Synopsis of Drama

The pupils of St. Agnes Academy will present a drama in the Phelan opera house Friday evening, June 17, for which tickets will be reserved at Holsten's drug store. Following is a synopsis of the drama:

The story of this drama is supposed to have happened at Para, Brazil, about the year 1662. The Portuguese have succeeded in making several permanent settlements throughout the country, and although comparatively tolerant to the native Indians, these were filled with hatred towards the invaders. In revenge for the loss of their possessions they concealed from the whites the medicinal properties of certain herbs and barks, which were the only remedies for various maladies peculiar to that climate. Among these was the Nheengaibe bark, or bark of the "Tree of Health," the only cure for the Sierra fever which at times raged mercilessly. At the time of our drama, Count Louis Geronimo Berreto was appointed Viceroy of the Para settlement. His wife, Dona Francesca Berreto, fell a victim to the fever. The Portuguese court ladies suspected Winona, an Indian maiden, who resided at the palace of having poisoned their mistress. They detected her in the very act of attempting to save her, which act, however, they interpreted as an endeavor to terminate Dona Francesca's existence. Accordingly, Winona was sentenced to be burned at the stake, when the Countess pleaded for her pardon. This generosity so touched the hearts of the Indians that they revealed the secret of the remedy and became converted to Christianity.

Long String of Fish

Roy Beckwith and G. F. Wilson returned Monday from a fishing excursion to lakes in the vicinity of King postoffice thirty miles north of Hyannis. They report having caught a string of two hundred fish. The well known veracity of these two gentlemen precludes the possibility of a doubt that they caught the number claimed, although there are always some people who smile dubiously when they hear a fish story.

Tone up Your Business

Whether you are selling peanuts or farms, automobiles or hairpins, or are engaged in any other legitimate business, an advertisement in The Herald will do your business good. A "square deal" for every patron is our aim. A uniform price is charged all advertisers, but no advertisements for mail order houses accepted. We decline the advertisements of mail order houses for the reason that we believe our home advertisers deserve the patronage of our readers, and for the further reason that we do not believe mail order houses are as reliable as the home merchants.

We are confident that as a rule the goods sold by the city mail order houses will not measure up to the descriptions or fill the claims made for them, as well as the goods sold by the local merchants. We do not believe there is a merchant who advertises in The Herald but what would gladly compare his goods with those sold by Rears Sowback & Co. or any other house doing business on their system.

A little string, a little hook, a little boy, a little brook, a little dog, a little log, a little frog in a little bog. Turn back the years your youth appears, its joys, its fears, stubbed toes and tears. Life's but a span from boy to man, why not enjoy it while we can. The end will come as a broken thread, we're sure to be a long time dead.—Stuart Advocate.

If any of our young readers are ambitious to secure positions in banks and business offices we advise them to write the Grand Island Business and Normal College, Grand Island, Neb., at once. This college will admit young men and women from the farms and villages and no fees are to be paid until the student graduates and earns the money. It is one of the largest and most prosperous Business Colleges in the United States.

Miss Ethel Miller left for her home at Alliance Sunday after about a week's visit with friends in this city.—Crawford Tribune.

WHEN THE PRICE WOULD APPEAR ATTRACTIVE THE QUALITY, PERHAPS, HAS BEEN SACRIFICED

There is no risk taken when you buy a CHICKERING SON (Boston), IVERS & POND, PACKARD, KURTZMANN, STERLING, KOHLER & CAMPBELL, HARVARD, HUNTINGTON, besides a number of less expensive Pianos that may be seen on our floors and are regarded as leaders in their respective grades. YEARS FROM NOW you would regard the price of the Piano you purchased now as small if then you FOUND that you had in your home a Piano that had proven satisfactory. Time alone will demonstrate the musical value of a good Piano and the honor of the house that sells

Our aim has always been to sell the class of Pianos that would secure for us the confidence and esteem of the public. No Piano concern can produce a better asset than a satisfied community of buyers, and we are in Alliance to stay. Call and see us in our new quarters, Brennan's old drug store, opposite postoffice
