ON TRIAL FOR LIFE

Case Against Mrs. Harry Sampson Is Called.

VICTIM IS ADMIRAL'S NEPHEW.

Widow Must Face Jury in Lyons, N. Y., on Charge of Shooting Husband After Quarrel—She Declares He Committed Suicide.

With the execution of Mrs. Mary Farmer last week fresh in the mind of every one, the case of Mrs. Georgia E. Sampson, accused of shooting to death her husband, Harry Sampson, on Nov. 1, 1908, was called for trial at Lyons, N. Y., Monday.

It is expected that the procuring of a jury to hear the evidence for and against the young woman will consume much time. Almost every one in Wayne county is acquainted with either the Sampson family or with the Allyn family, to which Mrs. Sampson belongs by birth. The prominence of the two families—Harry Sampson's uncle was the late Rear Admiral William T. Sampson, who commanded the fleet at Santiago, while the Allyn's are among the wealthy folks of this part of the state—has made the alleged murder the principal topic of conversation around the hearths of the county all through the winter. It will be difficult to find twelve men willing to swear that they have formed no opinion as to the guilt or innocence of the accused woman. District Attorney Gilbert is Mrs. Sampson's cousin.

Intense interest in the case extends beyond the limits of the county. The papers of Rochester, which lies in Monroe, the next county to the west, have made special arrangements to cover the trial. The courtroom contains a large number of press representatives from Rochester, Buffalo and other cities.

In the courtroom today Mrs. Sampson preserved the same nonchalant demeanor that has marked her since her arrest. She has declared that her lawyers will prove that Harry Sampson committed suicide after a quarrel with her, despite the damaging testimony that will be adduced against her. Justice Adelbert P. Rich of Auburn presides at the trial.

The shooting of Harry Sampson occurred at Macedon, a village about eighteen miles west of here. He was twenty-seven years old and had been married to Georgia Allyn six years. She is now only twenty-three. The young couple lived in a house occupied partly by the family of the wife's parents. Probably it would be more correct to say that the Sampsons lived with the Allyn's. The shooting took place in the Allyn's dining room, and the young man died in a living room used by the two families.

Held Food in Hand as He Died.

The young couple were happy for several years after their marriage. Then, according to the stories told against the wife, she commenced to pay mysterious visits to Rochester and was seen in the gay resorts of that place. The fatal quarrel with her husband followed the receipt by him of a letter addressed to "Miss Allyn." She declares that he killed himself in a fit of jealousy, but her lawyers will have to explain away several strange circumstances. Mrs. Allyn, Georgia's mother, will testify that when her son-in-law fell at her feet, with blood flowing from a mortal wound in the breast inflicted by his own rifle, his right hand held a bit of bread and cheese. After the shooting the rifle was found standing in a corner of the room which saw the tragedy, and medical men will declare on the witness stand that the bullet which killed young Sampson ranged downward, as though fired from the stairs down which his wife ran after the report was heard. There was no powder marks on his clothing.

Georgia Sampson was indicted on Feb. 8, the grand jury charging her with murder in the first degree. On the following day George Sampson, father of the man whom she is accused of killing died suddenly of Bright's disease. It is asserted that grief over the shooting hastened his death.

TRY TO ROB TREASURE STEAMER

Russian Rebels Foiled in Attempt to Seize $600,000.

A band of Russian revolutionists failed by the narrowest of margins to carry out a carefully arranged plan to seize the treasure on board a steamer in the Caspian sea and make their escape into the Caucasus.

The steamer Czarevitch, with $600,000 in specie on board, was about to sail from Krasnovodsk when the Georgian band, consisting of twenty armed men under the leadership of Lieutenant Mashkaridzo, an officer of the reserve, was discovered and arrested. It has been the intention of the band to overpower the crew at sea, rob the treasure room and to with the gold on the sparsely inhabited Caucasian coast.

The Czarevitch proceeded after a delay of five hours.

INJURED BY HAT FEATHER

Mayor Bookwalter of Indianapolis May Lose Sight of One Eye.

A woman's hat almost cost Mayor Bookwalter of Indianapolis an eye. As it is, his right eye is injured seriously.

The mayor was on a street car on his way to his office. He stepped aside to allow a woman to alight first. As he stepped after her, the woman turned her head and the stiff point of a feather in her hat pierced the corner of the mayor's right eye. Almost blinded and suffering intense pain, the mayor sought an eye specialist.

The woman apologized. Mr. Bookwalter describes the hat as one of generous proportions.

Walsh, former banker and railway builder, who is under sentence to serve five years in the federal prison at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, for alleged misapplication of the funds of the Chicago National bank, was filed at Chicago with the clerk of the United States circuit court of appeals. The document, in effect, is the largest ever filed in a local case.

VOTE ON APRIL 9

Rules Report Adopted With Sixteen to Spare.

PARTY LINES AGAIN BROKEN

Resolution Provides for Separate Action on Lumber and Hide Schedules. Florida Democrat Defies His Colleagues and Denounces Bryan.

April 9 was the time set by the house for a vote on the Payne tariff bill. The long expected resolution of the committee on rules closing general debate, providing for certain committee amendments and a full and free opportunity to alter the lumber and hides schedules, was reported and adopted with sixteen votes to spare notwithstanding the desertion of twenty-two Republicans. Four of the sixteen votes came from the Louisiana delegation, who likewise broke away from their party. Those who broke away from party lines were:

Republicans: Austin (Tenn.), Terry, Cooper Lenrott, Morse and Nelson (Wis.), Dawson, Good, Haugen, Pickett, Woods, Hubbard and Kendall (Ia.), Hinshaw and Norris (Neb.), Lindberg (Minn.), Murdock (Kau.), Parson (N. Y.), Poindexter (Wash.) and Young (Mich.).

Democrats: Broussard, Estopinal, Pujol and Wickliffe (La.).

Previous to the adoption of the resolution there was some severe criticism of it from the Democratic side.

Aside from the interest which attached to this proceeding was the speech of Clark (Fla.), who denounced Bryan and Bryanism, Populists and Populism and who declared that he would support the Payne bill if it contained what his constituents wanted—a duty on sea island cotton and protection for citrus fruits, pineapples etc. His remarks got him into an exciting colloquy with Randall (Tex.) and other Democrats, but he declared that having been instructed by the legislature of his state and his constituents as to the stand he should take on the articles mentioned, he would not violate his solemn obligation to them. His whole attitude was one of defiance to the Democrats of the house. Before the rule was reported there were numerous speeches on the bill, those occupying the floor being Bartlett (Ga.), Calderhead (Kan.), Burgess (Tex.), Stanley (Ky.), Hobson (Ala.), Gillispie (Tex.), Thistlewood (Ill.), Saunders (Va.), Reeder (Kan.) and Madden (Ill.).

An interested spectator throughout almost the entire session was Mrs. Taft, who was accompanied by her two sons, and Captain Archibald Butt, U. S. A., one of the president's aides.

"DRY" VICTORY IN MICHIGAN

Twenty More Counties Vote to Abolish Sale of Liquor.

"We have broken the backbone of the liquor traffic in Michigan," declared Superintendent George W. Morrow of the Michigan Anti-Saloon league.

Definite returns showed that of the twenty-seven counties which voted on the question of abolishing the sale or manufacture of liquor in their borders, twenty had gone "dry" and seven had gone "wet." Before the election, eleven of the eighty-three counties of the state were "dry."

KENTUCKY GOING "DRY"

Boyd County Votes for Prohibition by Majority of 107.

In an election of most intense interest, Boyd county voted dry by a majority of 107. In this city, which is the center of the iron industry and the commercial capital of the Big Sandy valley, the church bells were ringing hourly and women stood at the polls and worked, while children paraded the streets singing and bands played.

The victory of the "drys" here means now that ninety-six of the 119 counties in the state are wholly dry, under the county unit law.

FILIPINOS FAVOR PAYNE BILL

Governor General Flooded With Dispatches Criticizing Assembly.

The bureau of insular affairs at Washington received a cablegram stating that the governor general of the Philippines was being flooded with telegrams from various points in the island urging that the assembly recede from its opposition to the Philippine schedules of the Payne tariff bill.

Girls Injured in Church Fight.

Lizzie Wetzel, aged eight, and Mary Wolf, aged eleven, were injured in a fight between factions of the German

Evangelical church at Globeville, Colo. A dozen gunshots were fired. The trouble grew out of an attempt to oust Rev. Adam Trant, the pastor, who stood guard behind the barricaded doors of his church to prevent the entrance of the faction opposed to him.

Tragedy Near at Tabriz.

A dispatch from Teheran, describing the situation at Tabriz, says there is not a bit of doubt that a tragedy is close at hand. If Tabriz holds out against the invaders, the dispatch says, thousands must die of starvation. If Tabriz falls, probably 10,000 will be massacred. The rest of the country, however, looks on with traditional eastern apathy.

TRIES TO KILL SLAYER TAYLOR

Father of Victim Attempts to Avenge Death of Daughter.

Minden, Neb., April 5.—Bert Taylor, alleged murderer of Pearl Taylor, his sister-in-law, narrowly escaped death at the hands of the father of the girl as he was about to board a train for Lincoln, where he is being held for safekeeping. Douglas Taylor, father of the murdered girl, pulled a revolver and aimed it at Bert Taylor, but was overpowered before he could shoot.

The incident took place in the presence of a large crowd and has created considerable excitement. Taylor had been brought here for arraignment and was in the custody of Sheriff Ransom and a deputy. He was about to board the car when Douglas Taylor drew the revolver and leveled it at the prisoner. Johnson Slack, who stood near him, grabbed the gun and forced his hand down toward the ground. After a struggle Taylor was overpowered and the gun taken from him without being fired. During the struggle the old man shouted, "Let me get at him. Don't keep me away."

After the train had gone Douglas Taylor and the father of Sheriff Ransom had a scene, but no trouble resulted. Douglas Taylor is the father-in-law of Bert Taylor.

Taylor will be held at the penitentiary in Lincoln until the May term of court. A motion for a change of venue probably will be filed by his lawyers, who have indicated they will plead insanity.

While feeling is high the danger of mob violence is considered remote.
