Eugene Sights came down yesterday from Toluca for a few days' stay in Alliance. He is doing well in business and looks as though he is satisfied with the way the world is treating him.

The Crystal theatre was held in the opera house a few nights last week, but returned to the Pardey building on account of the opera house having been engaged for other entertainments.

Hon. W. H. Thompson of Grand Island came up on 43 yesterday to attend to some legal business. The Herald was favored with a short call, which we appreciated very much.

B. F. Ankeny of the Crescent ranch was in town Tuesday with a six horse tally-ho to take out a party of English friends. Monroe Wagner handled the ribbons in driving the six horse team.

Whether one is proud of his name or not, he likes to see it spelled correctly when in print. In mentioning the name of L. F. McCarthy in the Herald recently the printer dropped out the h making a change in name and probably indicating a change in nationality, to which "Mac" would not consent.

Conway F. Williams, one of the efficient stenographers in the Division Superintendent's office, appreciating The Alliance Herald as do most of the railroad boys, has ordered his name placed on our subscription list.

Mrs. Guy Lockwood and two children arrived on No. 43 Monday from Omaha. The business of the Burlington Hotel was so heavy that it was necessary for Guy to come here to assist his father in the management.

C. A. Bouck, who resides on his homestead ten miles west of Marsland, came down to the metropolis Tuesday, remaining in town until yesterday. Before leaving, he called at The Herald office to order this paper sent to him.

Mrs. M. E. Combs arrived in Alliance last Friday from Brush, Colo., with her three girls. She desires to secure employment here and send her daughters to school, having been attracted to this city by the reputation of our schools.

C. A. Bouck, who resides on his homestead ten miles west of Marsland, came down to the metropolis Tuesday, remaining in town until yesterday. Before leaving, he called at The Herald office to order this paper sent to him.

Mrs. M. E. Combs arrived in Alliance last Friday from Brush, Colo., with her three girls. She desires to secure employment here and send her daughters to school, having been attracted to this city by the reputation of our schools.

Mrs. Robert Birney left for Omaha on No. 42 Sunday morning. She accompanied Mrs. Hood, who is being taken to the St. Joseph Hospital, where she expects to undergo an operation. Mrs. Birney will return as soon as Mrs. Hood is out of danger.

The great growth of the city of Lincoln comes from removal of Nebraska to the capital city. That is one thing that makes The State Journal such interesting reading to state folks. We can save you a dollar on the price of The Journal if you call on us.

J. B. Turner of Grand Island, Deputy Grand Master A. O. U. W., arrived in Alliance Monday and will remain here about ten days or two weeks, working in the interests of the order. The Workman have quite an active lodge here and good prospects of an increase in membership.

Joe Orchowski, the tailor, left Friday morning for Omaha and Chicago, expecting to be gone about a week. In Chicago he will meet his parents who are coming back to America after a few years stay in their native land in Europe. They will probably arrive in Alliance within a day or two.

Mr. Martin, formerly clerk in the Alliance Grocery, then of the ranch country near Hemingford, was in Alliance Monday and Tuesday. He is now on his way to Ocala, Florida, where he has bought land. If he reports favorably there are a number from near Hemingford who expect to follow him.

Owing to the illness of her mother, Miss Gladys Boon has resigned her position at the Bee Hive store. Her mother is not seriously ill, but not being in good health, needed her assistance at home. Miss Gladys left yesterday for a few days' visit among friends in the neighborhood of their ranch near Bonner.

Messrs. C. W. and A. S. Gillin of Gillin's Land Agency, Sioux City, were in Alliance a few days this week. They with Charles Schmidt of Avoca, Ia., are interested in Berea townsite. The Messrs. Gillin also deal in Box Butte farm land and while in Alliance called at the Herald office to leave an order for a large amount of real estate printing, and also ordered the Herald to keep them posted on this part of Nebraska.

J. T. Carey has accepted the agency for the celebrated Northern Wyoming Lower Vein Monarch coal, which is mined exclusively and shipped by the Wyoming Coal Mining Co. He will sell at wholesale and retail, having his office at 210 Box Butte avenue. He will put in a part of his time on the road taking orders from dealers on the main line east and west from Alliance and on the Denver and Guernsey branches.

Robt. Graham, Sr., came down to Alliance from his farm last Friday to do a little trading and brought with him seventy-two dozen eggs. Mr. Graham is hale and hearty, although getting somewhat advanced in years. While he does not try to do heavy farm work as in former times, he delights to keep busy with little work. While in Alliance last week he called at The Herald office and informed us that he has eighty hens and received not less than three dozen eggs per day during the month of February. He remarked that during the winter he was kept busy shoveling snow, feeding chickens and carrying in eggs.

Baby Boy Called Home.
Sometimes in the April-kissed spring-time, the little flower we welcome as the snowdrop, droops and dies, but its delicate face has inspired us to hope, and perfumed our life with thoughts of purity. It was even so with "our baby" the tiny blossom of humanity that for four months brought joy to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Boon of Bonner. The little one was taken sick and was brought to Alliance for medical treatment, but all the assistance that loving care and medical skill could render did not avail to save the little one's life. It passed away at the home of its grandmother in Alliance last Tuesday morning. The funeral was held yesterday from the residence of Mrs. Julia T. Boon, conducted by Rev. Huston, interment being in Greenwood cemetery.

Returned From California.
Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Norton returned yesterday from the west after having been gone for about two months. They came by way of Phoenix, El Paso and Denver. At Phoenix they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd C. Thomas who took them for an automobile drive, the visit being a delightful one for all of them. They saw many beautiful sights in the vicinity of Phoenix, one of which was a flock of 400 ostriches. On another ranch near that city there are 3800 ostriches, but the party did not get to see them. Ward remains at Los Angeles where he is taking a course in accounting.

Another Pleasant Card Party.
Mrs. U. N. Hoskins entertained in honor of Mrs. Belle Brennan and Mrs. George Van Vorhees of Crawford, Saturday evening and passed the time playing "500." Six of the ladies played with red score cards and six with pink. On the reds Mrs. G. J. Beck won first prize and Mrs. Cora Lewis second. The pink side, Mrs. Lindley Ellis won first prize and Mrs. Cole second, Mrs. Belle Brennan and Mrs. Mort Johnson won the consolation prizes. They were little brushes, on the back of each was a dainty little pen and ink sketch and the motto, "Brush up on 500." Lunch was served at 11:30 p. m. and so ended a pleasant evening.

ADMITS FALSE STATEMENT
Claimant to Alaskan Coal Lands Under Cross-Examination.
Cleveland, O., March 15.—For the second time during the inquiry into the Alaska coal claims, which has been conducted here, Clarence Cunningham, by whose name the claims are known, was forced by the federal attorneys to admit that he had made incorrect statements in documents which he had signed.
The first occasion occurred early in the hearing when Mr. Cunningham admitted that an affidavit which he had sworn to in regard to the interest of the Guggenheims in the claims was incorrect. At that time he claimed that the affidavit had been drawn up by Louis R. Glavis and that he had taken the word of the former government land agent for the statements contained in it.
At the final session of the hearing he was shown a copy of a letter written by him to the United States land agent at Juneau, Alaska, asking for maps of the district in which the coal claims lay and which were required before patents would be issued. In the letter Mr. Cunningham stated that he had seen the land commissioner for the district and that everything in connection with the claims was in order and correct. Under cross-examination he admitted that this was not an exact statement of the facts and that at that time he did not know the exact status of the situation.
It said that the language was "unfortunate," but that he had no intention of misleading.

Legend of St. Patrick.
St. Patrick was a holy man
And minstrel, too, of old
And bore on all his wanderings
A harp with strings of gold.
When Erin's heroes went to war
With sword and lance and shield
In early times they lacked a flag
To follow on the field.
So good St. Patrick took the leaves
Upon the willow tree
And stitched the emerald stripes to make
A banner broad and free.
But ere his task was done he heard
The trumpet's wild refrain
And called it to his golden harp
And joined the march again.
The banner of the willow leaves
Grew dry and fell to dust;
The strings that rang to battle songs
Were soon devoured by rust.
But still on Erin's ancient flag
The yellow'st tint is seen,
And still the legendary harp
Adorns its folds of green.

St. Patrick.
St. Patrick cleaned the audit sod up.
The devil had to give in.
He made grand old Ireland
A bully place to live in.
So let us pluck a shamrock green
In honor of his sway
And plant the patches for good luck
Upon St. Patrick's day.
