

Christmas Greetings

To our many customers who are constantly increasing in number and who believe that it pays to patronize an exclusive shoe store. We now have a stock double the size of any store in western Nebraska and you will find every pair of shoes up-to-date and of the latest styles.

Overshoes and Rubbers are now in demand this muddy weather. We will fit your feet. For cold weather we are showing some mighty fine Felt Shoes and Boots and our line of High Shoes is a good one. We don't find it hard to suit our customers because we have the stock.

We have the Queen Quality Shoe for ladies; Hanan & Barry for men; Holland for boys; and the Piehler for misses and children. Every make is an eastern make and of the highest grade. We do not handle shoddy goods.

E. Reeves has received word that his daughter-in-law, who has been in the hospital at Hot Springs, has recovered sufficiently to sit up in bed.

Mrs. E. Reeves arrived home last Friday morning from Hot Springs, where she had been staying at the sanatorium. Her son left Sunday morning and will stay there with his wife until she is able to return.

The business of the Model Candy Kitchen is constantly on the increase. The Herald Publishing Company has just finished a run of five thousand sacks for them. Harry Johnson, the proprietor, stated that it did not take very long to use that many.

The car of Colorado apples being sold by J. J. Keenan on the track, is nearly sold out. Mr. Keenan had a car of corn which he sold out in no time at all and stated that he had to order four hundred bushels more to supply the demand.

Very attractive Christmas cards, with holly border in green, have been printed at the Herald office and can be purchased either at Holsten's, Thiele's or this office. They are mighty fine for putting in with Christmas presents.

A job of Christmas announcement cards turned out by the Herald for R. B. McClennon, of Alliance, has been pronounced a work of art. The cards were printed in three colors, with a fine half-tone cut, and cannot fail to attract attention wherever they are sent.

The large amount of composition necessary for this edition made it necessary to have outside work done, which was very kindly done by the Times. When the new model Junior Linotype machine is installed it will give this plant several times its present capacity and should it be necessary a daily could be printed.

The George Darling furniture store received a car load of furniture this week. It is now being placed in the spacious salesrooms and is included in the Christmas showing. Mr. Darling saves much on furniture in this way by purchasing in quantity and saving on freight. Xmas buyers will do well to look through this store.

First Picture of Mrs. Eddy's Council Room and New Leaders Christian Science Church.

Copyright by American Press Association.

To a few men will fall the work of directing 1,050 Christian Science churches since the death of Mrs. Eddy. These men will make their headquarters at the late home of Mrs. Eddy for some time, holding daily meetings in the famous council chamber, a picture of which is herewith shown for the first time. The men who will take an active part in the affairs of the church are given in the above picture. Read from left to right they are General H. M. Baker, William R. Rathbone, Rev. L. C. Tomlinson, Archibald McLellan, Calvin A. Frye, Clifford P. Smith and Adam H. Dickey
