I tried three doctors and one specialist but all of them said he could not be cured, but Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills made a complete cure. He is now hale, hearty and gay. It has been three years since he had the last spell. I shall give Dr. Miles' medicines praise wherever I go. MINNEAPOLIS FIRE

Flames Destroy Business Block in Heart of Mill City.

TWELVE RESCUED BY FIREMEN.

Damages Divided Among Tenants. Covered by Insurance—Origin of Blaze Is Unknown—Department Has Hard Fight.

Minneapolis, March 7.—One of the most disastrous fires this city has ever known destroyed the Syndicate block, on Nicollet avenue between Fifth and Sixth streets. The total loss is estimated at $1,000,000 and it is possible that two lives were lost, although this has not as yet been definitely determined.

Twelve persons were rescued from the upper stories of the building while the flames were roaring around them. Some of these sustained slight injuries, but none was seriously hurt.

The origin of the fire is unknown. The alarm was given by some passers-by on Nicollet avenue who saw the flames bursting out of the second story window. But before the firemen arrived the tenants of the building, who were asleep in the upper rooms, began to appear at the windows, calling frantically for aid.

A strong southeast wind was blowing and in a very few minutes the west half of the building was a roaring furnace. The entire fire department of Minneapolis was called out, but it was totally inadequate to check the flames. Later a call was sent to St. Paul for help and this was immediately furnished.

Firemen to the Rescue.

The instant the fire department arrived men were rushed into the building where the entrances were not already choked with flames and numerous ladders were hastily extended to aid the people who were hemmed in by the fire on the second and third floors.

The members of the Franzen family, finding all exits by stairs and front windows cut off, made for the fire escape on the alley side of the building. Mr. Franzen leaped to the fire escape through a blast of wind-driven flames past the window, his only escape. Holding to the hot irons of the fire escape, he aided his mother to climb through the window and step upon the platform beside him.

As soon as her hands touched the rails Mrs. Franzen uttered a shriek and would have fallen to the ground had not Fireman Caldwell leaped to her rescue from a ladder perched against the New England building, which adjoins the Syndicate building. Caldwell made a leap of fully ten feet and took a chance of falling to the pavement, forty feet below. If he missed the fire escape. Fortunately, he struck it right and reached Mrs. Franzen's side not a second too soon.

He assisted her to the ground, while Elmer Franzen followed, shouting, "There are two women back there in the flames. I saw them fall." The firemen made every effort to break into the building at this place, but the heat was too great and they were repulsed. The firemen had little difficulty in rescuing persons on the second and fifth floors. Twelve in all were taken out by the firemen.
