Joe McNamara is down at St. Joseph, Mo., this week ordering a new stock of goods for the Alliance Shoe Store. He will return Friday or Saturday.

The game of base ball yesterday between the Alliance and the Mullen teams resulted in a victory for the former by a score of thirteen to one.

J. P. Christenson, living twelve miles southwest of Hemingford, comes to the county seat occasionally and was here last Friday transacting business.

Master Carl Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wood, is again confined to his bed with a relapse of typhoid fever with which he suffered a few weeks ago.

Edith Swan, who has been attending school in Indianapolis, returned home Wednesday morning. She came a day earlier than was expected in order to surprise her parents.

The Herald's subscription business for June starts out well. The first two days we received nearly a third as much on subscriptions as we did for the entire month of April.

Jno. A. Wilson of Marple, the inventor, wishes to keep better posted on Box Butte county occurrences, consequently subscribes for The Herald, paying a year in advance.

John O'Keefe returned last Sunday from a trip to Miles City, Mont., where he attended a horse sale, and purchased seventy-five head of horses which were taken to the ranch west of town.

Ex-conductor M. Vaughn of O'Neill is in the city visiting among his friends and transacting business. Mr. Vaughn has sold his farm property near O'Neill and will look up another location.

Wm. Folgate, the veteran of the civil war whose visit in Alliance we mentioned last week, is so well pleased with The Herald that he gives us another subscription for the same.

Miss Beatrice Gallup, one of Scotts Bluff county's school ma'ams, arrived in Alliance on Monday of this week from Mitchell and will spend the summer with her sister, Mrs. Jno. W. Thomas.

W. A. Cauffman of North Platte, Nebr., state agent of the Florida Fruit Lands Co., and B. S. Prock, general agent for the same, were in Alliance a short time this week trying to get people interested in that land of flowers and everglades.

Alliance Rebecca Lodge No. 104 elected the following officers last Friday evening: Mrs. M. Wright, N. G.; Mrs. Wm. Bachman, V. G.; Mrs. W. B. Young, Sec.; Mrs. A. Morris, Treas. Installation of officers will be the first meeting in July.

J. C. Berry of Reno was laid over for a few hours in Alliance last Friday on his return from a trip to the Black Hills, the cause of the delay being the wreck east of here. He utilized the time by calling on some of his friends here, including The Herald.

Miss Mary O'Keefe returned last Sunday morning from a delightful trip to California. During her visit of several weeks in the golden state she met many former Alliance people. A visit with an aunt at Oakland was also a pleasant feature of the trip.

NOTICE—The accounts and notes of B. F. Lockwood are in my hands for collection. Those knowing themselves indebted to B. F. Lockwood will call on me in the Commercial Club rooms as these accounts must be settled at once.—W. S. Ridgell. 25-1f

The Rev. Normal G. Palmer of Crawford, Nebr., will preach at the M. E. church 11 a.m. and 8 p.m. Rev. Palmer is one of the most promising young preachers in the state and you should hear him. The sacrament will be administered at the close of the morning sermon.

A. F. Allen who has been on his homestead ten miles west of Bridgeport for the past six weeks returned to Alliance a few days ago to assist his wife and family in moving to their new home. He has made some improvements on the place and has commenced planting a sod crop which is to include seven acres of potatoes. While engaged in preparing his farm for crops he also gives some attention to dairying as he milks several cows and sends the butter fat to the Alliance Creamery.

One day, about two weeks ago, some emigrants traveling west asked a farmer a few miles west of Rushville, "What time do you have summer here?" The weather being cold up to that time the farmer answered, "Well, I cannot tell you as I have only lived here eleven months."

C. G. Parks of the Crancer Piano company informs The Herald reporter that he has decided to sell some pianos. The Crancer people have been doing a fine business in Alliance and tributary territory and we are pleased to note the laconic expression of determination to increase the business.

H. F. Pardey has again taken possession of the Jollo theatre. He is re-arranging the interior and making other improvements preparatory to reopening the same next week. Under his management there will be a marked improvement and indications are that the Jollo will get back its old time popularity.

The newly organized Swastika Dancing and Whist Club gave its first dance last Friday night at the K. C. hall. The hall was tastefully decorated with the club colors. Light refreshments were served during the evening, and a flash light picture taken of the party, the members of which certainly enjoyed the occasion immensely.

The Chas. Huss lunch room has been enlarged and the interior painted and decorated. It will now accommodate a considerably larger number of patrons than formerly and is one of the neatest places of the kind to be found anywhere. Charley's many friends are pleased with his success and the enlargement of his business.

O. K. Burroughs, of the firm of Burroughs & Schellak, proprietors of the Crystal theatre, received a telegram on Tuesday morning of this week conveying to him the sad news of the unexpected death of his sister at the home of their parents at Mechanicsville, Iowa. Mr. Burroughs left on No. 44 that day to attend the funeral.

F. B. Dickenson has resigned his position as druggist for F. E. Holstein and will leave tomorrow for Omaha, and from there he will go to the Pacific coast to spend the summer. He expects to visit the Seattle exposition and attend the Elk's convention at Los Angeles July 7th. If he likes it he may decide to accept a position somewhere on the coast.

Our Teutonic friend, Fred Schwaderer, is among the number of those who paid up on subscription to The Herald during the month of May. He is much pleased with The Herald, especially the departments that have recently been opened and will help to increase its circulation. He came to Box Butte county two years ago this spring and informs us that he is now better pleased with the country than he was when he came.

The devotional exercises at Holy Rosary church in honor of the Blessed Virgin Mary, last Sunday night, were most imposing. A number of little girls dressed in white formed in processional line and marched to the altar led by the crown bearer, who carried a wreath of apple blossoms and green, which was placed upon the statue by Miss Marie Buechsenstein. The music by the children's choir and sisters was inspiring.

L. J. Cross took possession of the Younk restaurant as proprietor one week ago today and reports business starting out fine, better in fact than he had expected. Being delayed in moving, Mrs. Cross and the two children did not arrive last week, as was stated by mistake in The Herald, but came yesterday. The family now occupies upstairs rooms on the north side of Wyoming street, between Box Butte and Laramie avenues. We bespeak for them a cordial welcome to Alliance.

Miss Ida B. Johnson had intended to leave Alliance last Saturday for a vacation visit when Prof. Williams received a telegram to come to Omaha at once, making it necessary for Miss Johnson to remain in Alliance and take his place in the high school.

Scotts Bluff county is to have the second largest sugar factory in the world, according to the late reports from the town of Scottsbluff. The directors of the Great Western Sugar factory have submitted a proposition to install such a factory at Scottsbluff provided they can secure 320 acres of land just east of the town at a price not to exceed $100 per acre and provided that contracts can be secured for the growing of 15,000 acres of beets for the 1910 crop.

E. E. Terry, formerly in the Burlington train service in Alliance, now connected with the Northern Pacific at Billings, arrived in the city Saturday and visited until Monday with his many friends. From here he went to Thedford, where, on Tuesday, he was married to Miss Bea Mitten. Mr. Terry's large circle of acquaintances here will certainly wish the young couple every possible happiness. Mr. and Mrs. Terry went to Billings Wednesday and will make that city their home.

S. B. Libby informs one of our scribes that his closing out sale, advertised in The Herald last week and by means of bills printed at this office, has brought him a big trade. The sale will continue till the entire stock has been disposed of when he will retire from business. Mr. and Mrs. Libby have made many friends in Alliance who are sorry to think of losing them from our city. They will remain here during the summer, and will probably go to Florida or some other southern point for the winter.

Obituary

The Herald is in receipt of a copy of The Star, published at Union, Iowa, issue of May 21, containing the following obituary of one of the pioneers of Box Butte county, who was well known here five or six years ago:

Levi Rabottom was born in White Lick, Morgan county, Ind., October 2nd, 1826, and died at the home of his son, Charley, in Providence township, May 18th, 1909, aged 82 years, 7 months and 16 days.

He was one of the pioneers of this country, coming to this state on foot in 1850 and returning to Indiana the same year. In 1852 he married Louisa A. Thompson, a sister of J. D. Thompson of Honey Creek community. Ten children were born to them, Viola, Rudolph, Ludovia, Thompson, Alwida, Charley, Elva, Ulysis, Florence and Vinton, seven of whom are still living. In the year 1857 they moved to Iowa and settled in Warren county, living there until 1866 when they removed to Hardin county and settled on a farm near Chester. February 15th, 1880, his wife passed away. March 1882 he was again married to Jennie Hammer, who still survives him. In 1886 they removed to Alliance, Nebr., where he resided until 1904 when he returned to Iowa and has since made his home with his son. He was converted in early life and has lived a consistent Christian life during all these years.

Funeral services, conducted by Rev. Doane of New Providence, assisted by Rev. Bowles of Honey Creek were held at the Honey Creek church Wednesday at 2:30 and interment was at Honey Creek cemetery.

A large number of his old neighbors and friends attended the funeral service in evidence of the love and esteem they bore the deceased.

Rev. Doane spoke feelingly from the text, "Blessed are the dead, who die in the Lord, henceforth. For they rest from their labors and their works do follow them." Six young men, all of whom were relatives, acted as pall bearers, and a granddaughter sang a beautiful solo at the church and two granddaughters sang a duet at the home before leaving for the church.

Life's race well run,
Life's work well done,
Life's victory won,
Now cometh rest.

Faith yields to sight,
Day follows night,
Jesus gives light,
Now cometh rest.

CHARACTER SKETCH

CLASS FORM, 1909

LILLIAN D. WILKINSON, Class Poet

We, the famous class of 1909, you know,
Hail from where the largest and best spuds grow.
Together we are worth half a legion,
Since we're all products of the sand hill region.

We're proud we belong to the great northwest,
The section that claims to produce the best,
And boasts of her talents, fine and rare,
Just as good as may be found elsewhere.

Last year at the State Declamatory contest,
Three competent judges said Cecil was best,
So he now ranks as an orator of note,
Since the state accorded him this honor by vote.

Cecil is both good looking and witty,
A favorite among the girls in our city.
From the number, he has chosen a precious pearl,
Miss Nellie O'Donnell, a high school girl.

Henry Krajciek, too, has bright honors won,
And is known o'er the town as the plucky one.
Although he did not win out at the last,
He can with some of the best orators be classed.

Heide always jumps in with all his might
When there is anything worth catching in sight.

Elizabeth, our prudent and practical member,
Is far from being a smoldering ember.
She has taken her mother's place in the home,
And does not care very much to roam.
She is always busy, talkative and gay,
And to school duties doth strict attention pay.
Elizabeth's the one who writes the prose,
And doesn't approve of too many beaux.

Minelle Highland, who's so charming and smart,
Knows just how to captivate a boy's heart.
She was very good at this when small,
And hasn't departed from it at all.
She is handsome, attractive and good,
And for the right principles always has stood.

In her home you'll find choice literature and art;
Therefore she's learned to love good things from the start.
Now, Minelle does the very best qualities possess,
And has been a brilliant leader all through A. H. S.

Clare Mewhrter is big and strong and fleet,
And by common consent our champion athlete.
After four if you wish to locate him,
Just go to the underground floor, the "gym".
There you will find him performing great feats
With some of the other high school athletes.

Nellie O'Donnell is always happy and free,
And one more capable you seldom can see.
She has a winning way and a pleasant smile
And a disposition that's very hard to rile.
Nellie's energetic, intelligent and sweet,
And is an "all round" girl that's hard to beat.

Nettle Nation, who is dignified and tall,
Is an expert in the gymnasium hall;
In this none of the girls with her can compare,
And none of the boys excepting Clare.
Nettle has never been tardy or missed a day
Since she entered the high school, the teachers say:

You don't often hear of a record like this,
And it's boasted of by no other Miss.

The quiet one of the class, you will remember,
Is the talented Winifred Betschener.
Unlike Elizabeth, and Cecil, too,
She expresses her thoughts in words a few.
Winnie is a clever though innocent coquette,
And one of the best girls that you ever met.
She cares very little for show,
But is an ideal schoolmate, you know

Paul Taylor, who is so industrious and wise,
Has been working for the mathematical prize.
We think he has shown great courage and grit
In working so hard to make a "hit".
Now Paul before so fine looking, good natured and smart,
Has broken many a school girl's heart.

Mabel Carey is jolly, saucy and bright,
And in our class room a shining light.
She adorns our parties, and makes us gay,
With her clever sayings that always weigh.
To be sure she is not very great in size,
But some times the small package contains the prize.

Louis Allen, who ranks first in our class of '09,
We expect some day in the world to shine.
He has never been known to shirk duty or flunk,
But the very mention of a Freshy rouses his spunk.

Helen is our ideal girl to entertain,
And no one with her could ever complain;
Her home is made merry with frequent guests
Called by her kind and urgent requests;
Her sunny presence surpassed by none
Make all regret when their visit's done.
A blonde of the animated type is she,
And a theatrical star of high degree.

As for myself, I will not upthesize,
But the teachers will, I hope and surmise.

Now, dear classmates, long may you live and shine
Like the bright blossoms on a pumpkin vine;
And may your good deeds o'er the land be spread
Like the pretty squash vines in a sand hill bed;
And may God's wisdom shine unclouded o'er each soul
And lead by its light divine to the eternal goal.

R. J. Lawrence is back from Denver.

Prof. Williams was called to Omaha last Saturday on account of the illness of his sister, who underwent an operation for appendicitis. He returned this morning and reports his sister very much improved.

Joe Young is another full-fledged resident of Alliance now, his wife and two children having arrived this week. Their residence is at 918 Laramie avenue. They will receive a cordial welcome from the people of this city.

Christian Matz, who recently returned from Chicago where he has been undergoing treatment at a sanitarium for a complication of rheumatism, pleurisy and dropsy, is very much improved in health. Mr. Matz has been a resident of this county and city for a great many years and his many friends hereabouts will be pleased to learn of his recovery to health.

Services at U. P. Church

We are pleased to announce that the Alliance United Presbyterian church has secured a pastor for the summer, or rather has secured the services of two ministers, one for the month of June, and the other as permanent pastor commencing in July. Rev. Calhoun, a theological student, will preach morning and evening on Sundays during this month, after which Rev. Godfrey will become pastor. Mr. Godfrey spent three years as a teacher in Egyptian mission fields and has since taken a course of study at the Zenia, O., Theological seminary, having recently completed the same. We bespeak for both Mr. Calhoun and Mr. Godfrey a cordial welcome by the church-going people of the city.

Sunday services will be as follows: Sunday school, 10 a. m.; preaching, 11 a. m. and 8 p. m.

Bread Cast Upon the Waters

Years ago St. Joseph's hospital in Syracuse, N. Y., picked up a poor, friendless waif upon the street, an Irish lad, and cared for him while he had typhoid fever. He was finally discharged as cured. Now, he has just died and left $20,000 to the hospital that befriended him, for the lad was no other than Joseph P. Collier, the celebrated publisher, who by his own efforts, has left a fortune of $3,000,000, all made in the publishing business, an example for all aspiring publishers, few of whom can get the $3,000,000 but all of whom are liable to take typhoid fever.—Ex.
