The Misses Ethel and Lillie Gregory visited friends in Crawford Sunday and Monday. They report a nice time.

Blind Robert gave a musical entertainment in Wendts Hall Saturday night. There was a nice little crowd and all seemed to have a good time. Among other things that kept the crowd jolly, were votes cast to determine who was the laziest and homeliest man present, also who was the most popular young lady. Mr. Frank Flesman won the gentleman's prize, but was only one vote ahead of four of his competitors. Miss Edith Blessing won the lady's prize with a good margin to spare. After the entertainment the people had a little dance in the hall before returning home.

STRASBURGER

Dr. Nicholas Senn, considered the greatest surgeon in America, used to say, "Art is long; life is short; therefore work, work." Good resolution for 1911.

It is better to drink in good ideas than bad whiskey. If the ideas are bad, and the whiskey is good—why, of course that's different.

Miss Bessie Wintermute has taken up the school work at Strasburger. She is training the "young ideas how to shoot". Success to her. She just came from the Kearney State Normal and starts into her work as if she intended to do all the good she can. She believes that she ought to be in the schoolroom at 8 a.m. arranging the work for the pupils for the day. She is a bundle of enthusiasm and will do efficient and conscientious work. She is a teacher who is desirous of doing more than is expected of her.

Strong drink often makes weak men.

Was it not Solomon who said, "A wicked deer giveth heed to false lips, and a liar giveth ear to a naughty tongue"? The truly scientific mind loves the truth.

Notices are out for the organization of a homesteaders' Club at the home of Miss Pisel, January 18 at eleven a.m. "In union there is strength." Hope every one will join and help each other and themselves as well. Actions are active and retro-active. I do not know exactly what the intentions of the promoters are, but I am sure there will be much good in a club for mutual helpfulness and improvement. Good luck to the organization.

Your manner of living will be apt to determine the length of your life. "Anybody can go to bed"—but it takes a man with a backbone these cold mornings to get out.

We can earn more if we learn more.

Love, live and be jolly. A time will come when we can't.
GOODE OLDE BOY.

She was very weak and had night sweats but your wonderful medicine completely cured us both. It's the best I have used or heard of." A bill has been introduced in the legislature of Missouri to prohibit aeroplane ascensions to a greater height than 1,000 feet, and requiring aviators to give a bond of $10,000 as a guarantee that they will not violate the law. There are other "high fliers" who do many times as much damage to the country as a whole than aviators who exceed the height limit set by the Missouri legislator. There are high fliers in finance, special privilege monopolies and crooked politics that need to have their wings clipped.
