

How would it do to retire Cannon as a rear admiral?

Armored cruisers cost a pile of money, but then so does Armoured beef.

The leather trust's profits last year were $7,000,000. The consumer was strapped.

Good advice: Patronize the business men who advertise in The Alliance Herald.

There are a lot of other men besides Senator Aldrich who think they could run the government better than it is being conducted.

A special election was recently held at Neligh to vote on the adoption of the initiative and referendum as applied to city elections. The proposition carried by a vote of about four to one.

Query: What is the difference between a loyal democrat and an "insurgent" republican; and what is the difference between eastern reactionary democrats so-called, and the Aldrich-Cannon-Standard-Oil-Steel-Trust republicans?

We notice that the politicians of the Northwestern railroad have the newspapers along the line of that road in northwestern Nebraska pretty well lined up. When one of the aforesaid politicians takes snuff, most of the boys up that way sneeze.

In a recent issue of the Chadron Chronicle, it was announced that the Nebraska State Board of Education will meet at Chadron, April 4th. But since the injunction was served upon the members of the board, the date of meeting has been indefinitely postponed.

Our Lincoln Letter

Lincoln, Neb., March 30. (Special Correspondence.)—After duly considering the matter Edgar Howard has definitely announced that he will not be a candidate for the democratic congressional nomination in the third district. This means that congressman Latta will have no opposition for re-nomination and probably little for election.

The Lincoln Bryan Club celebrated the birthday of its patron on March 19th, the meeting being held at the Labor Temple in Lincoln. The speakers were Governor Shallenberger and Fred M. Shepherd. An orchestra furnished music and after the speaking refreshments were served in one of the large assembly halls. A large number attended the reception and the celebration was considered a great success.

Mayor Miles of Hastings has been persistently boomed by admiring friends as a republican candidate for governor acceptable to what is termed the "liberal element." This is taken as poaching upon the preserves of Representative Dan Killeen of Gage, the republican floor leader during the last session. Killeen has been industriously interviewing himself with a view to becoming a gubernatorial candidate with liberal tendencies.

The Normal school board appointed by Gov. Shallenberger and later declared unconstitutional by the supreme court, issued a number of state certificates before the court passed upon its legality. The secretary of the present board, Rev. Luther P. Ludden, has now notified Principal Crabtree of the Peru Normal that the certificates issued by the board ruled out of existence are not legal and that he must not recognize them. The holders of such certificates have been notified to appear before the proper authorities and take a new examination. Before the era of partisan courts it was often held that the acts of an official were legal providing they were performed while acting as such officer. In the Boyd-Thayer case Gov. Boyd was declared illegally in office by the state supreme court and Gov. Thayer reinstated. Later the United States supreme court ousted Thayer and re-instated Boyd. Yet there never was any question about the legality of the official actions of either while in possession of the office. It may be, however, that the present Normal school board, of which Rev. Luther P. Ludden seems to be the majority, is not amenable to the usual rules of jurisprudence.

News Snapshots Of the Week A train known as the "Billionaires' Special" left California for New York with six private cars carrying Andrew Carnegie, Mrs. Russell Sage, Edwin Gould and W. Seward Webb. John F. Klein, ex-Pittsburg alderman, on his way to penitentiary confessed, and as a result indictments against sixty Pittsburg officials have been returned for grafting. Eugene N. Foss, a Democrat, was elected congressman from a Boston Republican district on high cost of living platform. Superintendent of Insurance William Hotchkiss has uncovered a graft fund among fire insurance companies. The widows of Presidents Harrison and Cleveland will get $5,000 a year pension. President Taft, after a hard week of traveling, returned to Washington happy as a boy, he said. Mount Etna is active again.

Senator Tibbetts of Adams county was at the state house last week. When asked if there were any insurgents in his district he said: "Lots of them." Insurgents are republicans who know they ought to be fighting squarely for democratic principles, but after making a start in that direction get cold feet, fearing the discipline of the republican machine. Democrats are original thinkers, which explains why it is hard and even impossible to maintain rigid discipline in the democratic party. Men who refrain from thinking are easily disciplined.

Married

At 9 p. m., March 22nd, 1910, at the residence of the bride's mother 211 East Wyoming, Dr. Willis Coyle, of Lead, S. D., and Miss Lena Guterlet of this city, were married by the Rev. J. L. Vallow, of the M. E. Church.

Barber Shop Changes Hands

Charley Nation and Bates Copeland have purchased A. P. Brown's barber shop taking charge on Wednesday morning of this week, although Copeland will continue working at the Mounts & Vincel shop for a few days. The name of the new firm is Nation & Copeland. These gentlemen have a large acquaintance and are the kind of barbers that get customers, and we shall miss our guess if they fail to do a big business. Mr. Brown has been thinking of going to the coast, so we hear, but will continue working in the shop a few weeks, and we hope will decide during that time to remain in Alliance.
