Martha Washington Tea

The Martha Washington tea at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Acheson was postponed from Monday evening to Tuesday evening on account of the storm that prevailed Monday. The tea was well patronized, the weather having cleared up and the sidewalks having been pretty well cleared of snow before six o'clock.

The guests were received in true Colonial style and entertained during tea with music furnished by local talent. The hostess and her assistants were dressed a la Martha and George Washington, which added to the novelty of the entertainment, and the house was appropriately decorated. The supperwas bountiful and all present enjoyed the occasion.

Success of the Crystal.

The Crystal theatre continues to draw crowded houses every night of the week and the management in its efforts to provide attractive features friends in Ft. Morgauhave been well rewarded for their efforts. In fact, it is the general expression that those who attend the Crystal get more for their money than is to be seen at shows often charging higher prices of admission. The vaudeville features of the Crystal are both interesting and up-to-date, with the constant changes that are made. This week the Coles are amusing the patrons of this popular play house with musical features. The younger Cole is surely a stage prodigy and a whole show in himself. Next week Lessik & Anita, the world-renowned jugglers, will be at the Crystal and will entertain the audiences with rare treats in their line of acting. The moving pictures continue to be the best that can be secured and the musical features are also up-to-date.
