INTERESTING ARTICLES

The Herald has made arrangements with one of the best writers of the west for a series of interesting stories on western Nebraska life when this country was a cattle country exclusively and before farming was taken up. This writer has lived on the plains for the last twenty-five years and knows the country like a book. You'll like the stories. Watch for them.

HONORABLY DISCHARGED

A. A. Lee, who has been on the hospital corps at Fort Robinson for the last three years, and who was with the soldier boys on the fourth of July last year when they were at Alliance, was a caller at The Herald office Saturday.

He finished serving his three year term of enlistment Saturday morning and seemed very glad to be a civilian again. When the regiment recently left for the Philippines he accompanied them as far as San Francisco, returning via Seattle, Portland and other northern points.

Mr. Lee will enter school at Lawrence, Kansas, at once. His home is in the eastern part of that state.

VISITS WITH FRIENDS

Frank Arts, an old acquaintance of J. W. Guthrie and John Kniest, when they were residents of Carroll, Iowa, visited with them the last of the week.

Mr. Arts has been located at Petersburg, Nebraska, in the general merchandise business for the last eighteen years and is now looking over the south and west for a new location. He is on an extended trip covering all the west coast and will go through Texas and Oklahoma from here.

AN APOLOGY

Errors will creep into a newspaper. The nature of the business makes it that way. But an error that needs correction is the statement in the last issue of The Herald in the convention write-up that the Lobster Banquet was held at the Burlington Hotel. This banquet was given by Nobe's cafe, but between the compositor and the proof-reader the mistake crept through.

Silo Factory at Alliance

In view of the fact that The Herald has taken a great interest in the dairy industry in this country and has taken the lead among the newspapers of western Nebraska in trying to encourage the development of this industry, and further that we have believed the general use of the silo in Box Butte and neighboring counties would greatly increase dairy products and the profit in the business, both for the farmer and the creamery, we are delighted to announce that Alliance is to have a silo factory.

After an investigation of silos and their uses, together with their adaptability to this country, the Alliance Creamery company took up the sale of silos a year ago and sold a number in this part of the state. They have done this country a good service by calling the attention of farmers and stockmen to the silo, until it is now evident that there will be a big demand for them the coming summer. In selling eastern silos in western Nebraska, the greatest drawback is the cost of transportation. The freight on a silo shipped from Des Moines, Iowa, to Gordon, Nebraska, was $84.00. By manufacturing the silos here this can all be saved, and more, too.

It has been found that "Oregon fir" is the best material for the construction of silos. This can be delivered in Alliance cheaper than in Des Moines, besides saving the return freight on the manufactured silo. At the request of the creamery people, Newberry's Hardware company will put in a silo factory, using the old Reck lumber yard buildings for that purpose. The first installment of lumber has been ordered and other preliminary arrangements are being made, and soon the Alliance silo factory will be in operation. The output will be called "The Alliance Silo" and will be sold by the Alliance creamery.

WANTS TO LOCATE CAR FACTORY

The following letter, which explains itself, was received by The Herald Publishing Company the last of the week:

Sheridan, Wyo., Jan. 19, 1911. The "Herald" Printing Co., The Alliance, Nebraska.

Gentlemen: As I am recently from an Eastern Car Manufacturing Co., where I have been employed for the past 27 years, I have concluded to start a factory in this section of the country. I have Sheridan, Wyo., in view, also Alliance.

Now, I would like to have you put this matter before your town people who have the land in a suitable location for such purposes. It will require about two blocks to carry on the business and what would your town wish to give in the way of a bonus? I will say that we will employ from 15 to 150 men and some times more.

I wish you would let me know right away what you would do and I would come down and make you a proposition.

For further information please address, Yours truly,

H. W. MORSE, General Delivery, Sheridan, Wyo.

The following answer was sent to Mr. Morse:

Alliance, Nebr., Jan. 21, 1911. H. W. Morse, General Delivery, Sheridan, Wyo.

Dear Sir: We are in receipt of your letter dated January 19th regarding the establishment of a factory in this city. Our people here are very much interested in getting new lines of business here and if you will write us fully or call here we will assist you in getting some of the prominent men together to hear your proposition.

We are taking the liberty of publishing your letter in the next issue of The Herald. That will start the ball rolling for you.

Very truly yours,

HERALD PUBLISHING CO., By Lloyd C. Thomas, Pres.

TELEGRAMS BY TELEPHONE

The Nebraska Telephone company has made arrangements with the Western Union Telegraph company whereby telegrams may be sent by telephone at night, on Sundays or holidays, when the smaller telegraph offices are closed. For some time telephone subscribers have been able to send and receive telegrams over the telephone to and from the local telegraph office, but the plan of using long distance telephones in sending telegrams is a new one.

The great advantage of the new arrangement lies in the fact that while there are comparatively few telegraph offices open at all hours, nearly every telephone user has 24 hour service; and when local telegraph offices are closed, telephone operators are instructed to connect any subscriber of the Nebraska Telephone company who desires to send a telegram, with the nearest Western Union office then open, without additional charge.

The Western Union company has made similar arrangements in all parts of the country, so that Bell Telephone subscribers anywhere may send or receive telegrams at any time over the telephone without additional charge beyond the regular telephone message rate.

Fashions change. So do people. We understand that a new fashion which, recently originated in Chicago has already spread to the little city of Alliance. When a gentleman enters a restaurant or cafe with a lady companion and takes her coat he is allowed the privilege of one small, wee, tiny snack. It is probable that this custom will grow.

AN AMAZING SUCCESS

There never was a time in the history of the world when good stories and articles could command such prices as they do today. It is an extremely expensive thing to publish a high-class magazine nowadays, filled with the best work of the most famous authors and artists. Yet it is just such a magazine that The Chicago Record-Herald furnishes as an integral part of its Sunday issue.

The Sunday magazine of The Record-Herald compares favorably with the best weeklies and monthlies, and has some merits peculiar to itself. Its outward form are beautiful. The most famous writers and illustrators contribute to it. Some of the choicest novels of the year are published serially in its columns before they see the light in book form. Its editor has secured exclusive control of the writings of the best new humorist who has risen to fame in the last decade. To furnish such a magazine with every copy of a big Sunday newspaper is an amazing venture, yet several years of complete success have proved the wisdom of the idea. Nothing else of the kind can touch the Sunday Magazine of The Chicago Record-Herald in popular interest and literary excellence.

A classified advertisement will reduce the cost of selling your property to the lowest degree.

A classified advertisement, persistently printed will sell anything of value.
