We are a little late in mentioning the dainty lunch that was served to the ladies of the Royal Neighbor Lodge by Mrs. Lizzie Garrett and Mrs. L. S. Dye at the home of Mrs. Garrett. The ladies enjoyed the afternoon very much. Such pleasant social times help to build up the order.

MARSLAND.

(Following items were intended for last week's issue but received too late for publication.)

Maud Andrus visited school Friday afternoon.

John Hughes enrolled in our school Monday.

Goldie Bennett is quite a frequent visitor at school these days.

T. Squibb returned from Bridgeport and Alliance Tuesday, where he has been in the interest of locating a new home.

Wm. Evans, Wm. Andrus, H. Hendrick, E. T. Gregg, Geo. Gregg and H. Horner were Alliance visitors this week.

We wish to thank the school board for the new brush brooms, hooks on which to hang erasers, coal pails and the promise of a fine large clock.

Fay Gregg has been quite ill the past week and unable to attend school. We miss her very much in the school room and trust that she will soon be able to return to us.

Miss Blessing, who has been here ill with typhoid fever and who was under the care of Dr. Willis, returned to Belmont Sunday. Miss Walling came down to accompany her home.

The B. & M. Co. are changing considerable track and adding new switches here. They also have moved some of their buildings to the south of main road and it is reported they will move the depot there soon.

The Ladies' Aid met with Mrs. Ed Horner Wednesday. All report a very pleasant afternoon. The new stove these industrious ladies have purchased for the church is a much appreciated improvement.

We were glad to note the increased attendance at League Sunday night and trust the number will continually increase. We want your help. We need it. Come out next Sunday night and help to make the League grow more interesting and instructive.

Monday afternoon occurred the funeral of Mr. Stanar, who died at his home in Caspar, Wyo., last week. He was a former resident of Marsland and the bereaved family have the sympathy of their many friends here. After the sermon by Rev. Cooler the remains were interred in the Marsland cemetery.

Mrs. T. Squibb and family have been in the country visiting the past week. Mr. and Mrs. Squibb and family will go to Crawford for a few days' visit with relatives and from there will go to Alliance to spend the winter. Their many friends much regret their departure but wish them success in their new home.

McCoull-Sherman

A happy event took place at the Methodist parsonage in Alliance last evening at 8 o'clock when Rev. J. L. Vallow pronounced the words that united the destinies, as husband and wife, of Mr. Sidney McCoull of Alliance and Miss Ida Sherman, an amiable young lady of Louisville, Nebr. The Herald proffers congratulations and the very best wishes for a happy and prosperous married life.

The groom has a position with the C. B. & Q. railroad as switchman in the yards at this place, and we are pleased to learn that they will make their home in this city, where they will receive a most cordial welcome.

Sixty-five cent Carbon pictures for forty-five cents at Darling's, Saturday, the 20th.

Looking After W. O. W. Interests.

Organizer E. L. Moll of the Woodmen of the World arrived in the city on Wednesday of last week to be present at the regular meeting of Maple Camp No. 165, which met that evening. He will remain in this locality the remainder of this week, closing several applications that are maturing under his work here. It will be remembered that some twenty additions were made to the local camp about two months ago, and since that time the camp has had one or more applications every night. Now that the busy time of summer is over he will devote some attention to closing prospective business here. He reports the organization of an enthusiastic camp at Scottsbluff a couple of weeks ago, with a nice line of prospective applicants to be closed in the near future. The Woodmen of the World is making remarkable growth in other sections of the state, and Deputy Moll is determined that this part of the state continue to give a fair quota of membership during his work here.

Holpin-Tabler.

Another of the C. B. & Q. railroad boys has done the proper thing by taking unto himself a "better half." At the Baptist parsonage last evening Mr. Thomas M. Holpin of Alliance and Miss Nettie F. Tabler of Norborne, Mo., were united in the holy bonds that are not to be severed this side of the end of life's journey. Rev. J. M. Huston performing the marriage ceremony. We are always glad to extend sincere congratulations and best wishes to a worthy young couple when they embark upon the matrimonial sea, and in chronicling this happy event it is a pleasure to follow our usual custom. May their joys be many, their sorrows few and their greatest troubles little ones.

They left this morning for a wedding trip through the southern states, returning from which they will make their home in Alliance.

The ladies of Alliance and surrounding country should not fail to attend the Farmers' Institute Friday afternoon at the opera house, to hear Miss Gertrude Rowan on "Suggestions to Cooks about Cooking." She will also give cooking demonstrations. Miss Rowan is a graduate of the University of Nebraska, where she specialized in Domestic Science. She was one of the first teachers to introduce Domestic Science into a high school in a satisfactory manner. She spent the past summer at the Boston cooking school, where she made a special study of invalid cookery. Admission free.

About three months since the Hemingford Loan and Trust Co., was incorporated. Recently County Superintendent Ora E. Phillips was elected vice president, the other officers being H. E. Jones, president, and Keith L. Pierce, secretary. The principal offices of the company will be at Hemingford and Alliance.
