Will Begin on Time

The management of the Lyceum Entertainment Course, the first of the five numbers of which will be given at the opera house tomorrow evening, have decided to give the good people of Alliance a practical lesson in being prompt at public entertainments. The orchestra will begin playing at eight o'clock sharp, and the curtain will go up at 8:15 whether the audience is present yet or not.

Death Claims a Shining Mark

Occasionally a death occurs which, on account of the prominence of the person or the general estimation in which held, casts a gloom over the entire community. Such was the case when news reached Alliance by wire of the death of Mrs. Danny Crilley at Helena, Mont., last Saturday afternoon. Cut down by the fell destroyer in the bloom of young womanhood and the love of young wifehood, when hopes were high for a life of happiness and usefulness, the sorrow of the bereaved husband and relatives is beyond expression.

Alice Bridget Morris was born at Emmetsburg, Ia., Feb. 2, 1891, and was 18 years, 8 months and 21 days of age at the time of her death. With her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Morris, she came to Alliance nine years ago, and attended the city schools here till last year, and was much loved and respected by her schoolmates, who sincerely mourn her early demise. December 14, 1908, she was married to Danny S. Crilley at Billings, Mont. Their home was at Helena, where her death occurred as above stated.

The remains were brought to Alliance on Tuesday, and the funeral held on Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock at Holy Rosary Catholic church. Requiem High Mass was sung by Fr. McNamara, the Franciscan Sisters having charge of the choir, after which interment was made in Holy Rosary cemetery. Flowers in profusion, testifying of the love and esteem of many acquaintances were sent from Helena and Billings, Mont., by the Knights of Columbus lodge of Alliance, by the young men rooming in the Newberry block, and by the senior class of the Alliance high school, of which she would have been a member had she continued in school. Twenty-seven of the senior high school students marched in a body to the church to attend the funeral. The pall bearers were Harry Reardon, Joe O'Connor, Cecil Smith, Walter Buchenstein, Fred Carlson and Abe Burchell.

Card of Thanks

To the many friends who have so kindly expressed their sympathy for us in our bereavement, and have shown their sympathy by their many acts of kindly assistance, we extend our sincere thanks, with a wish that the sorrows of their lives may be mitigated by sympathies and friendships no less true.

MR. and MRS. WM. MORRIS and BROTHERS and SISTERS.

We have on hand a few of the water sets which we offered as a premium to persons who paid three dollars on subscription to The Herald. It is not our intention to order any more of these, or anything else in the line of merchandise, to offer as premiums; but while they last we will give them out on the proposition made last summer, a glass pitcher and six tumblers to each subscriber paying three dollars or more on subscription at one time.

Having just received three dollars on subscription from L. C. Hayes, Marsland, we are sending him a set by express. Others will be given out in the order that three dollar payments are received until we have disposed of the few that are left.

Yesterday Clarence W. Zurn filed on a six hundred acre homestead fifteen miles east of Alliance. His father, Judge Zurn, accompanied him on his trip of inspection to the claim, and will assist him in stocking the place and making it a profitable ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Reeves arrived the first of the week on their return from their western trip, and report having had a very pleasant trip while away. They spent a month in Los Angeles, and visited Salt Lake City, Denver, Colorado Springs, and other places of note.

Geo. W. Wiltsey, brother of C. E. Wiltsey whose ranch is six miles east of Hemingford, removed with his family to Box Butte county within the last few months, and is now planning to come to Alliance to reside if he can rent a house. He was in town this week to make arrangements.

The name of F. Myers was added to The Herald's subscription list since the last issue. Mr. Myers, who is now working for the Forest Lumber Co., came to Alliance last June from Mount Vernon, Ill., and his family arrived about the first of the month. They reside at 724 Sweetwater avenue.

R. C. Strong, wife and son returned the first of the week from a month's trip to the coast, visiting first at Seattle, then Portland, Los Angeles, Salt Lake and Denver. The trip was the more enjoyable as they were accompanied by J. F. Strong, wife and son of Lakeside, who returned Tuesday.

M. D. Nichols found his shoe shop in the car which has been standing on the north side of The Herald office too small for his increasing business since installing the Champion Quick Repair machine, consequently moved this week to the Alliance Shoe Store, in the rear of which he has a commodious room for his work.

George Carrell of Hemingford, who recently launched out into the real estate business, passed through Alliance last Friday in starting on a trip to Iowa. He had some business along the North Platte valley, hence went via Bridgeport, expecting to get a train from there to North Platte over the Union Pacific's new branch line.

John Jelinek and son, John, came down to the county seat last Friday from their farm near Hemingford. Mr. Jelinek is one of The Herald's subscribers who believe in keeping their subscriptions paid ahead. Although his time had not yet expired he called

Blackfoot

The agricultural area surrounding BLACK-FOOT is not surpassed, if indeed it is equaled, anywhere. Enormous yields of grains, spuds, grasses and especially alfalfa, are made, and apples and other fruit attain the degree of perfection that has made Idaho famous.

at our office and left a dollar and a half which sets him considerably more than a year ahead.

Elijah A. Watson writes us from Chadron, ordering his address for The Herald changed from Alliance to that city, as he is located there for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Acheson, parents of W. S. and I. L. Acheson, arrived this morning from Allerton, Iowa, expecting to make an extended visit with their children.

Mr. Brown of the firm of Brown & Griffin, real estate agents, Cairo, Neb., was transacting business in Alliance last Friday in connection with the Philipp-Thomas Land Co.

H. W. Stille is taking a ten days' leave of absence from his work in the car repair department, and is devoting the time to building a house on his claim near Cleman, twenty-five miles southeast of this city.

On Monday evening Mrs. H. H. Bogue entertained a number of young people at her home in honor of her friend, Miss Eloise Delays of Houston, Texas who has been spending the summer in Alliance. A beautiful luncheon was served at the close of the evening. Miss Delays departed for her home yesterday much improved in health for which she came in quest.

Chas. Tiernan of Malinda was in Alliance Tuesday and favored The Herald office with a call, leaving the usual amount of a dollar and a half on subscription. We are always pleased to have our subscribers call when in town, whether they have anything to pay on subscription or not, but every dollar left on subscription helps to pay for ink and paper and hired help and other expenses incurred in publishing a live newspaper.

Prof. H. H. Reimund, last year principal of the Alliance high school but this year superintendent of the Crawford city schools, called up The Herald editor over long distance telephone yesterday and gave us some interesting information. He says he is enjoying excellent health and getting along nicely with his school work. Following the example of Alliance high school, Crawford high school will soon begin the publication of a high school periodical to be named "The Butte."

Bills were printed last week announcing a horse race on the fair grounds Sunday afternoon, but when the matter came to the attention of the officials of the county fair association they said, "Nit." They seem to think that if people indulge in horse racing on Sunday, they have a right to do so, providing they go to some place sufficiently secluded to not infringe upon the rights of others, but that to pull off an entertainment of that kind on the fair grounds would be an injustice to many persons to whom it would be offensive—besides that kind of a thing would have a tendency to give Alliance a reputation in a class with our neighboring town of Crawford, for which the people of this city have no desire. Much credit, we think, is due Secretary Earl D. Mallery for his prompt action in this matter.

T. J. O'Keefe is one of the number to catch the Idaho fever, and left today for a two week' visit to that state.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Birney were called to Crawford yesterday to attend the funeral of their sister-in-law, Mrs. Harry N. Birney, which is to be held at that place today. It will be remembered that Mr. and Mrs. Harry Birney were married and spent their honeymoon in Alliance some three years ago. A little child of two years is left the sorrowing husband.

We are pleased to note that Col. H. P. Coursey is making an excellent start as an auctioneer. The sales which he has conducted, or assisted in conducting, have been very satisfactory to the parties selling. At the sale of W. A. Springer on Wednesday of last week everything sold well. The horses sold for E. T. Kibble recently sold for more than a hundred dollars more than they had been offered for at private sale. Of course the colonel feels somewhat swell over his success, and we don't blame him.

Joined the Excursion to Idaho

A party of seven Alliance and Hemingford people, consisting of Dr. and Mrs. Slagle and Mr. and Mrs. Chase Feagins of Alliance, and Messrs. Snyder, Luke Phillips and Geo. Hedgecock of Hemingford, joined the excursion to Blackfoot, Idaho, on the 19th inst. They were accompanied by Mr. Marks of Omaha, brother of C. E. Marks of this city. We are informed that they were very much pleased with what they saw in that state, and that most of them invested in real estate there. On their return Dr. and Mrs. Slagle visited Ogden, Salt Lake City and Denver.
