Fire Department Meets.

At a meeting of the Alert Fire Department Wednesday evening it was decided to divide the department into three companies, each to have its own captain, foreman and other officers. One company will have each hose cart and one set for the hook and ladder, so that in case of fire every member of the department will know just what is expected of him.

Regular drills will be held and a greater efficiency obtained and maintained.

An executive committee was appointed to look after the affairs of the coming State Convention of the Nebraska Volunteer Firemen to be held here in January next, consisting of W. O. Barnes, W. S. Ridgell, J. W. Guthrie, Louis Luft and R. C. McLeese. Committees were also appointed on Reception, Banquet, Dance, Badges, Hotels, Soliciting, Show and New Membership.

Carl Spacht was elected Secretary to succeed L. S. Ellis, who resigned on account of not having the time to attend to the duties.

Waiter Badly Cut Up.

Charles Fielding, a waiter at hotel Drake, was badly cut about the head by a meat block scraper wielded by E. J. Huard, the hotel cook, Wednesday morning. It seems that Fielding was drunk and had been discharged. He started to retaliate by pitching into the kitchen force who strenuously objected and laid him out.

Sheriff Cal Cox was promptly on hand and landed both in the city bastille. Complaints have been filed and the case will be tried before County Judge Berry at two o'clock this afternoon.

Visits O'Keefe, Brothers

Dr. Frank Keefe of Clinton, Iowa, a cousin of Tom and John O'Keefe, of Alliance, has been visiting with them for the last ten days and incidentally shooting a few ducks. Dr. Keefe is staying at the residence of Tom while here. He is a pleasant gentleman to meet and likes this country immensely. He will probably continue his visit the rest of this week.

Flower of The Ranch

One of the best plays of its kind that Alliance theatre goes have seen in a long time was, "The Flower of the Ranch," given at the Phelan Opera House Tuesday evening to a good house.

It is a typical western play, the place being in Tomahawk, California. Matt Franklin, as "Shorty"; Chester Gates as "Dick Spaulding"; John E. Frank, as "Jack Farnum," owner of the Big Horn Ranch; Mabel de Nordesdorf, as "Margaret Merron," the school marm; and Nellie Waters, as "Little Flower," were all very good and handled their parts very well.

But the best and most interesting character in the whole play is Jess Harris as "Skivers," a tenderfoot. He kept the audience laughing from the time of his entrance on the scene to the last of the play and every entrance on the stage by him was a laugh for all. As a comedian he is far ahead of anyone we have seen for a long time. His jokes were new and laugh provoking.

The company, which consists of 35 people, left in their private car which was attached to number forty-two Tuesday night, their next stop being Grand Island.

The demand for room in the new McCorkle Block has been so heavy that part of the space occupied by the large hall upstairs has been partitioned off into a new suite of offices. This is the most modern building in the city, having a fine large heating plant which is adequate for heating the entire building in the coldest weather. The plumbing in this building is complete, there being five complete toilet equipments upstairs and down.

A New Postmaster

All of the forty-six states and two territories in the union may insure until the wave crowds the Philippine Islands out of the ocean. The war cloud may obscure the Balkans like blackest night. Taft and Roosevelt may never make up. The great powers can open and shut all the doors they want to. Maine can go democratic, and the moon may rise in the west. All of these events, should they occur in quick succession, and should Halley's comet return to again bother the earth, would little bother Assistant Postmaster Frank McFarland, popularly known to Alliance people as "Mac", for he knows a piece of news far more important than any of these. It's a girl, and more joyous still, Mrs. McFarland's condition is excellent.

Mrs. J. H. Mann returned Tuesday from a trip to Grand Island.

Sam Albro and M. O. New were passengers west Tuesday.

Joe Vaughn lost eight head of cattle on his ranch last Thursday night by lightning.

Miss Josephine Hoag, of Beatrice, spent last week visiting her sister, Miss Dorothy Hoag.

P. H. Ferch of Whitman came up to Alliance Tuesday on business, returning Wednesday.

James Gray, of Gray & Guthrie, returned Wednesday noon from a business trip to Marsland.

Twenty-one head of cattle killed by one bolt of lightning one night last week caused a heavy loss to Fred Crawford west of town.

The Bennett company has made several sales of high grade pianos the last week, among them being J. E. Capron, Geo. J. Downey, and Mrs. Edith Cavenny.

T. W. Freeman of Lewiston, Idaho, arrived last Thursday for a visit at the home of his daughter, Mrs. C. E. Howard. Mr. Freeman thinks of locating here.

Henry Carey, who left for a trip to California six weeks ago returned Tuesday. He was much benefitted in health and reports a very pleasant sojourn in the summerland.

We should have mentioned last week the arrival of a couple of fine little girls at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Drake. Mother and daughters are doing well and W. R. is doing the housework.

M. J. Gayheart of Sioux county, father of Gayheart, the barber, stopped over Wednesday on his way home from Omaha by auto. The trip from Omaha was made via Grand Island and Sidney. He drove a Fuller car which stood the trip well.

Chief Dispatcher A. V. Gayin, of the Burlington, has purchased the residence occupied by G. M. Hoag, and belonging to Mr. Moffitt of Denver. He expects to occupy it soon, removing from the property now occupied by him on Box Butte Avenue.

Mr. Brackett, special agent for the government, was in Alliance Wednesday looking over the proposed locations for the postoffice site. He could give no information as to what he thought of the different sites, stating that his report was, of course, confidential and that the officials of the department at Washington make the selection.

A letter from Rev. R. D. Waterman, formerly pastor of the Methodist church at Hemingford, informs us that he is teaching school at Arvada, Wyo., and is getting along nicely. He was threatened with nervous prostration while engaged in the work of the ministry and thought best to make a change in his occupation for a while.

Among the live stock exhibits at the County Fair were displays of Jersey Red Hogs and Short Horn Cattle, by J. A. Keegan. Mrs. Keegan also had a fine display of poultry.

A Little Talk about Groceries

The Phillips Grocery Company are in the grocery business in Alliance to stay. They buy groceries in small quantities but often—that means fresh goods all the time. Did you ever notice the difference in the groceries you purchased from different stores? Then every pound weighs full weight. Each order is given careful personal attention and is filled exactly as you desire. Our business is steadily increasing. That means satisfied customers and the right business methods. The next time you order call up phone 1 or 4 and give us a trial order. We guarantee absolute satisfaction.

A Sound Institution

No better evidence of the prosperous condition of a community can be found than the presence in its center of sound financial institutions. They are the axis around which revolve all the business of their respective districts. Without them our commerce—local, interstate and national—would be but a passing dream.

How many people have ever considered the part which the currency of a nation plays in the transaction of business in the general markets of the world and how small a part the currency represents? As shown by the New York clearing house reports only five per cent of the actual business done is covered by the metallic money and its representative—the circulation note.

The importance then, of banking institutions will be easily understood.

That the people must have some medium of exchange to facilitate commercial intercourse is self evident and that there must be some means by which the balance between commodities and this medium may be kept safe is equally indubitable. The bank is the scale whose function is to keep up this balance and so well is it adjusted that the clogging of the wheels of commercial activity is practically unknown.

The people of this town and community have ample cause to feel proud of the First National Bank, for indeed it represents a strength greater than that of banks usually found in cities the size of Alliance, the capital stock of $50,000, surplus of equal amount, and great resources making it a strong institution.

Removal of Tailor Shop

Joe Orchowski, the tailor, informs us that he will move his shop this week from the Charters Hotel building to the room formerly occupied by the Golden Rod Bottling Works, 116 West Third Street, opposite the post office, where he will be better prepared than ever to handle a large business.

He has recently secured the service of his cousin, Edmont Hojmeski, an expert cutter and coat maker of Toledo, Ohio, who with his already competent assistants, gives him the best working force of up to-date tailors in this part of the west. 41-8211
