Modern Shopping

It is the wise housekeeper who has a Bell Telephone. She finds that it is as useful in the home as in her husband's place of business. The time of personal shopping and long trips is past, for the Belle Telephone has taken their place.

Modern methods of social and business life demand that your telephone shall be connected with telephones all over the country. Every Bell telephone is connected with five million others. That should convince you of the value of its service.

Obituary

The death of Mrs. Mabel Taylor Wilson occurred at her home, one mile east of Reno, Nebr., Sept. 15, 1910, after only a few days' illness. She was born Jan. 14, 1870, at Des Moines, Ia., where she grew to young womanhood.

She was educated in the public schools of Des Moines and the state normal of Cedar Falls, Ia. She became an efficient teacher and taught in the public schools of that state fourteen years.

She was married Oct. 11, 1904, at Granger, Ia., to W. G. Wilson of Antioch, Nebr. To this union four children were born, of whom two preceded her to that better land.

Those left to mourn her demise are a husband, daughter Mabel Louise, three years old, an infant baby boy (for whom she gave her life), a mother, brothers and sisters (mentioned below), and a host of friends who will greatly mourn the loss of a wife, mother, sister and friend.

She was the fifth of eleven children born to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Taylor, of whom the following named seven are still living: Warren Taylor of Des Moines, Ia.; Howard Taylor of Oskaloosa, Ia.; Mrs. Ella Scott of Redfield, Ia.; Mrs. Mamie Andrews of Granger, Ia.; Albert Taylor of Swan, Ia.; Mrs. Grace Beckwith of Omaha, Nebr.; and Arthur Taylor of Antioch, Nebr.

On account of the serious illness of their mother, only a few relatives were able to attend the funeral. Warren Taylor, Mrs. Ella Scott, and Till Taylor, a cousin were all that could leave the mother. A number of Mr. Wilson's relatives, also, came for the funeral.

She was allowed 40 years, 8 months and 1 day to complete her work here on earth, but in this short time Mrs. Wilson made good use of it. She was a very earnest Christian. March 20, 1894, she united with the Christian church in Des Moines, Ia. On coming to Nebraska she united with the Congregational church at Reno. She was always ready to give her service in any way, acting as organist, leading the singing or teaching a Sunday school class as the case required. Hence there is a vacancy that will be felt for years to come in the Christian work. She was a kind neighbor, willing to lend a helping hand whenever needed.

She was a loving wife and a devoted mother. Her home was her heaven here on earth, always giving every effort on her part to make it so for her husband and family as well as being a welcome place for all her friends and relatives. Being a leader of young minds and hearts for so many years she understood the nature of children, so the little girl and boy will never learn to estimate their real loss.

The funeral services were held on Sunday, September 18th, at 10 a. m., at their home, one mile east of Reno, conducted by Rev. Homer Cox, interment in the afternoon in Greenwood cemetery at Alliance, Nebr. The esteem in which she was held was shown by the large procession that followed her remains to their last resting place.

The Flower of the Ranch

This popular Musical Comedy will be the offering at the Pielan Opera House, Tuesday, Sept. 27. "The Flower of the Ranch" is a musical comedy in three acts. The chorus of twenty girls, two comedians and a regular company of professional players, produce a show that is well worth attending. The song hits are great and attractive costumes and beautiful scenic effects contribute toward making a great production. Carlisle and Akin, managers of the Grand Opera House at Brookings, S. D., write that the company played that house Sept. 10, and that it was the best musical comedy production ever given in the city, and that the singing by the dashing chorus was fine. There should be a crowded house in Alliance next Tuesday night.

Gentlemen:

I am this day in receipt of check for $1,000.00 in settlement of Policy No. 1,642,664, on the life of my late husband, Halleck E. MacCray. This policy was not received until the latter part April of this year, and he had made but one payment on it. He was taken sick in May and died on the 15th of August. I wish to thank you and the Society you represent for the courtesy shown, and the promptness with which the claim was paid.

Very truly yours,
Mrs. Christina L. MacCray
