THURSDAY, MAY 13, 1909.

We claim that every man is entitled to a square deal, whether he thinks as we do or not.

Says The Rocky Mountain Elk: A biblical injunction from the lips of the lowly Nazarene bids do good to those who despitefully use us, and wise, in-dred, the command, We would quit loser in the game were we to attempt to fight a skunk with its own weapons or to reciprocate in kind when kicked by a mule.

The deluded workman, who joins with his protectionist employer to get a high tariff on such essentials as hosiery, gloves and other articles of clothing, seems seldom to "tumble" to the fact that he is not protecting himself at all, but taxing himself for his employer's benefit. Large numbers of foreign workmen and women come into the United States, to compete with the "protected" laborers of this country, without let or hindrance. Why don't our workmen insist upon protection against the competition of foreign labor coming to these shores with the same vehement that they shout for protection for their employers against the competition of foreign manufactures?

A deputation of bewitching female employees of the hosiery trust have been sent to Washington by their employers to exercise their fascinations upon susceptible statesmen in congress to the end that hosiery duties may be increased and the bewitching hosiery makers may be further "protected" against cheap foreign labor.
Now let's figure a little: Hosiery worth $1 abroad is subject to a duty of about 65 cents; on some grades it is more and on some it is less, but it is fair to take 65 per cent. as the average rate of protection on hosiery. But on hosiery worth $1.65 the duty report shows that not more than 41 cents was paid for labor. Thus, according to the figures they themselves return to the census office, the hosiery manufacturers have been cheating their fair employees out of 24 cents worth of protection on every 41 cents paid for labor, as the schedules stand. How much higher wages do the bewitching stockings-makers imagine they will receive if their greedy employers are given still greater leeway to bleed the long-suffering public?

The Bee's Lemon

It was not honey but a lemon that the Omaha Bee handed Alliance in its write up of this in its issue of Sunday, May 2.
That paper's special reporter was here some time ago and one would suppose from what he promised, Alliance and Box Butte county would get the best write up that it ever had. There were some good points to it but there were also some statements that were not only misleading but were absolutely ridiculous. The first of these that we noticed was that "Where irrigation is possible immense crops of cereals and roots can be raised". The fact is there is practically no irrigation in the county and yet immense crops of cereals and roots are grown every where. Another statement which is perhaps a typographical error is that the farmers shipped 3000 pounds of butter last year. The fact is the Alliance Creamery alone churned nearly a quarter of a million pounds of butter last year. Again the statement is made that the average farmer spends $27 per year for supplies. The statement is too absurd on the face of it to need any answer. In regard to potatoes we are informed that this county raised last year and shipped out 6,311 bushels. If this were multiplied by 100 it would be approximately correct. According to the bulletin of crop statistics for 1908 issued by the Bureau of Labor and Industrial Statistics there were grown in Box Butte county last year 442,748 bushels of potatoes which estimate is without doubt too small. Another mistake that appears to have been a typographical error is that the monthly pay roll of the Burlington railroad here exceeds $6,000. The writer probably meant to say $60,000.

There were a good many things, however, in the write up that would no doubt have been beneficial to this city and county if it had not been for the glaring mistakes that were made. We hope that the Bee will see fit to publish a statement to correct these errors.

Is the Farmer a Fool?

For many weeks representatives of the beef trust have been industriously circulaing petitions among farmers, for their signature, asking to have the Dingley duty kept on hides. Farmers devoid of intelligence, and some farmers of average native intelligence but who are prone to let others do their thinking for them, have doubtless been misled in large numbers to sign these petitions. The sensible farmer, who stops to think, will not make such a fool of himself.

Before the duty was placed on hides the average difference between the prices of hides the trust sold and the hides, which the farmer occasionally had to sell at the time, was one and one-half cents per pound. Now the difference is five cents per pound. That is to say the trust gets 15 cents per pound as against 10 cents per pound which the farmer gets. The big packers pay 5 cents per pound for beef on the hoof and sell the hide from such beef at 15 cents per pound. A hide when taken off weighs, say 70 pounds. At 5 cents a pound it costs the packer $3.50.
He sells this same hide, which, when cured, weighs about 62 pounds, at 15 cents a pound, making $9.30, or a profit to the packing trust of $5.80 on every hide.

The farmer, along with the workingman, pays this profit to the trust in higher prices for shoes, as well as for harness and all other things into which leather enters.
The duty on hides benefits no interest but that of the packing house trust and takes money from the pockets of every man, woman and child in this country. James G. Blaine wrote to William McKinley in April, 1890, on this subject as follows: "It is a great mistake to take the hides from the free list where they have been for so many years. It will 'benefit' the farmer by adding materially to the cost of his children's shoes. It will yield a profit to the packer, who is the last man who needs it. The movement is injudicious from beginning to end, in every form and phase." These words of Blaine are as true today as they were when uttered 19 years ago.

Do the farmers want the duty retained on hides? The question is equivalent to asking: Is the farmer a fool?

A Square Deal Proposition

The law of Nebraska under which saloon licenses are granted requires that a notice of application be published in the paper of general circulation in the county in which the saloon is to be located, and, as we understand the law, the notice shall be published in the paper having the largest circulation in the county. If we are correct in regard to the law in regard to publication, no saloon license can be legally granted in Alliance this spring unless the notice is first published in The Herald.
The object in having these notices published as contemplated by the legislature when this law was enacted was evidently not to advertise the saloon business but to give due notice so that if there should be any ground for remonstrance an opportunity would be given for the presentation of such remonstrance before the granting of licenses. There will probably be seven or eight applicants for licenses to sell liquor at the next meeting of the city council of Alliance. Two of these applicants are having their notices published in The Herald and consequently will be legally entitled to receive licenses if there is nothing else to prevent. As it was decided by the voters at the recent municipal election that there should be saloons in Alliance during the ensuing year, we do not wish to cause any of the applicants for licenses any unnecessary annoyance or trouble; but it is just as well that they start out in the business legally as otherwise.

We are practically sure that The Herald has the largest circulation in Box Butte county of any publication, and if we can ascertain that the law requires publication of notices in the paper having the largest circulation in the county we shall demand at the outset that this feature of the law be complied with; but to show those who are applying for licenses that we do not make this demand for the purpose of annoying them or putting them to unnecessary expense, we have the following proposition to make, which we believe all fair-minded persons will concede to represent a square deal: We will submit the subscription list of The Herald to a comparison to that of the Times, the comparison to be made by a committee of three to be mutually agreed upon by the publishers of the two papers. This committee shall be authorized to take any steps that they may deem necessary to determine the accuracy of the lists submitted. If they find that either publisher makes any effort to misrepresent the actual number of subscribers to his paper, such shall be considered as having the smaller circulation; otherwise this committee shall decide on the evidence submitted which of the two papers has the larger circulation. If it is decided that the Times has a larger circulation than The Herald we will make no further demand for the publication of the notices of application for liquor licenses.

A young drummer was taking a vacation with his uncle in the country and was called upon to say grace at dinner, and not being accustomed to it he promptly tackled the difficulty in the following words:
"We acknowledge receipt of your favor of this date.
Allow us to extend our gratitude for this expression of good will. Trusting that our house may merit your confidence and have many orders from you this fall, we are yours truly, amen."

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS.

Jerry Rowan is visiting in Ohio.
Dr. Copey is transacting business in Omaha.

W. J. Poole has commenced work on his new house.

R. M. Hampton made a trip to the ranch this week.

Geo. Mollring returned the first of the week from a trip to Chicago.

Mrs. Garrett of Ellsworth returned to her home after a pleasant visit in Alliance.

The Woman's Club will meet with Mrs. D. W. Hayes tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Fred Countryman and his son, Oliver, are doing a good part of the work on the new air dome.

H. E. Jones and wife came down from Hemingford in their Mitchell automobile last Friday.

A. L. Clumbell has moved the Pantorium to Yander's tailor shop under the First National bank.

The lectures by H. H. Berry at the Baptist church this week were quite interesting and drew a good attendance.

Freight train no. 46, east bound, last Tuesday morning, set fire to and destroyed a carload of shingles at Lakeside.

The Barnes Cafe has been moved one door north. The corner room will soon be used as a dispensary of wet good.

Father McNamara left Sunday afternoon for Omaha to complete arrangements for his European trip. He returned today.

While in Bridgeport yesterday L. C.
Thomas, representing the Western Office Supply company, sold another Oliver typewriter.

The four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Countryman had the misfortune last Tuesday to fall and break an arm below the wrist.

Mrs. F. J. Kreamer, formerly a resident of Alliance but now of Little Rock, Arkansas, is visiting Mrs. J. P.
Reardon and other friends.

Robert Graham, Sr., one of The Herald's stand-bys who lives five miles east of Hemingford, was transacting business in Alliance last Saturday.

Parties are held from Alliance with a view to buying out the telephone business. It is possible the transaction will occur in a day or two.—Ger-ing Courier.

Mrs. C. F. DeVoe, mother of Mrs.
G. F. Betts, and two grandchildren of Lincoln stopped over Sunday in Alliance on their way to her ranch in Sioux county.

Have you tried the home made bread and pastries that the Ladies' Aid are offering for sale every Saturday? If not next Saturday will be a good time to sample them.

Geo. Darling went to Crawford on business, a part of which was to secure the Fort Robinson military band for the stockmen's convention to be held here in June.

The Western Office Supply company sold two more L. C. Smith typewriters in Alliance last week, one to S. K.
Warrick of the Minatare Bank and one to Jno. W. Thomas for The Herald office.

Sister Cornica of St. Agnes' academy has been in frail health for some time. Last Sunday her condition grew worse and for a time alarmed her associates, but she has rallied and is growing stronger.

Louis Buchsenstien and Thos-Lund left on 44 Monday for Lincoln, where they went as delegates to the Grand Lodge of the A. O. U. W., which convened in the capital city on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Prof. D. W. Hayes leaves today for Lincoln to attend a meeting of the Nebraska School Masters' club tomorrow night, and of the Executive Committee of the State Teachers' Association on Saturday. He will return Monday.

Clarence Miller accompanied his mother, who has been spending a few days in our city, to her home in Albion, this state, last Tuesday. Before returning to Alliance he expects to visit in Omaha and other eastern points.

Uncle Zed Goodwin is quite ill with an attack of pneumonia at his home in the east part of the city. "Uncle Zed" is eighty-five years old but for all that is making an active struggle against the ills of the flesh which have taken hold of him. We all sincerely hope the good, old man will be spared to us for many years to come.

J. W. Bicknell and family arrived from Pleasanton, Iowa, last week to make their home in Alliance. Mr.
Bicknell is a brother of Mrs. Irene Mc-Kinney and has accepted a position with the firm of Wallace & Swanson.

He comes here well recommended and we are pleased to welcome him and his family.

Jas. B. Gray returned last Tuesday from a business visit at Lakeside and Ellsworth. He witnessed the dipping of about 7,000 head of cattle at the Patterson ranch. The way in which this effort was accomplished was most systematic and thorough.

Grebe's photograph gallery is undergoing a thorough cleaning up, painting and decorating. Messrs. Grimstead and Hill are doing the work and by the time they are through the studio will present as artistic an appearance as do the pictures that come from it.

It was recently reported from eastern Nebraska that it was too dry to plant corn there. If the farmers of that country will come up to Box Butte county we will show them land with moisture enough in it to plant and grow a good crop.

The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church will hold a sale of home made candies, bread, cake, pies, etc., at Acheson's hardware store, the proceeds to go for the furtherance of their work.
On Saturday of this week they will have something special in baked beans and cottage cheese.

Uncle Zed Goodwin of Alliance, who is in his eighty-fourth year, is reported as being very critically ill. He is one of the well known pioneers of this part of the state, and is the father of Zed Goodwin of Mitchell, who has been called to Alliance by his illness.—Ger-ing Courier.

Before the next issue of The Herald the editor will be a full-fledged citizen of Alliance. His household goods were shipped from Omaha this week and he expects his family within a few days, except one son, who will remain in that city till the close of the school year.

Mrs. C. C. Olday and little daughter leave in the morning for McCook, where Mr. Olday has their home in readiness for them. Mrs. Olday will be greatly missed here by a large circle of friends, having been a great favorite among the younger set as well as the older.

Mrs. H. A. Thompson, who was a pioneer settler of this county and who was well and favorably known here, but who has been at Lincoln the past two years, died on Tuesday night of this week. We extend our sympathy and that of the people of this community to the bereaved relatives.

G. A. Snook of Scotts Bluff county was in Alliance over Sunday on land business and favored The Herald office with a call while here. He formerly farmed land under irrigation but tired of that kind of work, sold out and took a claim back from the irrigated district and does so well financially that he is already purchasing adjoining land.

Cusack Bros. have rented their farm eight miles west of Alliance to T. V. Kelly and are preparing to leave in June for a trip to Ireland, expecting to be gone about three months. They have been away from the Emerald Isle about twenty-one or twenty-two years and are going back to the old folks.
There is no doubt about their enjoying the trip or the visit.

S. J. Haines, who lives in the south part of Morrill county, is in Alliance trying to take orders for an Omaha grocery house. He seems to be a nice sort of man, but we doubt very much whether he will succeed in his line of business here as we have plenty of reliable grocery men, who pay taxes and help to build up the city, and we think our people will much prefer to patronize them.

L. C. Thomas and wife made a combined business and pleasure trip to Bridgeport yesterday. While there they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs.
E. H. Farmer, the four comprising a fishing party. Mrs. Thomas avers that she caught the most fish of any in the crowd and Lloyd brought back a picture to prove their success—but he didn't see the fish.

W. D. Rumer, having secured the adjustment of the insurance, will soon begin rebuilding the block, which was recently destroyed by fire. We understand that a settlement was made by which he is allowed $15,424.60 for the destruction of the building besides which he will receive a rental insurance of $750.00 monthly until the new building is ready for occupancy.

Quite a serious accident occurred last Saturday forenoon to Mrs. Ella T.
Skinner, who lives eleven miles west of Alliance, as she and her husband were driving to town. Their team became frightened at an automobile with the result that she was thrown out of the vehicle and quite seriously injured, her shoulder being dislocated. She was brought to the Alliance hospital, where, under the efficient care that she has been receiving, she is getting along very nicely.

September 6 to 10 are the dates for this year's Nebraska State Fair at Lincoln, and the entries for Stake Races must be made on or before May 15th (next week) with Secretary W. R.
Mellor. $1000 purses are offered in the 2:35, 2:21 and 2:15 Trots, and the 2:30, 2:22 and 2:14 Paces, and $500 in the three-year-old Pace and three-year-old Trot. Entry 3 per cent of which 1 per cent to accompany entry.

Mrs. M. J. Baumgardner, who lives in the northeast part of the city, called at The Herald office today with samples of potatoes that were grown last year from seed that had been treated by one of the processes which are being recommended by The Herald agricultural writers. These potatoes were perfectly free from scab and dry rot.
In fact Mrs. Baumgardner informed us that she has had no trouble in keeping potatoes through the winter that were grown from seed thus treated. She has a few bushels of these potatoes that she will sell for seed.

RAILWAY NOTES AND PERSONALS.

Mr. Bettebenner went to Minatare Monday and was joined the middle of the week by Mrs. Bettebenner. They returned this noon.

Harry Kipp, who has just finished a course at the Grand Island Business college, is employed in the office of E.
W. Bell to take the place of J. K. Starn who has gone to Omaha.

Mr. Upjohn, formerly traveling auditor out of Alliance, stopped over here Wednesday on his way to Sheridan.

Frank Kucera has accepted the position in the chief dispatcher's office vacated by Wm. Reed who has gone to the superintendent's office.

E. P. Braeken of Sheridan comes to Alliance the last of this week as general superintendent, relieving L. B.
Allen who goes to Burlington, Iowa, to take charge of the Iowa district.

Miss Blanche Macdonald, daughter of Conductor Macdonald, has returned from Lincoln and has accepted a position in The Herald office.

The Litchfield depot burned last Saturday evening. Nothing but the depot burned. The fire started by sparks from a passenger engine.

M. O. Jodr has been on the sick list this week.

Jack Kennedy returned Wednesday from a short trip to Omaha.

F. A. Hively was over from Sterling last Monday.

Promoted

The many Alliance friends of Supt. L.
B. Allen are pleased to learn of his promotion but they very much regret that it will make necessary his removal from this city. He and his estimable wife and their children have a host of friends at this place whose good wishes will accompany them to their new home at Burlington, Iowa.

Wedding

A. L. Ireland of Mitchell, Nebr., and Marie Peck of Piplillon, Nebr., were united in marriage at the Methodist parsonage last Monday morning at 6:30 o'clock by Rev. J. L. Vallow. They left on the 7:30 train for Mitchell to make their future home.

Sale! Sale! Sale!

On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday I shall sell at 15 per cent. discount any article in my store including millinery, suits, skirts, shirt waists, house dresses, one-piece wash jumper suits, silk and lawn kimono, also a nice line of embroideries in all-over, edging, insertions and corset cover embroideries.
Please call. Mrs. R. SIMMONS.

Cash upon delivery. Only good quality will be accepted.

PALACE MEAT MARKET, Alliance.

Back from the Sunny South

T. J. O'Keefe arrived Tuesday on his return from his southern trip, looking hale and hearty and glad to get back to Box Butte county, although he had a very pleasant trip. He informs the Herald reporter that he went first to the San Louis valley via Denver. Crops in this valley are grown only by irrigation but Tom was so well pleased with what is being done in that way that he purchased a quarter section.

From there he went to Amarilla and other points in the Texas panhandle. He informs us that that part of Texas is similar to Box Butte county, Nebr., in altitude and rainfall but that the soil is not as good.
On account of great booming that has been worked up in the last few years for Texas the price of land there is higher than it is here.

The next point visited was the Pecos valley in New Mexico. The only desirable land there is what is under irrigation and the price of that is so high that it is out of sight. In northwestern Texas, the part of the state that El Paso is located in, he found very poor country except where irrigated, the trouble being that there is not enough rainfall. Millions of acres of western Texas he said are worse than the worst part of the sand hills of Nebraska.
The last year has been an exceptionally dry one even for that arid country and thousands of head of stock have died on account of the drouth.

From western Texas he made a jump of about 1,000 miles to San Antonio, the metropolis of the state. There the country is thickly settled and the city is having a great boom. This part of Texas has been settled for a long time but recently there has been an immense immigration from the north. The price of land is higher than what corresponding land in the north sells for but T. J. decided to purchase a small tract near the city.

From San Antonio he went on to the coast country crossing the border into old Mexico but did not go farther south because it was getting too warm in that country to suit him.

At Victoria, Texas, he met Ed M.
Tracy, a former Box Butte county citizen who in the early days of this country had a store at the old Box Butte postoffice.
He is now in the real estate business in the Lone Star state and is prospering.

On account of taking so much time in Texas he did not include Florida and California in his trip as he had originally planned.

More Help for The Herald

Miss B. Blanche Macdonald, who went to Lincoln last June to take a commercial and stenographic course at the Lincoln Business College, completed the same a few weeks ago, after which she secured a position with the Lincoln Daily Star. However, wishing to return to Alliance she has accepted a position with The Herald as stenographer and bookkeeper.

J. Carl Thomas, a son of The Herald editor, who has been holding a position as pressman with the Rees Printing Co., Omaha, will arrive this week in Alliance and will be added to the force in our job-printing department.

Attorney C. C. Barker had business before district court at Hyannis last week.

St. Agnes' Court, Daughters of Isa-bella, presented their chaplain, Father McNamara, with a handsome suit case as a token of esteem for him. No doubt Father Mac will be reminded of the Daughters in far away Nebraska when he stoops to kiss the Blarney stone in the Emerald Isle.

Following are the officers for the ensuing year of Alliance Lodge No. 183 A. F. & A. M.: Jas. H. Hewett, W. M.; Frank McFarland, S. W.; Karl J. Stern, J. W.; Leon H. Mosher, Sec.; Glen G. Hampton, Treas. No.
183 now numbers 143 Master Masons in good standing, and is one of the live, active lodges of the state.

The report that F. A. Pierson had severed his connection with The Herald Publishing Co. is a mistake, we are glad to relate. No one has severed his connection with this paper since the present manager took charge last January, but there have been several additions to the force made necessary by the increase in business.
