Sigvald Nordvik and C. Nelson had a runaway Saturday breaking things up quite badly but no one was hurt.

There was another barn dance at Winters' and was attended by a large crowd of people, everybody having an enjoyable time.

Henry Gasselings' dance Friday night was well attended and a good time was reported by all, quite a number going from out of town.

Supt. Ora Phillips and Miss Nerud drove across the country for a short visit at Fred Davison's, going back to Alliance on the train Sunday.

Frank Barney was surprised by a crowd of young folks Friday evening. Everybody had a nice time and after a fine supper went home pleased.

Victoria Kohrman closed a very successful term of school in Dist. 33 Friday. This being her second term there and from reports of the patrons she would be welcome to the school next year.

In company with T. J. O'Keefe, former editor of the Herald, the present editor made a trip to Hemingford on Saturday, the 13th inst., to attend the Box Butte County Industrial contest. We had the pleasure at that time of meeting a number of the citizens of the town and surrounding country; but on account of the storm and the attention being given to the school exhibits, we did not get around the town as much as we desired to, consequently made another trip last Saturday.

Mrs. M. E. Carroll, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. A. B. Hosman, was a passenger to Hemingford yesterday where Mrs. Carroll will consult Dr. Eikoer regarding a stubborn case of inflammatory rheumatism which has greatly affected her general health, of late. Mrs. Hosman has also been in poor health for some time and this morning suffered an operation, Dr. Eikoer officiating. Word comes that she is doing very nicely at present and without doubt the two ladies will return to Hyannis much benefitted by the services of the eminent physician whom they have employed.—Hyannis Tribune.

Romer-Hollinrake.

A happy wedding took place at the Catholic church, in Hemingford, at seven o'clock, Monday morning, Feb. 22, 1909, when Mr. Joe Romer and Miss Agnes Hollinrake entered the holy bonds of matrimony. Their host of friends will join the Herald in congratulations and best wishes for continued happiness.

New Clerk at Bushnell's.

The increased trade at Bushnell's popular store has made it necessary to employ additional help, accordingly Miss Dollie Pierce came up from Alliance Sunday to accept the position that has been offered her. She is a capable young lady and will no doubt soon make many friends among the patrons of the store.

Our Hemingford Correspondent.

The editor of the Herald is pleased to announce that he has secured Miss Emma Ansen to act as regular correspondent from Hemingford. She will be assisted by E. D. Piper. Any one having news items or announcements for this department are requested to leave the same at central telephone office, where persons who wish to do so may subscribe for, or renew their subscriptions to, the Herald.

Hemingford Advertisers.

That the business men of Hemingford are pleased with the Herald's Hemingford department and recognize a good advertising medium is indicated by the nice list of advertisements in this issue. While all lines of business in the town are not yet represented, this is a good starter. Anton Uhrig, the popular hardware dealer, is expecting a big spring trade and is prepared for it. M. Hutton, real estate, has been selling some land during the dull season and will no doubt dispose of more during the spring and summer months. He now has a special clothing stock trade for some one who has land to sell and wants to get into business. He also writes insurance. N. Frohnappel is well equipped for the livery and feed business, his equipment including automobiles and hearses. In addition to his ad in this issue, he will have another soon. Col. W. M. Fosket, the auctioneer, is too well known in Box Butte county to need much of an introduction from us. He guarantees satisfactory service. See his card. H. L. Bushnell, general merchandise, has a big trade, but like the rest of us he wants more. He has a special sale on now, as you will see by his ad.

From what we know and learn of the above business men we believe them to be reliable and deserving of your patronage.

Not a Competitor.

The manager of the Herald wishes to say that while the Hemingford department of the paper is being pushed to the front and made a special feature, we do not wish in the least to decrease the patronage given to the local paper, the Journal. Mr. Barleigh has labored hard to give the people of the town a creditable local publication, and we think he deserves a liberal patronage. In regard to job printing, the Herald is doing quite an amount of it for persons outside of Alliance, but we do not wish to take any of that class of business from Hemingford, unless it should chance that some one should have printing that the local paper does not have facilities for doing, and we prefer that even that should come through the Journal office.

MARSLAND.

Fred Tolman has been taking a pleasure trip to California.

Mrs. Jacobson has purchased another half section of land near Marsland.

Wm. N. Gregory won the first prize on oats at the contest at Hemingford.

Fritz Hoffman is nearly well from his hurt, having been thrown from a horse.

G. M. Burnes is on his last half of his term of school at Sunny Side school house.

The new Sunny Side school house in Dist. 48 has been furnished with new seats.

Jim Tolman has just purchased one half section of land. He paid $1,500 for one quarter.

The teacher of Sunny Side attended the contest at Hemingford and received his share of the prizes.

A. Tolman, Miss Gertie Tolman and Miss Jacobson were Sunday visitors at the home of Jim Tolman.

Mr. Woodie and wife and George Gregory and family attended the dance at Marsland Friday night.

Wm. N. Gregory received today two more thoroughbred brown leghorn roosters. They are beauties.

Mrs. Hoffman has been sick for some months with cancer of the stomach. She is reported as failing.

Miss Pearl Harner, Lawrence Trussell and Ray Burnes were parties from Marsland that attended the contest at Hemingford.

Carroll Tolman expects to put in a large acreage of potatoes this year. Mr. Tolman and wife visited at Marsland the last of the week.

Miss Ethel Gregory's surprise party at Belmont was a grand success. Those invited from Marsland were Dr. Gregory and family, G. M. Burnes and son, E. A. Trussell and family and Geo. Gregory and family.

Another Dawes county citizen has taken up his residence at the home of Jim Tolman's. He may contest Jim as he seems to have a will of his own, not being in the house one hour before he demanded his supper. He could not give his name and they decided to call him Tolman. Dr. Gregory reports mother and child doing well.

FAIRVIEW.

R. H. West contemplates moving in his new house Monday, March first.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Nason were the guests of Wm. Rust, Jr., and wife Sunday.

J. S. Gray of Hanover, Mich., was the guest of Grandpa Lawrence during the snow storm.

John Bezdol was seen with a load of furniture one day last week. When a bach begins to haul household articles it looks suspicious.

Byron Eckerman of Kenoma, Sheridan county, was caught in the blizzard of Monday and stayed with T. Lawrence until Wednesday.

G. A. West purchased a span of two year old mules from his father, R. H., which are hard to beat. They were worth about $100 each.

On account of the inclement weather the neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. T. Trinkle were not able to attend the funeral of their son Matthew, held in Alliance Monday but we all join in extending our heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved ones in their hour of trouble.

L. J. Munger made a trip to Alliance Sunday, bringing out the school mother of Dist. No. 5. We expect to shortly hear those bells chime.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean of Sioux county are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rust, Jr. Mr. Dean is assisting Mr. Rust build a new hen house.

J. R. Lawrence and family had a fine wild goose for supper on Washington's birthday. J. R. has the honors of killing the first wild goose of the season.

J. R. Lawrence and C. J. Benjamin made a business trip to Alliance Tuesday. These gentlemen are preparing for some extensive engine work the coming spring.

J. B. and Violet Hadley spent a few days in the sand hills the latter part of the week as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Nye. J. B. will work on the Hooper ranch this coming season.

About nine o'clock Tuesday morning Mrs. Ambrose Hadley went out after a pail of water. Hearing a noise southwest of the house about 200 yards she investigated and found her son, J. B., who had started for Alliance about an hour previous with a load of corn, stuck in a snow drift. All that was visible was J. B.'s head, buggy whip and the horses ears.
