Three Good Papers

Persons who are interested in progressive legislation, whether republican or democratic in party affiliations, ought to keep themselves abreast of the times by reading one or more of the leading progressive political papers. A local paper such as The Herald can publish only a limited amount on the subject of politics; but there are weekly publications that contain a larger amount of information on current political subjects that should be read extensively. There are some publications that are always on the side of the trusts; there are some that try to curry favor with both sides of the live issues of the present day; and there are some that can be relied upon to be always on the side of the people as against the trusts and special interests that are trying to dominate the politics of the country.
In the last named class there are three weekly publications in particular that we wish to mention: La Follette's Weekly Magazine, republican; The Commoner, democratic, edited by W. J. Bryan; and Collier's, independent. We have clubbing arrangements with La Follette's and The Commoner, and shall be pleased to receive subscriptions for either of these papers. The price of each is $1.00 per year. If taken in connection with The Herald we will make a reduction of 25 cents on the price of either of them. We have no clubbing arrangements with Collier's but will receive subscriptions for it and forward the same at the regular subscription price if requested so to do.

County Option League

To the People of the State of Nebraska:—The officers of the Nebraska County Option League deem it advisable to give a plain and concise statement to the public concerning the purposes and plans of the League.
The central purpose of this organization is to secure the nomination and election of a governor and legislature favorable to the principle of County Option.
The plan by which this can best be accomplished is thought to be that of organizing a local committee in each county and precinct, to be composed of men of all parties and creeds favorable to County Option; these committees to be charged with the duty and responsibility of securing the nomination and election of legislators pledged to the enactment of such a law.

We believe that the committees in each county should carry on the campaign in their own way, with only such guidance and assistance from the State organization as they may voluntarily request. We ask the local committees to report full details, including the names and addresses of their officers and members, to Secretary Frank A. Harrison, at Lincoln.

We wish this letter to be construed as the official request of the Nebraska County Option League for the immediate organization of the County Option workers in each county and precinct. It will be the purpose and aim of the State organization to so unify and direct the efforts of the local committees as to best bring about the passage by the next legislature and the signature by the next governor of Nebraska, of a rational and reasonable County Option bill.
E. L. Abbott, Pres.
Frank A. Harrison, Sec'y.
