Kearney County Murderer Will Not Be Hanged Sept. 17.

CASE IS IN SUPREME COURT.

Attorneys For Bert H. Taylor File a Petition in Error—Suit to Test Constitutionality of 8 O'clock Saloon Closing Law is Begun in Supreme Court at Lincoln on Behalf of Omaha Saloonkeeper.

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 31.—Bert H. Taylor, the Kearney county murderer, cannot be hanged Sept. 17, the date set by the court in which he was convicted of murder. Taylor's attorneys filed a petition in error in the supreme court and this will act as a stay. Taylor was convicted of an atrocious crime and two attempts were made to lynch him. He escaped and was captured in California several months after the commission of the crime.

Suit to Test Saloon Law. A suit to test the constitutionality of the 8 o'clock saloon closing law was begun here in the supreme court in behalf of Frank Dinuzo of Omaha, who was recently convicted and fined for keeping his saloon open after 8 o'clock. The fire and police board also revoked the license.

He will fly as one of the attractions at the Custer county fair, to be held here Sept. 14 to 17. Instead of being dismayed by his first thrilling experience, Professor Sorenson is now satisfied he has struck the right principle and can successfully navigate the air. Whether he will start this time from his balloon among the clouds or from the ground is not announced.

Dr. Woods was engaged in the veterinary practice here eight years ago.

WOMAN RUN DOWN BY AUTO

Police Rescue Driver From Angry Crowd at Omaha.

Omaha, Aug. 28.—As the result of an automobile accident on a prominent downtown corner, Miss Sadie Hopper of 3132 Woolworth avenue, this city, lies in a hospital fatally injured, and George Gilmore, the driver of the car, barely escaped rough handling at the hands of an excited crowd of onlookers. Miss Hopper, with two companions, was crossing the street at Sixteenth and Farnam, when the heavy car struck her and dragged her sixty feet, the wheels passing over her neck and chest. She was immediately removed to a hospital, where she remains unconscious. Her companions were uninjured.

Gilmore attempted to escape as soon as the victim had been removed from under the machine, but was seized by the excited spectators and compelled to remain. Many shouts of "Lynch him" were heard from the more excitable members of the crowd, but trouble was averted by the arrival of a squad of policemen, who removed Gilmore to the station.

The car is the property of Mrs. W. B. Millard, who said Gilmore had taken it from the garage without permission.

DIES TRYING TO SAVE HAT

Bridge Carpenter Drops Off Train and is Killed.

Broken Bow, Neb., Aug. 28.—Cornelius J. Wigglekhuysen, aged twenty-four years, a carpenter belonging to Daulton's bridge gang of the Burlington, was frightfully mangled by fast freight No. 45, about sixteen miles out of here.

While returning from work on a handcar, Wigglekhuysen's hat blew off, and, instead of stopping for it, he went on to Ansley and boarded No. 45, clinging to the side of the car. When he reached the spot where the hat was, it is presumed, he dropped off and rolled under the wheels, where he met death in a most horrible manner.

Papers found in his valise indicate Wigglekhuysen was a Hollander, but he told his associates that he was born in Cologne, and was a deserter from the German army. He was highly educated and an expert telegrapher. Coroner Cole empaneled a jury, which returned a verdict of accidental death.

IRRIGATION CASE IN COURT

Big Suit Started at Gering to Determine Water Rights.

Gering, Neb., Aug. 28.—A suit was filed in the district court here this week which promises to introduce the biggest irrigation litigation that the state of Nebraska has ever seen, involving the right of some fifteen irrigation ditches to water from the North Platte river.

The Enterprise irrigation district is the plaintiff and the Tri-State Land company is defendant, along with all the other ditches that take water from the river in this valley. The action is aimed, however, to determine whether the Tri-State company's big irrigation ditch had a water right prior to all the other ditches, as it claims, or a right subsequent to all the others, as they claim. All the ditches, aside from the Tri-State, have formed an association for the purpose of carrying through the courts this suit in order to determine finally the question of priority as between the Tri-State and themselves.

Both Feet of Lad Are Almost Severed in Runaway.

Pullman Seats Free.

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 30.—At the request of the Union Pacific and the Pullman company, the state railway commission has modified its order relating to the sale of seat tickets on trains Nos. 7 and 8 of the Union Pacific. The new order provides that no seats may be sold on these trains, but that when the local coach is full, passengers are entitled to any vacant seat on the parlor and sleeping car without extra charge. It is provided, however, the passenger who is riding in the parlor car without cost must return to the coach whenever there is a seat for him there.

Busy at Fair Grounds.

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 30.—The state fair grounds have every indication of a real fair, though it does not begin for a week from today. Scores of men are at work putting up tents, cleaning up buildings and putting up machinery, several carloads already having been placed upon the grounds. Temporary stalls are being fitted up adjoining both the cattle and horse barns, because the entries have exceeded the room in both departments.

HIT WESTERN PRIMARY LAWS

New York Commissioner Says System Results in Political Anarchy.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 31.—"Direct nominations as we have seen them make the greatest gold bricks that was ever handed to a confiding people," was the declaration here of Assemblyman Robert J. Conklin, a member of the special committee appointed by the last legislature to investigate the question of direct primaries and report to the legislature of 1910. Mr. Conklin said the committee had completed its investigation in other states which have direct primary laws.

"The people of New York state," he said, "have no idea of the political anarchy that exists in the middle western states. Direct nominations have driven parties entirely out of existence in many communities."

"In Wisconsin there is no longer a Republican party and a Democratic party. There are several factions, the most prominent of which are the stalwarts and halfbreeds. There are no longer party principles, but only personal views of faction leaders."

"To some extent the same state of affairs exists in Iowa and Kansas and everywhere else where this system of direct nominations is in operation. The minority party has been swallowed up. Time and again we met with the expression from the biggest men in the cities we visited, 'For God's sake do not inflict this iniquity on the state of New York.'"

Kankakee, Ill., Aug. 30.—An attempt by four boys to wreck the Chicago express, southbound on the Illinois Central railroad, was discovered by a switching crew in time to prevent an accident to the train which was crowded. The boys had placed frog blocks and rail braces at a switch south of town. Wesley Smith, Samuel and David Blatt and Clayton Robertson, ranging in age from fourteen to sixteen years, were arrested near the scene of the intended wreck, where they were awaiting developments. They admitted placing the obstructions on the track and said they just "wanted to see a wreck."
