LOCAL PARAGRAPHS

Conductor Frank Dunning now receives his copy of the Herald at Sanders, Mont.

Ex-Division Superintendent Birdsell now of Edgemont was in Alliance the first of the week.

Clifford Hancock and John Foster of Lakeside came up on No. 43 Saturday to transact business in Alliance.

George O'Kane one of the pioneers of Sioux county who left this county for awhile, has recently returned. He was in Alliance Saturday.

Miss Bessie Bullock has accepted the position as bookkeeper for the Phillips Land Co., and entered on her new duties Monday morning.

Irwin E. Wilson left last Friday for Belvidere, going by the way of York where he will stop over a few days. His visit at Alliance was short, but was a pleasant one for himself as well as his father.

C. M. Jensen, traveling salesman for the Oliver Typewriter Co., was in Alliance last Friday and favored the Herald office with a call. The Oliver typewriter is a popular machine and Mr. Jensen reports good sales.

Nate Hart now in the implement and hardware business at Polson, Mont., seems to be well pleased with that country. In a letter, under date of Feb. 20, to the editor of the Herald he says: "You ought to make a trip to northwest Montana and see a good country."

Dr. Orie Coppernoll returned Monday from a visit to her parents at Hampton, Iowa, having been gone six weeks. While away, she spent ten days at Kirksville, Mo., and visited her Alma Mater, the Osteopath College. She also visited with friends at Crete and Wilbur, Nebr.

A. F. Miller, one of the Herald's old-time subscribers, drove down from his Dawes county ranch last Thursday accompanied by his son, Fred. They remained Friday transacting business and visiting friends. John L. Miller is a son and Mrs. L. H. Mackey is a daughter of Mr. Miller.

C. H. Burleigh was in Alliance Monday attending to business, a part of which was ordering brick from Sang C. Reck for the chimney to his new house which he has nearly completed on his claim near Lakeside. We regret to hear from Mr. Burleigh that his wife is in very poor health.

Last Saturday we had the pleasure of meeting J. W. Mapps and son Guy who drove up from Reno to do some shopping. Mr. Mapps came up from Phelps county, Neb., about a month ago and located on a claim twelve miles east of this city. He is planning to milk cows and sell the cream to the Alliance Creamery.

W. M. Robinson, manager of the Bennett Piano Company, arrived in Alliance Sunday from Omaha to look after some personal affairs, as well as to attend to the company's business. Mr. Robinson has great confidence in the future development of this country, and recently showed his confidence by purchasing a piece of land from Lloyd C. Thomas.

The Bee Hive store have been receiving a lot of new goods since moving into their new location at 310 Box Butte avenue, and are prepared for a larger business than ever before. The front of this store has also been painted red, the metropolitan color for racket stores, which gives it an attractive appearance. Note their new advertisement in another column of The Herald.

Engineer G. F. Johnson, who has been laid off since December on account of having his foot hurt, is ready for work again. On Monday of this week he went to Edgemont to run the helper between Edgemont and Orella. He will make his home in Edgemont. Before leaving Alliance he subscribed for the Herald, hence will keep posted on the happenings of this city and country.

Miss Lenna Bayse returned Wednesday morning from a week's trip to Sterling and Denver. At the former place she visited with her cousin, R. L. Yarbrough, and family. On Friday Miss Lenna and Mrs. Yarbrough left for Denver, where they visited at the homes of Engineer Schenck and Miss Pearl Walganwood. Miss Walganwood will be remembered in Alliance by many people, she having formerly lived here.

Little Margery Grebe is on the sick list this week.

Miss Elizabeth Phillips departed Sunday noon for her school in Hemingford.

FOUND—Fur gauntlet glove Wednesday on Box Butte ave. Call at the Herald Office.

Barney McCabe of the north part of the county is attending to business in Alliance today.

James Rose of Broken Bow is visiting at the Rust home, northeast of town this week.

Mrs. R. B. Monfort left Thursday for an extended visit with her mother at Templeton, Ohio.

Thos. McNamara, a railroad man of Pacific Junction, Iowa, arrived in Alliance this morning to take a position as switchman.

Bud Sutton, little son of Geo. J. Sutton, returned the first of the week from a sanitarium in Kirksville, Mo., much improved in health.

Mrs. Frank Haas of Minatare, wife of the cashier of the Minatare Bank, is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. K. Warrick this week.

If you are in the market for a piano now is your time. Call at Prescott Music Co.'s sale at Fair and Variety store.

We are pleased to learn from Dr. F. J. Peterson that Miss Eva Wilson of the Marple neighborhood is recovering from her spell of sickness.

A. C. Kjeldgaard, until recently in charge of Brennan's soda fountain, but having been relieved of that work by Joe Smith, is now F. J.'s right hand man in the pharmacy.

The W. C. T. U. will meet next Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Tash. Mrs. M. O. Joder will conduct a "Mothers' Meeting" to which everyone will be cordially invited.

The John Wilson estate sale near Marple of Tuesday of this week was well attended, and everything sold well. H. P. Coursey and Wm. Foskett being the auctioneers. One team brought $585.

Mrs. M. J. Smith of Omaha is visiting at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Smith. She has been here about a week and will probably remain a couple of weeks longer.

Some new tiling has been laid across the street just north of the Phelan Opera House for draining the street. We think this is a good thing, and hope the good work will be carried on in other parts of the city.

John Dalton, an old pioneer of this country, was in Alliance last Tuesday attending to the purchase of some land. Mr. Dalton was formerly stock commissioner of the state. He seems to have a good opinion of this country, and believes that land will increase in value very materially within the next year or so.

J. E. Wheatly, the Grand Junction, Colo., apple man, is very much pleased with his success in selling his apples at this place. He informed a Herald representative that this is his nineteenth car for this year and that last Monday was his banner day for selling apples from a car, having sold at least fifty bushels more than in any one day previous.

Rev. and Mrs. R. D. Waterman of Hemingford were visiting at the home of their friends Mr. and Mrs. Kuhn, the latter part of last week. Mr. Waterman was recently appointed pastor of the Methodist church at Hemingford. It was the good fortune of the Herald editor to become acquainted with him and his wife a few years since when they were engaged in newspaper work at Valparaiso, Nebr., and it offered us much pleasure to receive a call from them at our office last week.

Judge Zurn went to Crawford Monday morning for a little visit with his brother, Adam Zurn, returning on 36 Tuesday. He reports things boiling in that city on account of the gross violations of the law and the consequent arrests and fines that have been made. On order of the district court, all saloons were to be closed there Tuesday. Of course, Judge Zurn had nothing to

Geo. Snyder has some elegant new show cases in his confectionery store.

Sang Reck informs us that he will begin work at the brick yard in about two weeks.

Chas. Glaze, proprietor of the Glaze Marble Works, Hemingford, came down to the county seat on a freight yesterday.

The Burlington Hotel is getting to be famous for its banquets. They are now preparing for the Elk's Friday evening. They expect to seat 200 people.

W. H. Thomas went to Crawford Monday to close up a land deal having sold 960 acres of his ranch near Marsland. This leaves him only 80 acres of land at that place.

The Baptist Choir will give a concert consisting of vocal and instrumental music on the evening of March 16, in the church, the proceeds to be used for the purchase of new Hymn books to supply the congregation.

W. H. Prescott, senior member of the Prescott Musical Co., arrived this morning from Lincoln. He left on the train for Bridgeport, expecting to visit a sister and her husband who reside near Reddington, and return tomorrow.

There not being room in the court house for all the officers, County Surveyor Hamlin has his office in the office of the city engineer in the southeast corner room on the second floor of the city hall. As there is no telephone in that office, persons who wish to call him up should call his residence phone, 163.

Social and Oyster Supper

A social and oyster supper for the benefit of the Fairview church will be given at the home of W. I. Loran on March 17.

Compelled to Condense

No matter how much news we have there are always some items left out that we wish to publish. The following will be written up right for next issue:

- Weddings: Lindley - Foster;
- Bundy-Southard; Holloway-Colvin; Smith-Klein.
- Obituary of Mrs. Emma Roberts, whose funeral will be held at the Baptist church at 10 a. m. on Saturday of this week.
- Work on the Alliance city sewers.
- High School victories.

The reading given last week by Rev. D. Webster Davis, which was fine and deserves a good notice.

Assessors' Meeting
