THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1910

Vote next Tuesday.

Don't forget to do your duty as a patriotic American citizen next Tuesday.

While hoping for the best we are trying to get into a state of mind that will prepare us for the worst.

On one point in politics we agree with our "esteemed contemporary," the Alliance Times: "If you are an American citizen you ought to vote."

No matter what may be the result of the election next Tuesday, no man who neglects to vote will have a right to complain of it or be dissatisfied.

Keep on smiling till after election. No doubt all of us will be disappointed enough to find it difficult to smile when all of the election returns are in.

Don't get mad over politics. Remember the other fellow is as much interested in seeing his candidate elected as you are in yours, and he has as much right to his opinion as you have to yours. If anybody gets mad, let it be the candidates.

Talk is cheap but it takes votes to elect men to office. All your talk about "a government of the people, for the people and by the people" will not do much good if you stay away from the polls on election day and permit elections to be decided by the riff-raff of the large cities, controlled by ward heelers.

A vote for W. J. Taylor for congress is a vote in the interest of the common people, farmers, laborers, mechanics, honest business men, clerks, etc. A vote against Moses P. Kinkaid is a vote against Alaska coal land frauds, high-tariff trust oppression, Cannonism, Ballingerism, and all the other standpatisms which are being crowded upon the American people.

Don't forget to vote FOR the proposed constitutional amendment, notice of which has been published in The Herald during the last three months. We have heard that some, thinking that it related to women's suffrage, voted against it for that reason. It relates to suffrage, but not to women's suffrage. A vote for it is a vote for a more intelligent citizenship.

We commend to our readers, both progressive republicans and democrats, the following quotation from a nonpartisan address recently delivered at Fremont, Neb.: "The best thing that can happen to a political party when, by mistake or otherwise, an unfit man is placed upon its ticket, is to have that man defeated; otherwise the party becomes responsible for a bad administration. The defeat of one candidate is vastly better for the party than years of effort to defend a bad administration."

Some weeks ago the editor of The Herald invited readers to contribute articles discussing the issues of this political campaign. It was our wish that both sides of all leading issues be discussed, including the tariff and the votes on the same of the Nebraska senators and congressmen, and such state issues as direct legislation, county option, Dahlgrenism, etc. We believe that the right has nothing to fear from a comprehensive discussion of every issue. It has been a disappointment to us that the supporters of Mr. Dahlgren have waited until this issue before offering anything in his behalf, and nothing has been contributed on the issues of the campaign, except what has appeared in our W. C. T. U. department.

In the statement of Chairman Manuel of the populist state central committee, an extract from which is published in The Herald, he says that the populists have not a candidate for a state office this year that the democrats have endorsed. We wish to call attention that this does not apply to candidate for congress in this district. The democratic nominee withdrew in favor of the populist nominee, who was endorsed by the democratic congressional committee. And every populist and every democrat and every "insurgent" republican in this district ought to honor that man, W. J. Taylor, by giving him their votes.

State Chairman's Appeal to Populists

C. B. Manuel, chairman of the populist state central committee, issued a statement last Saturday to populists and progressive democrats. Following is the address as published in the Omaha Daily News, somewhat abbreviated:

Lincoln, Neb., October 29, 1910.
To Populists and Honest Democrats of Nebraska:

For several years a certain element in the democratic party has been working to eliminate the populist party from the political game. This year they think they have the populists out of the way. They think they have disposed of Mr. Bryan and his populist following, but we will see. Do you not think that now would be a good time to show our strength? We cannot support the democratic nominee for governor because he does not represent populist principles.

PRaise for SHallenberger

Governor Shallenberger has made the best governor this state has had in years. He was carrying out the wishes of the people and giving us a clean, wholesome administration. The last legislature passed the 8 o'clock, or daylight saloon law, and the brewery interests told the governor that if he signed that bill, he was signing his political death warrant. The governor did his duty and the breweries carried out their threat. Governor Shallenberger was defeated for re-election.

Heretofore populists have been working with the democrats under the leadership of W. J. Bryan for better government, but when the democratic party turns down men like Bryan, Shallenberger, Metcalfe, and the men who are standing for purity in civil life, and places as its standard bearer the most radical booze advocate in the state, is it not about time for populists to stop and ask themselves whether we are drifting?

Since Dahlgren was declared the choice of the democratic party, not a line has been received or a word has been heard from any member of the democratic state central committee asking for populist support. Both committees have worked in harmony in past campaigns, but this year the democrats count on the support of wet republicans to help land them in office.

OPPORTUNITY IS NOW

Fellow populists, are you willing to support such men and adopt such measures? Honest, self-respecting democrats, are you willing to see your party turned over to the worst elements of our state? Are you willing that Bryan, Shallenberger and the other splendid men of your party shall be turned down and a man exalted to place and power for whom the whole people of the state would be compelled to hang their heads in shame if he should be elected. If you submit to this, your party will not have another opportunity in twenty years. Do you remember Jim Boyd and his policies? It took you eighteen years to recover, and then had it not been for populist support, Shallenberger could not have been elected. Your present candidate for governor does not represent democracy, and you will be doing your party the greatest possible service by voting for the republican nominee. If you permit Dahlgrenism to win you will not get the populists back into line another year. Do you not realize that the success of Mr. Dahlgren means a breaking up of the progressive element of your party, and that if the populist organization is abandoned two-thirds of its members will enroll under the insurgent banner of the republicans. The populist voter has voted firm for advanced democratic doctrines, but if you desert these principles we will go to the party that most nearly represents our ideas.

I appeal to you populists and democrats to support the republican candidate for governor. Let us hurl back the charge that the democratic party is the booze party by defeating Dahlgren. Let us show the people we will not stand for such men or such methods. Be sure to go to the polls and vote for what your conscience tells you to be right. Remember that every whisky vote in the state will be out. Do not go to sleep while on guard, but give a good account of yourself on November the 8th.

Yours for success for good, clean, honorable men in office,
C. B. MANUEL, Chairman.

A "True Blue" Progressive

There are a whole lot of cunning politicians who are trying to catch on to the progressive band wagon, since progressive policies have become popular; but we have more confidence in the patriots who have advocated progressive policies from principle, when the advocacy of those policies meant the loss of political preferment, instead of a means of getting into office. Senator Robert M. LaFollette is one of the men who, like William J. Bryan, advocated progressive policies, stood up for them, and fought for them, at a time when it meant being run over by the political machine. We are highly pleased to note that last week marked a new era in the publication of LaFollette's Weekly Magazine. Less than two years ago Senator LaFollette, because of the large number of requests for his speeches and other public documents, decided to publish a magazine. Since that time it has been issued weekly in sixteen page form, but this week's issue is increased to twenty-four pages.

The magazine contains a broadside this week by Harold L. Ickes of Chicago upon "Breaking the Jack Pot" in which he delineates the election of Lorimer declaring that "for a consideration, senators and representatives sold not their bodies, but their souls." Lynn Haines of Minnesota has a characterization article on Governor Eberhart. Brand Whitlock, author mayor of Toledo, Ohio, writes of the "Cure for Municipal Ills," and Judge Ben B. Lindsey has a stirring article on "Putting Principle Above Party."

HORSES

Opportunity of a Life Time, and First Ever Offered in the West to Buy Registered Trotting Stallions at Auction Sale.

Register certificates for all stallions furnished at time of sale, Nov. 14th, 1910, at Kimball, Nebr., 50 miles east of Cheyenne, Wyo., on main line of U. P. Ry., there will be sold 12 registered trotting stallions and 13 geldings, all raised at the well known ONWARD STANDARD STOCK FARM, and all in the rough, therefore as good a chance to buy the making of a $5,000 horse as ever occurs anywhere, at your own little price, including three or four opportunities to buy a wonderful sire, (for large herds of mares) that have slight blemishes, but not hereditary. It is not at all likely one in this lot will sell for what they will earn in the stud of one month.

Most of this stock is sired by the wonderful show horse and trotting sire NORVAL KING, trotting race record 2.12 1/4, the others by the MIGHTY ONWARD, the greatest of all sires (and best son) sire of over 200, 2.30 to 2.05 1/4 and dams of over 235, 2.30 to 2.05 1/4, sons have sired 900, 2.30 to 2.05 1/4 and stallions out of some of the best bred mares that ever lived, the geldings out of fast Chicago road mares and should make good road, matinee and race horses, and many of them grand farm horses.

So far as we know, the only two other sires as young as NORVAL KING has sired as many standard performers, and none the dams of as many.

Norval King is unquestionably the greatest show horse and sire of fast show horse trotting colts in the world. Several different years, he and his colts have almost invariably won the first prizes in nearly every class they were entered in, (and on many occasions nearly every standard bred class) at the following great fairs: Minnesota State Fair, Illinois State Fair, Nebraska State Fair, Colorado Interstate Fair and Exposition, also to prizes at the great World's Fair and Exposition in St. Louis.

Furthermore, he and his colts have made a wonderful showing and won many first and second prizes at the following great horse shows: National Horse Show, Madison Square Garden, New York; International Horse Show, Chicago, Ill.; St. Paul Horse Show, Minnesota; Minneapolis Horse Show, Minneapolis, Minn.

The fall of 1910, his colts have only been shown at the Colorado Interstate Fair and Exposition, where they won the first prizes in the most important events and the classes they were entered in as follows: 4 colts, the get of 1 sire; string of 10 best carriage horses; Stallions, 4 years and over, in competition with nearly a score of the highest class stallions we ever showed against, many of them by the most noted show and race stallions, Dare Devil (4) 2.09, who for three consecutive years won the first prize at the Madison Square Garden.

In order to introduce these grand bred stallions over the great grazing and lung producing sections of western Nebraska, Colorado, Wyoming and Montana, I will pay every man's car fare to this sale who comes and buys one.

Terms—Cash, bankable note one years time, or note secured by satisfactory mortgage, same time and interest.

Everyone interested and would like the breeding of these horses, and pictures of some of NORVAL KING'S prize winners can get them free up to time to reach this sale by addressing L. C. Kinney, Bushnell, Neb.

Unanswerable Logic.

Farmer—Senator, I have here the congressional record for the extra session of 1909. On June 28 Senator Cummins introduced an amendment to the tariff bill reducing the tariff on barbed wire to $8.00 per ton. You are recorded as voting against that amendment. Why did you do it?

The Senator—You star spangled banner floats over the land of the free and the home of the brave! Unsullied and unsmirched it flutters in the breeze and I dare any democrat to haul it down!

Farmer—On page 2129 it says that you voted against an amendment putting farm implements of all kinds on the free list. How about it?

The Senator—The other day I stood on Ellis Island and saw 4,287 souls waiting at the gate of this mighty republican nation eager, trembling with impatience to be wrapped in the protecting folds of this glorious flag!

Farmer—On May 24 I see that you voted against an amendment proposing to put lumber, building material, tools and white lead on the free list. What were your reasons for this action?

The Senator—The boys of '61 freely gave their life-blood that this glorious nation might live and shall we stand silent while the ignoble democrats trample our liberties, thus dearly bought, in the dust? No! No! Thrice no!

Farmer—A summing up of your votes for the extra session shows that you voted 70 times with that great agent of the interests, Senator Aldrich, and 58 times against him. How do you explain that half-and-half attitude?

The Senator—And what have the democrats done for the old flag? Nothing! Absolutely nothing! Except pay taxes to support it. And I dare any democrat to put his foot on the dear old flag. The dear old flag our fathers fought to save! The dear old flag!

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness caused by Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.
