ALLIANCE MAY HAVE FUEL OIL

The Wyoming Oil Men's Association has been organized at Cheyenne, Wyoming. One of the purposes of the association is to run a monster pipe line from the oil fields of the Popo Agie, near Lander, Wyoming, to Omaha, which will be a distance of nearly 700 miles.

Branch lines will be run to nearby towns along the line and also to Cheyenne and Denver. This would mean that Alliance would be on one of these lines. The oil is very much cheaper than coal and can be used much more economically.

The Northwestern railroad is now using this oil for fuel with very good results. In California, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas, fuel oil is used by railroads, and in place of coal altogether. It is only in the last two or three years that these oil wells have been developed to their present capacity.

EXPLOSION AT LOTSPICH HOME

Monday noon the fire department was called out to the home of Charley Lotspich, 936 Laramie Avenue. A fire had been started in the kitchen range by Mrs. Lotspich, who did not know that the water-back in the stove was frozen.

In a few minutes the steam generated by the hot fire completely blew out the front of the stove and created great havoc in the kitchen. Had Mrs. Lotspich been in the room at the time it is probable that she would have been badly injured.

The fire was put out before the department arrived, but the kitchen was completely wrecked. We are told that this is the third explosion of this kind since the recent cold snap set in.

The Herald Publishing Company is mailing out a calendar for the month of January. These are printed on heavy cardboard and will be mailed to a regular list of over five hundred monthly. Each month will have a different scene and the collection for the year will be worth keeping. Anyone desiring to be put on the list should make application to the Herald office.

A gentleman from Bayard, who recently went to Mexico on an excursion, was in Alliance Wednesday morning. He was very enthusiastic over that country and stated that he had purchased land there. The excursion he was with was sent down by the Mexico-American Land Company, of Kansas City, and about thirty-five people were in the party. It is not expected that the Alliance excursion will return for about two or three weeks more.

If you had a great big Christmas box delivered to you, and if you took great pains to open it carefully, and then found that it contained only common (garden variety) bricks instead of gold bricks, wouldn't you feel disappointed?

Wm. Conrad, traveling salesman for Wheeler & Motter of St. Joe, spent the Holidays in the above city.

The Misses Ruth and Esther Glau who are attending High school at Alliance returned to their home at Angola for the Yuletide season.

Miss Thressa Koch returned to her homestead at Malinda last week.

One interesting item that was unintentionally omitted last week and for which copy had been prepared, was a list of the Christmas sales of the Bennett Company branch store, in this city, of which Mrs. J. T. Wiker is the manager. This list will be found elsewhere in this issue.

CORRESPONDENCE

STRASBURGER

Christmas came and was wonderfully enjoyed at Strasburger. It seemed as if all the ladies in and around this burg had decided to make everybody happy, so far as lay in their power,—and truly they succeeded. The Loyds and Forneys, the Walls, Lambersons and Moores, the Sandoes, Squires, Stars Strasburgers, and their sister, Miss Pinkham, the Argos and the McMillans, the Schoens and Veronas, say nothing of the many bachelors and pretty maidens, in fact, everybody for miles around was at the Strasburger school house excepting a few families with other engagements. The day was a success.

Joy, happiness, hopefulness, helpfulness and smiles abounded. Everyone was happy and tried to make everyone else happy. And such a banquet—turkeys, chickens, ducks and salads galore—and cakes and pies—My! Oh my! Apple, pumpkin, mince and raisin pies. Before dining all sang, "Praise God from whom all blessings flow." Afterwards all sang, "Blest be the tie that binds." Songs were sung with the organ and violin accompaniment, Harry McMillan playing the violin and John B. Strasburger the organ, and everybody singing, "Fear not, I am with thee," etc. Appropriate remarks were made by Mrs. Speer, Mrs. Star and Mrs. Wall. Children gave recitations. A beautiful Christmas tree, candies and presents were there for the boys and girls. A solo was sung by Mr. Fred McMillan—The Lost Chord—and Mr. John B. Strasburger sang "Oh Love that wilt not let me go." Then all went away to their homes feeling nobler and better and happier—heartily glad that each helped to celebrate the birth of Him who is "the way, the truth and the life," and who said of himself, "If I be lifted up I will draw all men unto me."

Mr. Hore of Rock Rapids, Iowa, sent a very nice letter to the correspondent. He is doing nicely and is very busy. He has purchased another home in Rock Rapids. We are mighty glad he and the madam and boys are well and happy.
