The Congregational Aid met with Mrs. K. L. Pierce on Tuesday.

Miss Mary Iodence went up to Chadron Friday on 43 for a few days' visit with the Blanchard and Bartlett families.

Mrs. Addie Donovan and children, who have been visiting with her mother, Mrs. Brown, returned to her home in Edgemont, S. Dak., Saturday. Mrs. Emma Elders and little son accompanied her for a visit.

Mr. P. D. Spracklin left with a car load of potatoes for Sheridan, Wyoming, Friday. He is going to spend Thanksgiving with his mother and brother.

Miss Amelia Huecke is staying with Mrs. Spracklin during Mr. Spracklin's absence.

Mrs. Hattie E. Sherwood and Mrs. Alexander left for California Saturday on 44 where they will spend the winter.

Mrs. Sherwood spent a couple of days with her niece, Mrs. Fred Neiland, the last of the week.

Mrs. W. Randall and daughter came in from Sioux county Saturday.

Mr. Pete Swanson returned from Omaha Saturday on 43.

QUAKER VALLEY

Old mother Earth donned her white robe Tuesday night, but she quickly laid it aside Wednesday morning.

The Jamison brothers put down a well for Isaac Schoffner this week.

Miss Ruth Owen started for Ackworth, Iowa, last Tuesday, where she will teach this winter. Her father goes with her to attend to some business, but will return in a few days.

Little Hazel Farley entertained a few of her friends last Tuesday evening in honor of her ninth birthday. Ice cream and cake were served.

Mrs. Blanche Jamison was thrown from a wagon while riding in a chair and fractured her arm. She has the sympathy of the neighborhood.

Sunday school and preaching last Sunday at Mrs. Robbins'. We had the pleasure of having Mrs. Eastgate with us.

On his return from Cheyenne, Wyoming, Mr. Hogins stopped off for a visit with James Jamison and to look at the country. He continued his journey Monday to his home at Ackworth, Iowa.

Moody Krell's have moved into their new home.

Mrs. McDonnell, of Alliance, has been spending a few days with Mrs. Dr. Churchill.

Allison Jamison and family visited with Cash Farlay Sunday.

Elbert Peterson was around for signers to a petition requesting the railroad to build a depot at Reno and enlarge the stock yards. We hope the railroad will grant the request, as these are needed very much.

STRASBURGER

We are mighty glad to report that Mrs. Strasburger returned from Chicago, bringing with her a friend, Miss Dowd. We trust that Miss Dowd will become a resident near Strasburger. We have pleasant neighbors here and want more.

Every body busy either husking corn or getting married. I believe no less than a half-dozen couples, all good, nice people living around Strasburger, have decided to travel down life's pathway together until death separates them. May each be for his or her partner and both be for God.

Mr. Thomas Moore went to Chadron to assist in laying the corner stone of the Normal School.

It is better to listen to the still small voice within us than to listen to the noisy bellowing of the fellow filled with rat juice.

Mrs. Chapman, of Ellsworth, is visiting her sister, Miss Lamberson, and her father, Moses Lamberson, and is also going upon her claim.

Neighbor Starr's eyesight, we think, is improving. We are glad to see him looking so well.

The next door neighbor of Mrs. Strasburger, when living in Chicago, Miss Marion Fearing, died suddenly on November 11th, the anniversary of the death of Rev. Wm. Strasburger. Miss

Fearing was formerly the court stenographer of Mr. Strasburger in Chicago until she had to retire from the work on account of heart trouble. She was one of the very best stenographers Chicago had and was an ideal neighbor. They will meet us, cheer us and greet us. Those we've loved, who've gone before: We shall find them at the portals. Find our beautiful immortals. When we reach that radiant shore! GOODE OLDE BOY

DON'T you kinder get to dreamin' When you hear somebody say That in jus' a few more hours It will be Thanksgivin' day! Don't you kinder go a-sailin' Back through toifful years an' see All your frien's an' your relations In the Land of Used to Be!

Don't you kinder like to linger In that dream an' look around? Don't you kinder like to wander Over that beloved ground? There's the house, a-settin' solemn On the hill top—an' the tree! Some old tree we used to swing on In the Land of Used to Be!

Don't you see the turkey gobbler Makin' fer you once again? Same old feller used to chase you Helter skelter down the lane! An' there's mother—dear old mother!—Callin' loud, "Come in to tea!" Ain't it peaceful-like an' nat'ral In the Land of Used to Be!

There's that spruce young colt a-prancin' Like the place was all his own, An' there's Rover, settin' gnawin' An' a-growlin' at a bone! There's the good old pump, an' there's the— "All right, mother! Here we be!" Kinder hate to keep 'em waitin' In the Land of Used to Be!

Don't you see 'em settin' smilin' At the table, an' hear Sis Sayin' ('cause it was her bakin') "Ever taste sich bread as this?" Don't you hear the baby crowin', Settin' on his grampa's knee! Don't you hear the jolly laughter In the Land of Used to Be!

Listen! Mother's sayin' suthin'! "Mus' go out an' watch that pie; Got to fix the turkey stuffin'— Time is drawin' mighty nigh!" What's that, grampa? Take the baby! All right, son, come yer to me! Set an' watch the sparks a-flyin' In the Land of Used to Be!

Don't your old heart get to wishin' In a longin' kind of way Jus' fer one, jus' one old fashioned Long ago Thanksgiving day? Don't you like to go a-dreamin' Back through toifful years an' see All them dear old frien's—an' mother— In the Land of Used to Be!

When Mark Twain was editor of a Nevada newspaper somebody sent him a turkey with no card attached. The editor ate the bird. Next day he received a letter asking: "Can you tell us what that turkey died of? There's a bet on about it."
