

Drafts

DRAFTS issued by the First National Bank are used for the same purposes that Post Office and Express Money Orders are, and are available for many other uses.

We recommend the use of DRAFTS when traveling, when transferring money from place to place and when sending money to parties at other places as they are cheaper, much more convenient and absolutely safe. DRAFTS can be carried in lieu of currency and the owner is absolutely protected from loss.

DRAFTS can be transferred from one person to another as many times as desired, thus saving many extra fees.

DRAFTS are available for use in the UNITED STATES, CANADA or MEXICO.

The fee charged for our DRAFTS is about one-third less than the fee charged for Post Office or Express Orders.

The Mesdames Lester Entertain

One of the most elaborate entertainments ever given in Alliance were the two parties at the Lester home last Thursday. The large double parlors and dining room were decorated in cut flowers such as carnations, roses and smilax. Mrs. F. W. Lester and Mrs. Claude Lester were hostesses both afternoon and evening.

At one o'clock the guests, sixteen ladies, were seated at the dining room table, which was beautiful in the candle light with the sparkling cut glass, china and flowers. A four course lunch was served. Then followed a very interesting guessing contest in which Mrs. Vallow won first prize, a hand painted cup and saucer. Mrs. Mort. Johnson proudly received the consolation prize, a Japanese cup and saucer.

In the evening twenty-four of their young lady friends played "500." Miss Lowery had the highest honors, her prize being a dainty wedgewood vase. Miss Fickle was equally pleased with the booby prize, a silver bon bon dish. After the cards a three course lunch was served on the card tables. The guests were each given a rose and a carnation, but they will not need these to help them remember such a very pleasant occasion.

Temperance Rally

Rev. Marna S. Poulson, superintendent of the Nebraska State Anti-Saloon League, will address the people of Alliance and vicinity in the Phelan opera house on Sunday evening, February 6th, at 8 p.m. There will be special music. Everybody invited. Admission free. COME.

Camille Nohe Bids Farewell to Friends

It is a source of regret to the friends of Camille Nohe that he has found it necessary to leave Alliance for the present in order that he may receive necessary medical treatment, but they are pleased that this will not deter him from attending school at Colorado Springs, where he has gone.

One last Friday evening the high school faculty, the orchestra, and basketball boys responded to invitations from their former pupil and schoolmate to banquet at the Nohe cafe.

Prof. Williams was toastmaster of the occasion and introduced the speakers in a befitting manner. Beulah Smith spoke in behalf of the orchestra, speaking words of regret because of the loss of their chief violinist. Fred Carlson spoke on "How the basketball boys will miss Camille," and Prof. Hayes on "Camille's standing with the faculty." Though not on the program, Prof. Hanna responded to a solicitation for a talk and voiced the sentiments of the others in their regret at Camille's departure and their well wishes for his future success.

We trust he may ere long be permitted to return and fill his accustomed place among us.

But it was Only "Tom."

It's not often that we print laughable incidents about our neighbors, but here's one on Officers Huusaker and Donovan that occurred last night we cannot keep: A hurry call turned in from one of our residents on Cheyenne avenue told the police of burglars in their basement. With a rush the above officers responded, loaded for bear. Donovan with six-shooter cocked and primed, stood guard at the entrance of the basement while his brother minion of the law investigated the dark recesses with a flash light to locate the whereabouts of the midnight visitor. A sudden call from Huusaker told the secret: "Why, Donovan, it's nothing but a great big tom cat."

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Smith returned Monday from their trip to central and eastern Nebraska and report a fine time on the trip. They visited relatives at Omaha and near Mason City, and also stopped at Broken Bow. The sleigh ride from Mason City to the ranch where they visited was one of the very enjoyable features of the trip.

Lawrence Beck has been too ill to attend school the past week.

Rev. I. E. Noite is holding a series of meetings in Fairview church.

Don't forget that game of basketball at the High School gymnasium tomorrow evening.

Miss Dorothy Hoag departed yesterday for a visit with her sister at Beatrice, also with friends in Omaha.

Miss Beulah Smith is again able to attend school, after an absence of several weeks on account of sickness.

Engineer F. A. Richey and wife, who have made their home in Alliance the past few months, leave this week for Los Angeles.

W. E. Coleman and son and fifteen other parties from the southwest part of Sioux county were in Alliance last week on land business connected with a contest appeal.

Rev. J. M. Huston reports a very successful evangelistic meeting at Palmyra, where he is assisting the pastor. He expects to return to Alliance next week.

S. S. Missionary Bundy and Rev. A. L. Godfrey have been engaged in revival meetings in the country, ten miles from Angora. Mr. Bundy also organized a new Sunday-school near that neighborhood.

Henry Hopkins will have a public sale at his place, three miles north and one-half mile east of Alliance, next Thursday, commencing at 10 o'clock a. m.

W. R. Drake, the real estate man, returned Tuesday from a combined business and pleasure trip to Iowa and South Dakota. He reports a great deal of snow farther east, particularly in the southeast part of South Dakota.

W. M. Robinson of Omaha, general manager for the Bennett Piano Co., accompanied by his wife, were Alliance visitors the first of the week. Mrs. Robinson expressed herself as being much pleased with the country and climate out here.

W. A. Prindle, district manager of the W. O. W., reports an initiation of a class of six new members into the Alliance lodge last night. There will be a large number, probably about twenty or twenty-five, initiated at the next meeting, which will be February 9th.

Big Game of Basket Ball

What promises to be one of the best games of basketball ever seen in Alliance is to be played at the High School gymnasium Friday night of this week, between the Alliance and Gothenburg teams. Gothenburg claims the championship of western Nebraska, and Alliance has not been beaten since the present team was organized, and that this game will be a battle royal is assured. There should be a big attendance of Alliance people, we doubt not there will be.

The game will be called at 8 p. m. Admission, 35 cents; season tickets, for remaining four games, $1.00.

Alliance Birds Win Prizes.

Conductor B. H. Perry is greatly pleased over the success of his exhibit of Brown Leghorns at the Colorado Championship Poultry Show, besides winning special Brown Leghorn Club ribbon. He also won third premium on pen and special ribbon for best shaped female.

List of Premiums

We had intended to publish this week a list of the other premiums besides the piano, but have been so crowded with work that we have not been able to prepare the list complete for publication. It will be given in the next issue.

We will also begin next week publishing a list of the contestants with the number of votes received.

The following persons have been nominated as candidates during the past week: Miss Attie Snow, Alliance; Miss Anna Dainton, Alliance; Miss Alma Rosenberger, Hemingford; Mrs. Kraemer, Alliance.

I. O. O. F. Convention in Alliance

Largely through the efforts of F. H. Pardey, the convention for 1910 of the Northwest Nebraska and Southeast Wyoming association of I. O. O. F. lodges has been secured for Alliance. This, we believe, is the first time the annual convention has come this far east. It will be held during the time of the county fair.

Express Messenger M. Oldt, who came in from Billings on No. 42 Sunday morning, received a message on his arrival here that his wife was dangerously sick in Billings. He doubled back on No. 41. Word has since been received by friends here saying she was not yet out of danger.

Funeral Services

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Aylward, who died Tuesday at her home in south Sioux county, was held this morning at 9 o'clock at Holy Rosary church, Father Fehily officiating in the absence of Father McNamara, who is out of the city.

Mrs. Aylward is survived by a married daughter, Mrs. A. J. Dwyer; a son, John Aylward; and the two Misses Aylward, all of this city.

The Aylwards are old settlers, coming to western Nebraska in the early eighties and settling in south Sioux county on a homestead, where they have since resided. Mrs. Aylward was seventy-two years of age at the time of her death.

The burial will take place at Burlington, Iowa, to which place the body was shipped this noon, accompanied by the son and daughters.

Wedding at Hotel Alliance

A very pleasant wedding occurred at Hotel Alliance last evening, Mr. Wm. E. Hollinrake and Miss Marcia P. Kendrick, both of Marsland, taking upon themselves the solemn vows of matrimony, H. Harris, D. D., Ph. D., rector of St. Matthew's Episcopal church officiating. Hotel Alliance's accommodating manager, Mr. Thos. V. Kelly, and Miss Junie Kendrick, sister of the bride, acted as best man and bridesmaid. The hotel employees were quite surprised at first, thinking the affair was to be a double wedding.
