Announcement

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for State Representative of the 53rd representative district of Nebraska, subject to the Primaries of the Democratic and People's Independent Parties to be held Aug. 16, 1910.

J. A. ROBERTSON.

We're glad it didn't happen at Reno, Nebr.

After which comes the big Box Butte county fair, Sept. 21, 22 and 23, 1910.

A great many San Francisco people were bitter in their denunciation of the governor of California because he forbid the Johnson-Jeffries mill to disgrace that state, but it is probable that some of them are now glad that he did it. After all, we're glad it didn't happen in Nebraska.

One of the most hopeful signs of the times in political affairs is the pronounced tendency among leading statesmen, who are laboring for the good of the mass of the people, to endeavor to secure needed reforms by means of nonpartisan efforts. One of the best things about direct legislation is that it is nonpartisan in its working. That is one reason why direct legislation is so detested by party bosses and political schemers and tricksters, and so much in favor with men of all parties who have the interest of the country at heart.

The Alliance Herald To the Front

The Herald never before had a better organization for getting out a first-class newspaper and giving satisfactory service in doing job printing than it has right now. The addition to our force of Lloyd C. Thomas as business manager and Mrs. L. C. Thomas as bookkeeper and stenographer gives us the help that the paper has needed most recently, and assures success in every way.

Briefly stated The Herald's line-up as follows:

The editor, who homesteaded in Nebraska twenty-five years ago, is thoroughly familiar with the state. A reasonable degree of modesty forbids us saying anything too commendatory in this article, but we venture to say that many years' experience in newspaper and school work should be some help in conducting the editorial part of the leading paper of this part of the state.

In regard to the business management, those who are acquainted with Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd C. Thomas will agree with us that under their efficient work the business will be placed on a basis that will enable us to push the circulation and increase the usefulness of The Herald as never before.

In the mechanical (or printing) department we have a force that for efficiency is not second to that of any similar printing office in Nebraska, so far as we know. Fortunately for us, we have a reserve force that we can draw on in emergencies that enables us to get out work that it would otherwise be impossible at times to handle.

In addition to the above, improvements are soon to be made in the office equipment that will help us in getting up a larger amount of local news than ever before. The principal one of these improvements is to be a typesetting machine of the latest pattern.

JOHNSON IS VICTOR

Knocks Jeffries Out Completely in the Fifteenth Round.

FIGHT ONE-SIDED FROM START.

Former Champion's Blows Are Blocked by Black Pugilist, Who Deals Out Severe Punishment in Last Five Rounds—Jeff Doesn't Have Look-In After Thirteenth.

George Harting, official timekeeper, made the following statement: "Time was called at 2:45 p. m. The fight lasted fifteen rounds. The time for the last round was 2:27. The fight was stopped at 3:41. In the fifteenth round there were three knock-downs. The first two of these were each of nine seconds' duration. The last one was eight seconds. Then Jeffries' seconds rushed in and the referee gave the decision to Johnson. There is no doubt that independent of this Jeffries would have been counted out."

Reno, Nev., July 5.—Jack Johnson is still the world's heavyweight champion. He defeated James J. Jeffries in the fifteenth round here.

The fight was one-sided from the start. The negro blocked the old champion's blows at every stage of the game and punished him severely in the last five rounds of the fighting.

At the beginning of the thirteenth round the experts at the ringside passed the verdict that if Jeffries would simply stand and not fight he might stay the limit. As they came up for the fifteenth round Johnson went at his man savagely. He sent Jeff down the first time with a rain of lefts and rights to the jaw, and Jeff took the count of eight twice. Each time Jeff fell outside the lower ropes on the platform.

As Jeff staggered to a foothold after the third time he had been sent to the floor Johnson sprang at him like a tiger, and with a succession of lefts and rights to the jaw sent him down and out. As Jeff was helped to his corner he said:

Crowd Breaks Through Ropes.

"I am not a good fighter any longer. I could not come back, boys; I couldn't come back. Ask Johnson if he will give me his gloves."

As Jeff hung through the ropes, a hundred of his friends and admirers rushed close and cried: "Don't let the old man get knocked out; stop it." But the timekeeper's inexorable count went on to the fatal ten.

When the count of seven had been reached at least a hundred people broke through the ropes and Harting was screened from the ring by the crowd. The confusion was so great that no announcement from the ring officials was audible.

Jeffries was picked up by his brother, Jack, and Corbett and carried back to his corner, still in a dazed condition. Johnson stood in the center of the ring and received the congratulations of Billy Delaney and his other seconds. As he talked to Delaney he was breathing absolutely normal.

Sig Hart said to the champion: "Go over and shake hands with the poor fellow."

Jack said:

"I don't owe him anything now."

Later he went to the Jeff corner, but Jim Corbett and Jack O'Brien waved him away. Then he returned to his own corner. The crowd was so dense that the police had to keep the people back.

Jeffries was taken to Moana Springs. The people tore the ring to pieces as souvenirs. In five minutes ropes, canvas and mats had vanished as if swept by a hurricane.

BRITISH WARSHIP MANEUVERS

Three Hundred Start Summer Campaign Off South Coast.

Plymouth, Eng., July 5.—Approximately 300 British fighting ships, with an aggregate displacement of more than 1,000,000 tons, began summer maneuvers off the south coast.

Although strict secrecy is maintained concerning the program, it is believed the Atlantic fleet and the fully commissioned divisions of the home fleet will be combined against the reserve ships of the home fleet and the Mediterranean fleet.

The combined fleet includes seven Broadboughts, three Invincibles, thirty-two other battleships, twenty-two armored cruisers and a miscellaneous collection of torpedo boat, destroyers, submarines, scouts, mine layers and depot, repair and hospital ships.
