RAILWAY NOTES AND PERSONALS

Brakeman Emery is enjoying a visit from his wife.

No. 44 was five hours late Wednesday. Late off of the N. P.

Mrs. Don Wagner returned Monday from a short trip to Colorado.

Flagman Fred Vaughn was off two trips this week owing to sickness.

Fireman F. J. Mahoney has been transferred to the east end local.

Conductor James Gaddis of Ravenna came in on No. 43 Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Metz and son returned Sunday morning from their trip east.

Fireman L. W. Park has been transferred to the Denver line and will make his home in Sterling.

Brakeman C. G. Smith was taken to the hospital Monday morning. He is suffering a severe attack of pneumonia.

Brakeman J. W. Cartle has asked for a thirty days lay off beginning June 18, but he is not going to get married.

Con. George Young has been off several days resting up from the arduous duties incident to running a train.

Firemen C. W. Crabtree and F. W. Perkins have severed their connection with the Burlington and gone to Denver.

Conductor J. S. Ward has asked for a lay off commencing June 20 good for thirty days. Con. Clyde Bullock has also asked for leave of absence a little later in the month.

Word from the bedside of Brakeman Smith, who is confined to the hospital with pneumonia, is that he is a very sick boy. His friends hope that with the fine medical attention and good nursing he is receiving he will be on the road to recovery soon.

Con. Rad Randall was taken very sick on his local run west Wednesday morning. An extra conductor was dead headed up to take his train and Randall came in on No. 44.

Brakeman R. F. Morgan met with a thrilling experience with tramps three miles west of Marsland. When going over his train he found two tramps in an empty box car. They made an unexpected attack and threw him out of the car. Fortunately they were going slow up the hill so Morgan jumped up and caught the way car. He was too mad to know that he was pretty badly bruised up. The conductor and Morgan took a couple of brake clubs and climbed over to the car occupied by the hobos. The last seen of them they were sitting by the track nursing two sore heads.

Brakeman L. E. Dyer had a very narrow escape from death June 13 at 1 p. m. Extra 3113 west in charge of Con. Fred Campbell was pulling out of the Alliance yards. On account of slack running out Dyer was thrown from the top of a car about forty cars from the engine. With the thought in his mind that it would be death to him if he struck the ground on his head he grabbed the brake wheel and turned himself enough to fall on his right leg breaking one bone between the knee and ankle. He got up and took three or four steps before he realized he was hurt. He is now in the Alliance hospital receiving the best of care. He tells everybody cheerfully, "I am getting along fine and thankful it was no worse."

Lost—Silk umbrella, ivory, "Lady and the Tiger" head, lost in Alliance, Tuesday, June 14th. Owner values highly on account of it having been a present to him. Finder will receive a suitable reward by leaving at The Herald office.

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS

Mrs. A. Wiker has our thanks for a year's advance subscription to The Herald.

Rev. I. E. Nolte left Monday on his motorcycle for Rushville, expecting to return today.

Mrs. R. B. Monfort arrived again in Alliance after several week's visit with relatives in Ohio.

Sheriff New of Rushville stopped in Alliance Saturday on his return from an official trip to Lincoln.

If you are needing a typewriter, call at The Herald office and see the Oliver, and get price and terms.

The name of Mrs. H. E. Fisher, Burlington, Wash., was added to The Herald's subscription list last week.

C. W. Gillin of the Gillins' Land Agency, Sioux City, is attending to Box Butte county business this week.

C. F. Jeffrey, Allen, Nebr., is interested in Box Butte county and sends a dollar and a half to secure the news through The Herald.

A. L. Warren of Dunlap, Iowa, was prospecting in this part of Nebraska last week with a view to securing a Kinkaid claim if possible.

Rev. J. L. Vallow and Rev. I. E. Nolte are attending a ministerial association at Rushville this week. They expect to return before Sunday.

John Beutler and James Kennedy, two of our Canton subscribers, made The Herald office a friendly call last Friday, accompanied by Fred Eckert.

County Supt. H. R. Dellinger of Hyannis is one of The Herald's teacher subscribers who have favored us with a call since the opening of the Junior Normal.

The new cement sidewalk in front of Holsten's drug store and McClellan's dry goods store is an improvement over the old walk that was removed the first of the week.

F. L. Gallagher of Rosalie, Nebr., was in Alliance the first of the week interviewing some of our real estate men with a view to investing in Box Butte county soil.

The largest line of legal blanks in northwestern Nebraska is carried in stock at The Herald office. Customers in neighboring towns supplied by mail, postage prepaid, at Omaha prices.

Sam Switzer of Casper, Wyo., is one of a number of Herald subscribers outside of Box Butte county who have remembered The Herald with subscription money within the last few days.

L. E. Stouffer came in from his place seventeen miles west of town Saturday to transact business, a part of which was to set himself ahead on subscription to his favorite paper, The Herald.

Samuel Von Crosigh of Bingham is now a patient in the Alliance hospital. He was brought here last Friday, suffering from a severe case of pleurisy, but we are glad to say he is slowly improving.

J. F. Carey of Alliance, the Western Nebraska agent of the Monarch Coal Co. of Wyoming, was in Crawford Tuesday looking for a new representative of the company. — Crawford Courier.

Gov. Shallenberger made a fine address at the opening of the teachers institute Monday morning in the Presbyterian church as did also Hon. J. J. Tooley of Anselmo. — Broken Bow Republican.

Rev. J. M. Huston is attending the Northwestern Baptist Association at Chadron this week. It is expected that quite a large delegation will be in attendance from Alliance the latter part of the week.

C. E. Bullock left on 44 yesterday for Liberty, Mo., to which place he was summoned as a witness in a railroad law suit. He will visit in eastern Nebraska before his return, which will be about July 4th.

Last week we intended to mention the arrival from Lincoln of W. H. Cunn, the piano tuner, whose announcement appeared in The Herald. He is a musician and is a welcome addition to the musical talent of this city.

J. A. Keegan, himself an old newspaper man, likes to see a subscription contest go right. Although paid nearly a year ahead, he pays another year's subscription and gives one of the contestants a hundred and fifty votes.

Rev. Benj. Kuhler arrived home this morning from Hemingford, where he went last week to assist in the dedicatory services of the new M. E. church at that place. This was Rev. Kuhler's charge before coming here. — Gordon Journal.

W. M. Robinson, manager of the Bennett Piano company, is attending to business for the company in this part of Nebraska this week, and incidentally looking after his personal interests by driving out to his Box Butte county farm Tuesday.

The Ladies of the Maccabees will hold a dance in the Phelan Opera House, Monday evening, June 20. Come all and have a good time. Good music. The Ladies are putting forth every effort to make this a pleasant evening for all who will attend. Committee.

Prospects are now good for a big crowd in Alliance one week from today, on account of the big Sells-Floto shows that are to be here on that day. These shows are one of the biggest in America, in fact it is claimed to be the biggest twenty-five cent show on the road, and we miss our guess if the town isn't full of people on the 23rd of this month.

Mrs. Nettie Westly came in from the ranch last Saturday to transact business, and favored The Herald office with a call. Notwithstanding her advancing years, we are pleased to note that she appears to be enjoying good health.

Miss Verna Brown of New York arrived Sunday to make her sister, Mrs. R. E. Murry, a visit. Miss Brown has recently recovered from a severe illness. She expresses herself as delighted with this western country and climate and is planning to spend the summer here.

Chas. W. Grassman, foreman at the Burlington machine shops, has purchased a fine Concord piano of T. J. Threlkeld, the same being delivered this week, so that the girls who are now large enough to take music lessons can devote a part of their time to the piano, as well as taking care of the baby brother who arrived last week.

Seventeen cents a day will pay for an Oliver typewriter, latest model. This is only a little more than a typewriter rents for, and the use of one of these machines is worth that amount in almost any home, and much more than that in an office. For price, terms, etc., call at The Herald office.

Prof. E. P. Wilson of the city schools left the first of the week for Alliance where he will spend his summer vacation as an instructor in the summer normal at that place. Mr. Wilson is one of the best known educators of the state and taught last year in the summer normal at Valentine. — Chadron Chronicle.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Tully and their son Lloyd came over from Alliance Saturday evening. Mrs. Tully and Lloyd stopped off here while Charley went to Ainsworth to see some cattle he has south of there. He returned here Sunday night and they visited until Tuesday afternoon with their Rushville friends. — Crawford Recorder.

The following Sioux county teachers are attending the Junior Normal at Alliance: Mabel Bigelow, Gertrude Converse, Anton E. Larson, Matilda Noreisch, Fay Wickersham, Mabel Zerbe, of Harrison; Mrs. Anna Denton, of Hope; Sarah Hamilton, of Adelia; Clara Mortensen, of Glen; Minnie Ring, of Story; Grace Sheets, of Andrews. — Harrison Sun.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Betebenner and three children, left Alliance last Saturday to seek a location in a lower altitude, owing to Mr. Betebenner's failing health. They went first to Broken Bow, where they will visit friends, thence will probably go to Ravenna, and may visit in Wisconsin and also Kansas before the close of the summer. Much as they enjoyed living in Alliance they will probably not return to make their home here on account of the altitude being higher than they wish. We regret to lose them as citizens but are pleased that the oldest son, Harry, will remain here, having a position as salesman with the Famous Clothing Co.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Guy Miller, June 12, 1910, a girl.

Will feed and take care of horses through 4th of July celebration, Stockmen's convention, at Spry's barn.

Geo. Darling left on 42 yesterday morning for Grand Island, where he is attending the state convention of funeral directors.

D. P. Miller of Cumberland, Md., who has been advertising two quarter sections of land for sale in The Herald, writes us: "I have had a number of replies thereto, and hope the fruit will ripen."

Anticipating more horses in Alliance during the 4th of July celebration and stockmen's convention than can be handled by the livery barns, Simon Spry has decided to feed at his barn, as will be seen by his notice in another column.

The early morning flushing of the streets in the main business part of the city makes it much more pleasant for the merchants and other business men of Alliance, as well as their customers. The flushing was not needed this morning on account of the rain last night.

In changing the time of printing from Thursday evening to morning we find it difficult for a while to get our news items, as well as advertising, lined up as we wish to, consequently we are leaving out this week some news and advertising that we wish very much were not omitted.

Mrs. Agnes T. Boyer of North Platte, deputy supreme commander for the Ladies of the Maccabees of the World, has been doing a good deal of work in Alliance during the last few weeks, and will remain here until next Tuesday. She has initiated three classes already, the last of the three being taken in last evening. Mrs. Boyer, like most persons engaged in public work, realizes the value of neat printing and has ordered a good supply of cards at The Herald office.

Z. F. Brown of Plattsmouth, a coach painter who has been in the employ of the Burlington since 1882, has been offered a transfer to Alliance, and was in this city last Saturday, prospecting with a view to accepting the offer. Mrs. Brown will come to Alliance soon to spend a few days, and if she is as well pleased with the city and this climate as her husband was, they will make their home here. By the way, Mrs. Brown was a schoolmate in her girlhood days of Mrs. F. E. Reddish, and coming to this city will not be altogether like going among strangers.

Money to loan on real estate. F. E. Reddish.
