Edith Brower Attempts Suicide by Hanging

Miss Edith Brower, the young girl who was shot by her brother, Charles, one night last November at the Brower ranch while in company with her lover, Frank Augustine, attempted suicide by hanging last Tuesday and but for the timely arrival of Policeman Cal Cox, would have doubtless been successful. The girl secured a rope and quietly slipped out to the barn, but her mother, Mrs. L. N. Brower, seeing the actions of her daughter, followed her to the barn. The girl threatened violence to her mother who then called for assistance. Officer Cox was soon on the grounds and took Edith into custody. She was arranged before Judge Berry and bound over to the district court in the sum of $200, as witness and accomplice of Augustine.

The girl is only sixteen years of age but the unfortunate being is wrapped up in troubles too heavy for her tender years and it seems that she attempted to rid herself of life's mistakes by shuffling off this mortal coil. She asserts her affections for the man who caused her all this trouble and is determined to marry Augustine, who occupies a cell in the county jail in which she is held.

The whole affair is disgusting, but human sympathy cannot but go out to one of such tender years whose life is blighted. She is being guarded carefully that her desire of self destruction may not be accomplished.

Benefit at Crystal Successful Affair

The entertainment given at the Crystal theatre last Monday night for the benefit of St. Agnes' academy, was most successful. Messrs. Burroughs & Hevner, the proprietors, did all in their power to bring about this result. Since the opening of this popular play house, no such crowd taxed its capacity. The vaudeville feature of the entertainment was interesting and the comedians, Wright and Guthrie, did their part to enliven the program. The management of the Crystal has made arrangements to continue the vaudeville attractions which will be changed weekly.

Married in Denver

Among those who decided that it would be better to begin the new year in the holy bonds of wedlock and much to the surprise of their friends, were Mr. Clyde Miller and Miss Nina Mosher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Mosher. Mr. Miller quietly slipped over to the metropolis of Colorado last Friday and made arrangements for the tying of the nuptial knot Sunday evening. His handsome young bride, in company with her mother, followed Saturday and on the first day of the week the ceremony was performed. The young couple, accompanied by Mrs. Mosher, returned to this city Monday morning and of course when the news leaked out of the marriage there was surprise and congratulations on every hand. Mr. Miller has been in the employ of the Burlington for some time as brakeman and will doubtless be promoted to conductor before many months. Steadfast and reliable, he will make an acceptable helpmate through life for one of Alliance's most charming and popular daughters.

Collision Injures Switchman Moore

E. R. Moore, a switchman, who had been working but two nights, had the misfortune to have his leg broken and other injuries sustained while switching Tuesday night. Moore was standing on the steps of a caboose and the switch engine with a string of cars backed into the way car, breaking off the steps and catching Moore in the wreckage. Dick Kenner was also slightly injured in the collision.

Brown-Winegar Nuptials.

The Alliance friends of Miss Josephine Winegar were surprised to receive announcements from Mr. and Mrs. George M. Bennett of Atkinson, Neb., announcing the marriage of their sister, Josephine Winegar, to Morgan A. Brown of Marple, this county, on Thursday, Dec. 31, 1908.

Both parties to this happy union are well known in this city where they have a host of friends who will congratulate them most heartily. Mr. Brown is a well-to-do rancher near Marple and a man of excellent qualities and character. Mrs. Brown (nee Winegar) was a resident of Alliance for some time and her friends and associates among our best people. The Herald desires to extend its congratulations to the contracting parties with wishes for a long and happy life.

Alliance Shoe Store Sold to Jos. McNamara

As will be seen by announcement of the successor, appearing on the first page of today's issue, the Alliance Shoe Store has been purchased by Jos. McNamara who has taken charge of the business and will continue to cater to the trade of Alliance and vicinity with the best goods manufactured in foot wear.

Mr. Thomas retires from the shoe business here for the purpose of entering mercantile pursuits in a thriving town in Polk county. He will be associated in the business with his father-in-law, Mr. E. M. Burke of York. Mr. Thomas has proved himself an active and energetic business man and we regret exceedingly to see him leave Alliance. In all enterprises he has shown a public spirit. We hope to see him succeed in his new location.

Jos. McNamara, the new proprietor of the Alliance Shoe Store, located here last year with his family and is a permanent fixture, so to speak. He is a young man with thorough business methods and will be found pleasant to do business with.

To My Former Customers

Having disposed of the Alliance Shoe Store, I desire to return my sincere thanks for the many favors shown me by my many customers and friends. I beg further to ask of my friends a continuation of the same courteous treatment for my successors, whom, I feel warranted in saying, will appreciate and merit the same. Sincerely, J. O. THOMAS & Co.

New Attraction Next Week at the Crystal

Messrs. Burroughs & Hevner, of the Crystal, have secured the well known "Acrobatic Comique" Donahugh and "Mad Clown" Hamilton for next week's attraction at the Crystal theatre. These stage artists are well known and great favorites in their line. Mr. Hamilton was in this city with Campbell Bros show on one of their trips and his merriment as a clown won popular approval. He is humorous to a high degree and is said of him, can make a dead man laugh. Mr. Donahugh is also an acrobatic artist and introduces many novel and original features. The two gentlemen work together, making one of the strongest attractions on the stage. Their performances change during the week so that those who attend the Crystal will witness new features.
