JUDGE SENDS HYDE TO JAIL

Accused Kansas City Physician Spends Night in Prison.
Kansas City, March 8.—Dr. E. Clark Hyde, accompanied by two of his attorneys, voluntarily appeared at the office of County Marshal Joel Mayes here and waived the reading of a capias issued for his arrest, growing out of the eleven indictments returned against the physician Saturday night in connection with the Swope mystery.

Hyde was sent to jail a few minutes later by Judge Latschaw until the matter of the new bond is considered. His trial was set for April 11.

When Dr. Hyde appeared before Judge Latschaw, Attorney Walsh waived the reading of the indictment. Then a discussion of the trial date was had. Both sides said they were ready to begin within a week. April 11 was soon decided upon and Prosecutor Conkling said that all eleven cases would be tried separately, that for the murder of Colonel Thomas H. Swope to be called first.

The court was not satisfied to accept the old bond of $50,000 and he ordered that the prisoner be taken to jail until the ball matter would be gone into.

A moment later a deputy tapped Dr. Hyde on the arm and said:

"Come with me, please, Doctor."

Without the least show of emotion the physician arose and walked firmly from the room. Five minutes later Dr. Hyde was seated in the hospital ward of the county jail, smoking a cigar.

NEBRASKA NEWS

Judge Kelly Orders Nye-Schneider Company to Stand Trial.

DISCRIMINATION IS CHARGED.

Defendant Company Declares They Raised Prices at Hadra Purely for Purpose of Getting Share of Business, but State Claims It Was Done to Put Competitor into Bankruptcy and Court Takes Same View.

Pierce, Neb., March 8.—The discrimination case brought against the Nye-Schneider-Fowler Grain company at Hadra, Neb., was decided by Judge Kelly, before whom the case was tried last week, and the defendant company was ordered to appear and answer at the first day of the next term of the district court on the discrimination charge.

Courtwright and Sidner of Fremont, appearing for the Nye-Schneider-Fowler company, defended on the theory that their company could not be held liable on the complaint unless it could be shown that their acts complained of were done with the criminal intent to injure or destroy the business of their competitor, and claimed that they raised prices at Hadra, higher than at any other point in the state, purely for the purpose of getting a part of the business at a point where they were getting practically none.

The state was represented by C. H. Stewart, county attorney, who presented evidence to show that the defendant had lost money on every bushel of grain that had been bought at Hadra and that they had discriminated between the towns of Foster and Hadra, and argued from this that the only reasonable inference was that the defendant paid these high prices at Hadra, not for the purpose of getting a business that was losing them money, but for the purpose of making their competitor take a business at such prices, if they took it at all, that would eventually put them into bankruptcy.

UNIVERSITY ATHLETE DIES

G. O. Hammond of Pawnee City Succumbs to Paralytic Stroke.

Lincoln, March 8.—G. O. Hammond of Pawnee City, a prominent University of Nebraska athlete, died from a stroke of paralysis, which he suffered last Friday. He was a junior in the engineering college of the university.

Last spring Hammond competed for the Cornhuskers in the track meets with Minnesota and Kansas. He was a high jumper and pole vaulter. He was expected to be one of the leading track athletes for this spring.

Hammond was a gymnast also and would have been a member of the Nebraska gymnastic team that will compete in the western intercollegiate meet at Minneapolis next month.

Until last week Hammond was, apparently, in good health and was training for the track meet at Omaha. During the early days of the week he complained of feeling ill and declared that he could achieve but small success in his attempts at pole vaulting and high jumping. He retired to bed early Friday night at his rooms in this city, and early in the morning was found lying on the floor of his room suffering from a paralytic stroke. The lower half of his body was paralyzed.

RESCUES MAROONED MEN

Lineman Crawls Along Cable Over Raging River, Carrying Rope.

Omaha, March 8.—A crawl hand over hand along a telephone cable wire served to rescue four men imprisoned on an island where the bridge crosses the river at Valley. Oscar Scooby, an Omaha lineman, risked his life to save Oscar Talcott, George Johnson and two other men who had been marooned on the island from Saturday night, when the ice went out, carrying the bridge with it.

Scooby carried a rope attached to his waist and this served to get a rowboat across to the island. When Scooby had landed in safety, another rope was attached to the boat by the rescuing party on the mainland.

The skiff was then pulled over by the marooned men, who then rowed back. The second rope attached to the skiff had its other end on mainland and served to help guide the boat across the river, which was full of floating ice.

Talcott and his party were nearly famished when rescued, for they had been without food since Sunday night. Otherwise they were none the worse for the accident.

They had been on the island blasting an ice gorge. The gorge went out, but it carried both ends of the bridge with it.

ENGINE CRUSHES ENGINEER

William Gilmore Likely to Die as Result of Wreck.

Nebraska City, March 7.—The Burlington stub train running between this city and Nebraska City Junction met with an accident last night that may cost the life of both Engineer William Gilmore and Fireman Paul Ash. The engine attached to the combination coach was backing up and when two miles east of this city, the tender left the track and the engine turned turtle, catching both engineer and fireman under it. The coach also left the track, but all passengers escaped injury. The Chicago train following ten minutes later came to the rescue. The engineer and fireman were dug from under their engine and brought to this city. Engineer Gilmore, one of the oldest men on the road, is not expected to live, but there is some hope for the fireman. A wreck train from Lincoln cleared the track.
