LOCAL PARAGRAPHS

Miss Lydia Hoag went to Omaha this morning.

A. F. Allen was up from his claim near Bridgeport this week.

You will have to hurry up if you do your Christmas shopping early.

Editor Kling of the Dalton Herald had business in Alliance Tuesday.

Luke Phillips of Hemingford has been in the city the past two days.

W. G. Simonson of Denver has been in Alliance this week looking after property interests.

L. E. Sadler of Mitchell is in Alliance, having business with the Phillips-Land Co.

A. F. Allen has been spending several days this week in the city, returning yesterday to his Morrill county claim.

Read and preserve the program of W. C. T. U. meetings published in another column of The Herald this week.

Miss Lenna Bayse visited from Friday till Monday with her cousins, Engineer Robt. Yarborough and family, at Sterling, Colo.

The friends of Mrs. Tabor will be pleased to learn that she is now on the road to recovery from her recent serious illness.

J. J. Keegan, who is attending the Nebraska University, is expected home Saturday to spend the holiday vacation with his parents.

Dr. W. T. Eikner of Hemingford passed through Alliance yesterday, enroute for California where he will spend several months.

W. R. Ashby, barber, and A. L. Joy, musician and proprietor of the Passow billiard and pool hall, are two new subscribers to The Herald.

Sheriff-elect A. D. New of Sheridan county was in Alliance several days within the last week. He will soon move from Ellsworth to Rushville.

Mrs. Clarence Roberts of Chadron, who has been a patient at the Alliance Hospital the past few weeks, expects to leave the last of the week for her home.

Guy Mart drove in from Orlando yesterday, remaining in the city till today. He reports snow all the way, but not as deep in his neighborhood as here.

Mrs. M. Cowan of Minatare, Nebr., and daughter, Miss Lela, are in Alliance. Miss Lela is here for medical care. They expect to remain about three weeks.

Dave Briggs, formerly a C. B. & Q. conductor out of Alliance, came in from the Patmore ranch Monday, riding horseback. He reported the snow knee deep to his horse nearly all the way.

Ellis Ray of Alliance was in town yesterday looking for a location for a plumbing shop. He has recently sold his shop in Alliance and desires to locate in a growing town in this valley.—Scotts Bluff Herald.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Gayhart came down from near Ardmore last Saturday to transact business in Alliance, a part of which was to have some work done by Kennedy Brothers, dentists. They returned home Tuesday.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. church have decided to hold no more meetings till after the holiday season. They are a very industrious society, having averaged tying five comforts a week for some time.

J. T. Lucy of Carroll, Iowa, stopped off in Alliance to visit friends Saturday on his way home from Denver, where he had been working.

The good people of this city were treated to a surprise one day recently train No. 44 was on time. Later information—it was 43.

Lew Waddick, some years since an employee of this office, blew in from the west the fore part of the week, and is again a member of our printing force.

By looking through the ads in this paper you will find many valuable suggestions as to Christmas presents. It will be to your interest to read them, as well as the other parts of the paper.

Conrad F. Williams, who assisted in The Herald office for a few weeks recently, now has a pleasant situation as stenographer in the Burlington freight office.

Why not make a year's subscription to The Alliance Herald a present to one or more of your friends. It would make a particularly appropriate present to persons who are interested in the development of this great country.

F. B. Thomas, one of The Herald's many Hemingford subscribers, was in Alliance Tuesday transacting business, a part of which was setting himself ahead on subscription to this paper.

Joe Manion was in from the ranch last Thursday and dropped into The Herald office long enough to give us a few items of news, and leave the price of a year's subscription to this disseminator of local and general intelligence. Joe is very much pleased with the horse which he purchased at the Dineen, Rubendall & Young sale a few weeks ago. It would take a sum of money considerably larger than he paid to buy the horse now.

Five Stars Concert Company at the Phelan tonight.

R. R. Kincaid of Bingham is attending to business matters in this city today.

Mrs. B. Mewhiter left this morning for Grand Island, where she will visit a few days with friends.

"Who will be Santa Clause?" is one of the many questions that come up for an answer at this time of year.

H. E. Jones informs us that he sold his Hemingford residence to Jerry Wells who retires from the farm to try town life.

J. T. Lucy of Carroll, Iowa, stopped off in Alliance to visit friends Saturday on his way home from Denver, where he had been working.

The good people of this city were treated to a surprise one day recently train No. 44 was on time. Later information—it was 43.

Joe Manion was in from the ranch last Thursday and dropped into The Herald office long enough to give us a few items of news, and leave the price

East Burlington for an operation leaving here last Monday; he has many friends here, especially among the railroad boys, who hope for his speedy recovery.

Mrs. Wm. Welch came up from Lincoln on Tuesday, accompanied by her son Pat, taking care of Bingham the same day. She had been at the state capital about two weeks.

After a temporary absence from The Herald's subscription list, the name of G. M. Burns is again placed on our books. Mr. Burns is a member of the clerical force at the C. B. & Q. freight depot.

The Palladian Literary society of the Alliance High School will render a Christmas program in the High School auditorium tomorrow afternoon, at two o'clock. Programs have been ordered printed for the same.

Before leaving for Idaho, H. E. Jones ordered his address for The Herald changed from Hemingford to Blackfoot, hence we will continue to have the pleasure of keeping him and Mrs. Jones posted on Box Butte country happenings.

When you see a copy of the December number of the Alliance High School paper, The Spud, you will want one copy or more to send to friends. We understand there are still a few extra copies that can be disposed of for this purpose. Call up Fred Carlson, business manager, phone 169, and he will tell you about it.

Peter Oskar, concrete contractor and builder of Dalton, passed through Alliance last Saturday on his way to Hamilton county to visit friends. From there he will go farther east, but will return to Dalton in February or March, in time to begin spring work, of which he will probably have a large amount.

M. Hutton is H. E. Jones' successor in the real estate business at Hemingford. By combining his own business with that of Mr. Jones', we expect that he will sell a big lot of land the coming spring and summer, and hope he will be able to do so, as he is interested in the development of the country along lines profitable to the real estate purchasers.

Persons who expect to send presents by mail or express should do so as soon as possible. There is always such a vast amount of extra stuff sent within the last few days preceding Christmas that postoffices and express offices are congested, causing unavoidable delay in the delivery of a part of what the senders wanted delivered promptly. If you are intending to send away presents, follow the somewhat hackneyed, but timely, advice: "Do it now."

After working six months without losing a day, Brakeman Jack Burke left Saturday morning for a month's vacation. From here he went direct to Kansas City where he has relatives. He will return to Friend, Nebr., in time to eat Christmas dinner with his parents, who reside there. Last month Jack's car made the highest check for the brakemen.

W. O. Barnes and F. R. McCormack are out today selling tickets for the annual ball of the Alliance Fire Department, to be held in the Phelan opera house, New Year's eve, December 31st. They are meeting with good success. The people of Alliance appreciate the work of the A. V. F. D., and may depend upon it liberally when a call of this kind is made.

J. L. Lamb and W. J. Frisbie of Diller, Nebr., arrived in Alliance Tuesday and left yesterday for home. They came to look at the country with a view to purchasing land, but found this a very unsatisfactory time to examine the soil on account of the snow. While here Mr. Lamb renewed his subscription to The Herald, which will try to keep him, as well as other distant readers, posted in regard to the condition of the weather in Box Butte country.

Board and room for two. All modern. Call 713 Laramie Ave, city.

Mrs. M. E. Anderson.

BAYARD ITEMS.

Mrs. Wisner and Miss Ottie Wisner returned Friday from a ten days' visit in Scottsbluff and Mitchell.

Bayard is to have a new bank.
