Washington Letter.

BY TAVENNER.

Washington, Sept. 10.—Spending nearly $200,000 a day more than it took in, the government closed the month of August with a deficit approximating $5,000,000, which is indicative of a deficit of $60,000,000 for this fiscal year, as against a deficit of $19,480,752.43 for the last fiscal year.

This deficit was due to two principal causes:

First: The unparalleled extravagance of the standpat faction of the republican party, which is in control of the government.

Second: Failure of the Payne-Adrich tariff law to produce sufficient revenue to meet the expenses of the government.

Excess of expenditures over receipts is not new in the history of the party now in power. For three or four years now the government has been closing its books each night facing a big deficit in the day's business. But the average American does not know this. While there would be no justification for stating in this dispatch that the big press associations misstate the facts, there is ample justification for saying that the facts are so stated that the average man does not understand them.

For instance, the statement of the treasury issued at the close of business Aug. 27, shows that the excess of expenditures over receipts for July and the first 27 days of August, 1910, amounted to $14,431,727.34, or an average deficit of $286,634.54 for each banking day in that period. No one could possibly so understand the situation, which invariably gave the administration side of the government finances.

If a business firm should spend more money than it took in, day after day, week after week, month after month, and year after year, it is but natural to assume that the stockholders would demand a new management. Yet the men in charge of the government have for years been able to overspend the receipts without having been called to account by the public.

THE 1910 CAMPAIGN BOOK.

Every democratic worker in the country should have a copy of the 1910 Democratic Campaign book, which is without doubt the best handbook on the tariff now in print. One of the unusual features of the book, as contrasted with past campaign books, is its utilization of Republican utterances to sustain Democratic arguments. Thirty-six of the 515 pages are made up exclusively of speeches by Republicans, who take the same position on the big 1910 issues as the Democratic leaders. The committee is asking $1 for the book, which goes toward defraying expenses of the Democratic Congressional committee. Not having been favored with contributions by the great industrial concerns of the country, the Democratic committee must rely largely upon contributions from the people. Those who are really unable to contribute $1 to the campaign fund, however, may secure a copy of the campaign book free. Contributions and requests for the book should be addressed to the Hon. James T. Lloyd, chairman of the National Democratic Congressional committee, Washington, D. C.

Bill Becker Back in Business

E. Becker, commonly known as "Bill," is one of the best known restaurant and cafe men in this part of Nebraska, and his many Alliance friends are pleased that he has gone into that business again. Having purchased the cafe at 211 Box Butte avenue of Mrs. Burkett, he took a few days in fixing it up, painting, etc., and last week opened for business, which starts out well, as might be expected under his management. "Bill" is noted for keeping a good place to get a short order or square meal, and never fails to have good trade.

Musical Postponed

On account of conflicting with other entertainments, the Musical to be given by the Epworth League next Friday evening has been postponed until Monday, September 19th. The last Musical was a big success and it is expected that as there is nothing to conflict on Monday the church will be packed to hear the programs which are proving so popular.

A WONDERFUL NEWS SERVICE

Have you ever paused to think what a marvelous organization must be necessary to lay before you each day an accurate account of the happenings of yesterday in Europe, Asia, Africa, South America, Australia, the islands of the sea and the whole expanse of our own continent, all in a single newspaper? The intricate network of cables and telegraph lines, the complicated chain of news-gathering agencies stretching across continents and oceans, the innumerable reporters working daily for you under tropic suns and over arctic snows—have you ever felt the romantic thrill of it all in reading a great modern newspaper such as THE CHICAGO RECORD-HERALD? We mention this paper especially because of the completeness of its domestic and foreign news service. It has a correspondent in every town or city of importance in the United States, a veritable army of them in all. In addition it has the benefit of the foreign news service of the New York Herald, famous for its world wide cable system and for the reliability of its foreign news; also that of the New York World and the New York Journal of Commerce, besides that of the great co-operative news-gathering organization, the Associated Press. With such a vast and complete news service it is not strange that THE RECORD-HERALD so easily holds its own as one of the great newspapers of the world.

The new residence of T. H. Barnes in the northwest part of town is progressing rapidly and it is expected that it will be completed in the near future.

In Memoriam

THE LATE M. A. SHAY

Died, at his home in our city, M. A. Shay, aged fifty-one years.

It was our good fortune to have known him long and well, and we knew him to esteem him more highly as the years passed by. Today we miss his kindly smile and friendly greeting; we long in vain to hear the ring of his jovial laughter and to feel again his genial presence. Only yesterday we sat before his bier in the church near the scene of his happy days. We stood by his open grave as the last sad rites were performed, and as the clay of earth closed above his silent resting place, we said with the poet: "Cold in the dust the perished heart may lie, but that which warmed it once can never die."

He was a devoted husband and a kind and indulgent father; to his sisters a tender brother; to his friends the soul of fellowship. But the greatest of all was he as a man.

In the year 1884 he moved to Boone county, Nebraska, from his boyhood home in Wisconsin. The following year he settled in Box Butte county. He was married to Miss Ellen Riley, at Nonpariel, in 1888. He leaves to mourn him, a widow; Mrs. Mellie Agnes Shay; daughter, Margaret Ellen Shay; son, John Ambrose Shay, and sisters, Mrs. Sweeney, of Arena, Wis., and Mrs. Lynch of Algona, Iowa.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Fr. McNamara at the Holy Rosary church Wednesday morning. Interment was made at the Catholic cemetery.

Not for him our tears! Rather let us crown his grave with garlands; few of us will live as long or as well, and fewer yet will the Angel of Death greet with such a loving touch.

Entire new stock, up-to-date clothes at Phil Piper's Palace for Men.

J. C. Barry, for some time manager of the Forest Lumber Company branch in this city, left for Denver Wednesday where he expects to locate.

Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Pisel, of Spade, Nebraska, have been visiting for a few days with E. Reeves, of Alliance. Mr. Reeves and Pisel have been friends for thirty years and have pioneered in western Nebraska together.

A. F. Baldrige, with law offices in the McCorkle Block, has added a fine law library of several hundred volumes to his well equipped office.

The Savings Department of the First National Bank is proving more popular every day and the volume of business transacted by this department is surprising. This is filling a long-felt want in Alliance.

St. Agnes academy is becoming one of the leading schools of the west. They now have sixty regular boarders and day pupils. The Commercial Department, under the direction of Sister Winifred is doing very good work and fills a long felt want in Alliance. We predict a great future for this department as well as the entire schools.

R. Gold, a Burlington man who lives in Alliance, was hailed outside the Herald office Tuesday with the finest bunch of speckled and rainbow trout we have seen for a long time. There were nine in the bunch and they weighed from one-half pound up to a pound and one-half. Mr. Gold caught them in the White River at Andrews, Nebraska.

Good printing and good advertising run hand in hand—both are investments, not expense. Good printing is good advertising. Advertising that otherwise is good at once becomes bad when it is put in type poorly displayed, or paper that lacks taste and quality. The Herald employs only expert printers who are always on the job.

Anyone having clothing of any kind which they do not care to keep, and which they desire to put to good use, will confer a favor by phoning Mrs. W. H. Zebrung, phone 287, Supt. of Mercy and Help Department Alliance Epworth League, or Mrs. S. K. Warrick, phone 102, Supt. Mercy and Help Department Alliance W. C. T. U. This clothing will be used in helping the poor of Alliance this winter. tf.

M. D. Nichols has moved back to Alliance from Sheridan, Wyo., and has again taken charge of his shoe shop at the Alliance Cash Shoe store, and his brother, I. D., left last Friday morning for Sheridan to take charge of the shop there. Mr. Nichols' shops at both places are equipped with the Champion shoe repairing machines. He informs The Herald readers about the Alliance shop through our "Want Ad" department.
