch of the W. C. T. U. since you have chosen me. It is the torch of God-giving truth and I will try to keep it burning so brightly and hold it so high that the W. C. T. U. will be high over everything."

The recording secretary, Mrs. Eliza Beth Preston Anderson, reappointed Mrs. Sarah H. Hope of Lincoln, Va. assistant recording secretary.

Mrs. Elia H. Thatcher, at the end of her address on "Work Among Soldiers and Sailors," offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

"Believing that, notwithstanding all the feinting and feasting which our sailors have been tendered in their trip around the world, they have not found braver, truer mother hearts than those of their motherland.

"Resolved, That the members of the National Woman's Christian Temperance union prepare a proper welcome for these sailors on their return, in recognition of their service to our country."
