DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION AT GRAND ISLAND PROUD OF RECORD OF SHALLENBERGER.

DOUGLAS COUNTY SULKS ALONE

No Longer Any Controversy Among Democrats on the Demand for Shallenberger's Renomination.

The Democratic State Convention at Grand Island endorsed the administration of Governor Shallenberger in the following words:

"We approve and endorse the administration of Ashton C. Shallenberger. His acts have been honest, wise and patriotic. We invite a careful scrutiny of the executive power which two years ago was committed to our trust in his selection as governor. His administration has been one of fidelity and devotion to the party pledges upon which we invited the suffrages of the people."

This strong endorsement has the approbation and approval of 90 per cent of the people of the state, irrespective of politics. His administration as governor has been such that republicans have not been able to find anything to censure in it and because of this their platform is silent.

The democratic state convention of 1909 unanimously endorsed the administration of Governor Shallenberger. The democratic state convention of 1910 again unanimously, with the exception of Douglas county, endorsed it. Practically every democratic county convention in the state endorsed it unanimously. In the face of these endorsements, the liquor and other "interests" have forced the governor into a fight for a renomination. They are now doing and have done everything possible to harass and humiliate the governor. They have undertaken to brow-beat and bulldoze him. The reason for their action is plain: they cannot use him, therefore they attempt to destroy him.

What the "interests" opposing Governor Shallenberger want is a license to violate law. At the present time, they are appealing to men of all political parties to vote for Dahlgren for governor. A man who had the impudence to stand up at a democratic convention and tell the party of Jefferson that he would use the veto power to block liquor legislation passed by a majority of the people. These interests know that Governor Shallenberger is the choice of 85 per cent of the democrats of the state. They know that it is necessary to get the corrupt vote of the republican party to assist them in the dastardly act of sand-bagging the governor of the state for doing his duty. By this means they hope to thwart and defeat the will of the great body of decent democrats of Nebraska.

The people of this state will not permit the liquor interests to run it. The democratic party wants to renominate the best governor Nebraska ever had. They want a man in the governor's office who will not permit the democratic party to be the lick-spittle servant of the liquor and other "interests." They want a man in that office who will be fair with everyone, but will enforce the laws. They want a man in that office who has respect for the will of the majority.

If the liquor interests nominate their democratic candidate, it will make the democratic party the vile and corrupt asset of the liquor interests, to be traded with the republican leaders at Omaha. The rank and file of the democratic party in this state should rise in their might and go to the primary on August 16 and make the majority for Governor Shallenberger so pronounced that no brewery or other selfish "interests" will ever again undertake to dictate to a democratic executive.

The democratic state convention has endorsed every act of Governor Shallenberger's and in particular the so-called "eight o'clock closing law." The people on August 16 should place their seal of approbation on the endorsement of the convention. Governor Shallenberger, by every rule of fairness, is entitled to a second nomination. Justice and fair play has been, and should be, the rule in the democratic party. Instead of having to fight for a renomination, all good democrats should be holding up his hands.

If the rural democracy will do its duty, it will demonstrate to this state that the liquor interests do not control the democratic party.

The question in this primary is: Can Dahlgren with the political machinery of the city of Omaha and five breweries run the state?

GOVERNMENT BY MONEY

It cost Joseph C. Sibley $40,698.83 to win the Republican nomination for Congress in the twenty-eighth district of Pennsylvania. Mr. Sibley received 10,446 votes at the primaries, and each vote represented an expenditure of nearly $4. As his plurality was only 689 it is fair to say that his nomination was brought about by the sheer power of money.

At the primaries in the thirteenth district of Pennsylvania John Dazell spent $9,200, most of which was contributed by protected manufacturers. The combined expenditures of Sibley and Dazell in these two districts were nearly $50,000. Their combined salaries as representatives in Congress for two years will be only $30,000. Their nominations, therefore, cost almost $20,000 more than the emoluments of their office, exclusive of mileage and stationary allowances.

Contributions to the party of revision upward is a paying business investment, particularly to the tariff trusts.

Men will always pay thousands to politicians or to party funds in the hope of getting back millions. Make the tariff one for revenue only, and you can cut off a leading cause of political dishonesty and corruption.

THE DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN

The democrats need gain but twenty-two seats in the next house of representatives to obtain a numerical majority.

The present republican majority is forty-three. At least eighteen republicans hold their seats by a margin of less than 1,000 votes.

Twenty-nine republican seats in the present house of representatives are held by less than 2,000 votes.

Every local democratic committee has a heavy responsibility. The character of the nominee in every district is supremely important. Democracy can not challenge the enemy with weak or colorless candidates. The people want absolute assurance that the men they vote for will stand four square when the first real test comes in organizing the next congress.

Democratic candidates must stand on an unequivocal platform of real tariff revision.

The democratic party, through both national and local organizations, must be prepared to shoulder full responsibility for removing tariff burdens from the people.

The democrats have a real issue to carry them to victory, and can lose only by failure to grasp its significance.

Married on "The Table"

On Tuesday evening, Ralph E. Golden and Miss Edith Robbins, both of Dawes county, were united in the sacred bonds of matrimony. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's father, about twenty miles southwest of Chadron. Rev. H. J. Bryce officiating.

The happy couple will make their home about forty miles from Alliance.
