A party consisting of Mrs. Geo. Reed, Misses Leah Reed, Laura and Lottie Dunlap, and Katie O'Donnell left this morning for a visit with friends at Hot Springs.

There are many ladies who have been wishing that they had the opportunity to take sewing lessons. Sewing is an art and schools which teach it are always well patronized. Mrs. M. J. Williams, who was a resident of Alliance several years ago will open up a sewing school on August 15th. She comes highly recommended.

John Adams of The Herald force left Tuesday morning for a trip to eastern points. He will stop at Omaha, Carroll, Iowa, and other points to visit with relatives, expecting to be gone about a month. The Herald force is speculating on whether "Nan" will keep in single blessedness while gone or if they will have the sorrowful spectacle of seeing him return a benedict.

F. H. Brooks of Ashby was in Alliance recently as a witness in a contest case, and called at The Herald office to order the paper sent to him. Others here at that time as witnesses or otherwise connected with the case were P. A. Yeast, Eli Rentfro, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Olson, Dean Rentfro, John Cameron, Henry Krukenberg, George Thomas, Mr. Bell, Sr., and D. Bell, all of Bingham.

West Third Street (formerly Wyoming Avenue) is getting to be a busy part of town. The new Land Office Building which has just been built by J. C. McCorkle, and the new Wood building for which excavating is now being done will help this part of town considerably. This locality was originally the main business part of town and from the present outlook it will not be long before it rivals Box Butte Avenue as a business street.

The Alliance Herald is guaranteed to have the largest circulation of any newspaper in western Nebraska, and this circulation is steadily increasing day after day. New subscriptions are coming in by the dozen. We find it necessary to print two hundred more copies per issue than we did ninety days ago. Surely nothing else could be a better indication of the constant growth in the subscription list.

The Alliance bottling works, known as the Golden Rod Bottling works, which was started several years ago by "Dad" Harrison, now deceased, and more recently owned by Clarence Brunell and Vern Dundas, has been sold to a company composed of J. R. McKinney, Vern Dundas and H. F. Thiele. The company is to be incorporated and will be known under the same name. The business of these works has been steadily growing as the goods and the company become better known until a business covering all of western Nebraska and surrounding territory in other states has been established.

The Senior L. T. L. held its regular meeting August 8th at the home of Webster and Anna Bernhardt. The regular business was transacted after which a social hour was enjoyed. The next meeting will be held August 22, at the home of Jay Vance. A mock city government has been formed, with Webster Bernhardt as mayor. At the next meeting a saloon petition is to be brought before the council and the case decided upon whether or not this mock city shall have a saloon. A regular saloon fight is promised and all are invited to attend.

The Methodist church was crowded both morning and evening to hear the Rev. J. L. B. Jones who arrived last week, as stated in The Herald. His addresses were attentively listened to and the coming year of his pastorate here is an assured success. The Sunday School in the morning was deeply touching to him because of the many flowers which were brought as a sign of welcome to him. Special music was rendered at the services and good judgement was shown by Mrs. C. C. Smith, who has charge of the choir, in her selection. The new Epworth League piano is put to good use in the services and is certainly appreciated by all. Those in the choir Sunday were Mrs. G. J. Rosseau, Miss Dorothy Hoag, Ralph Thomas, Lloyd Smith, and Harry Troup. Miss Ruth Aspenwall was the pianist.

Charles Ewing, who has the contract for cutting and stacking hay on the Robert Graham ranch south of Alliance was seriously hurt by the accidental discharge of a rifle the first of the week. The rifle was leaning against the cook shanty and he was working near it. In some manner the gun was knocked over and discharged and although the bullet did not seem to strike his knee the concussion broke the knee cap. He was brought to Alliance and attended by Dr. Bellwood. He will probably be around again as soon as the wound has time to heal. No serious results are anticipated.

Wm. R. Ross, a stenographer, arrived Tuesday from Sheridan and will

A special feature of the meeting will be music by a union chorus choir selected from the churches of the city. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Does Advertising Pay?

Marcus Frankle, the proprietor of the Famous One-Price Clothing House, which is now having the eighth annual clearance sale, says that advertising pays and practices what he preaches. "But," he says, "you must put up the goods to back your ad. It don't pay to advertise something that you haven't got." Mr. Frankle has built up a big business for the "daylight store" through advertising and "daylight methods." He sells at city prices and operates only on the one-price system. He says that it pays him to guarantee everything, no matter whether it is sold at a sale or not and can only do this by carrying standard lines of goods.

Land Office Notes

Land office notes will be a regular feature of The Herald, which is crowded out this week owing to a large amount of advertising being received too late to issue an extra four-page section.
