DAILY WEATHER REPORTS

For some time past The Herald has been receiving weather reports and forecasts from the Lincoln station of the U. S. Weather Bureau. These Bulletins were issued daily, except Sunday, the forecast covering the day of issue and the following day up to 7 p. m., but they are not received in Alliance until the morning following date of issue. We now have something much better in the way of forecasts. Our enterprising postmaster, Mr. I. E. Tash, has completed arrangements whereby he will receive by wire, every morning, from the Chicago Station a weather forecast for two days. This service commenced Wednesday of last week and is already creating considerable interest. Each forecast is bulletined in the postoffice and furnished to the local press, besides which it is sent by mail to all other towns in this part of the state, going as far east on the main line of the Burlington as Anselmo; south on the Denver line as far as to Sidney, taking in also some towns on the Union Pacific, including Kimball and Chappell; all towns on the Guernsey line as far as to the Wyoming state line; and all towns north and west to the South Dakota and Wyoming state lines, including Chadron.

COME ON WITH YOUR NEWS

The Herald is lined up now to print any amount of news that we can secure, and a cordial invitation is given the many friends of the paper to hand in, or send, anything in the way of news that they may wish published. We sincerely hope that persons that furnished news for publication during or since the time the office and plant were being moved and failed to see the same in print, will not take offense on account of the omission. We are sure they would not if they only knew what a tremendous task it has been to move and keep up our printing at the same time. Although the carpenter, painter and plumber still have some work to do before our new office is just as we want it, we are now settled and better prepared for printing both news and job work than ever before. Hence we cordially invite our friends to hand in any news items which you would like to see published, but be sure to get them to us in time, not later than eight o'clock Thursday morning of each week. If possible get the items to us on or before Wednesday, it will be better not to wait till Thursday morning.

MISS KRIDELBAUGH RETURNS

Miss Kridelbaugh states that she had a fine trip and vacation and the Herald was eagerly welcomed each week. Her mother will not return for sometime yet.

Repeating Shotguns

USED IN THE U. S. ARMY.

The U. S. Army authorities know a gun; that is why, when they decided to equip some troops with repeating shotguns, they selected the Winchester in preference to all other makes. The experts of the U. S. Ordnance Board also know a gun; that's why, after submitting a Winchester Repeating Shotgun to all sorts of tests, they pronounced it safe, sure, strong and simple. If you want a shotgun—buy the one whose strength and reliability led the U. S. Army authorities to select it and the U. S. Ordnance Board to endorse it—that's the Winchester.

DR. TURNER AND THE ORPHEUS CLUB

One of the Herald's warm friends furnished the following account of the visit to Alliance of Dr. Turner and the Orpheus Club for publication last week. The fact that it was impossible to print it last week caused us more regrets than we can express. We are glad to give it to our readers now.

The visit of the Orpheus Club of the Hastings College has given to Alliance a musical treat such as not often falls to her lot.

Director Richard E. Yarnley with his gifted troupe of twenty-seven young ladies and gentlemen students arrived on the noon train Saturday, and were met at the depot by a large number of Alliance citizens.

The Club during its stay here was entertained at the homes of various members of the First Presbyterian Church.

A concert was given on Saturday evening, consisting of forty eight vocal and dramatic numbers, each of which was enthusiastically applauded by a large and appreciative audience.

The choir work of the Club was particularly effective, and testified to the thorough training of all the participants.

Vocal solos of especial merit were rendered by the Misses Crawford of the Club, both of whom are endowed with beautiful Soprano voices. The readings by Miss Ruth Capps were also features of especial merit.

The Services in the First Presbyterian Church on Sunday were augmented, both morning and evening, by the rendition of two classical anthems at each service, and the appreciation manifested by the large audience, which taxed the capacity of the building to its utmost, testified to the undoubted merits of the cultured visitors.

The Club left on the noon train Monday for Broken Bow, where they gave an entertainment that evening, with the hearty good wishes of the many friends to whom they have endeared themselves during their stay here.

This is the fourth annual tour of the Orpheus Club and according to Musical Director Yarnley, the most successful.

The primary object of these tours is to advertise the merits of the Hastings College, and as far as that object is concerned, it was a complete success in Alliance, if the flattering expressions of various representative people here are to be taken as an expression of public sentiment.

YEOMEN MEET

The Yeomen met in Oddfellows Hall Friday night and adopted a large class of candidates, after which refreshments were served by the ladies. State Manager W. J. Tiley of North Platte, who is one of the ablest insurance men in the field today, organized a degree team and costumed them with the Yeomen Regalia and put on the degree work in beautiful form.

The Yeomen is one of the rising insurance societies in Alliance, forty eight members having been added recently by C. E. Matheson, Asst. State Manager, and the membership which is divided into Reds and Greens in a win-or-treat contest at the close of which the defeated side will banquet the entire membership. This contest will be watched with interest.

NEBRASKA SOCIETY S. A. R.

The Nebraska Society of the Sons of the American Revolution desires to hear from all Nebraskans who are eligible for membership or who are able to trace their family genealogy to ancestor who took part as a soldier, seaman, or as a civil officer during the Revolutionary War, or who in any manner aided in establishing this great Republic which has become a sheltering haven for the oppressed and liberty loving peoples from all the civilized countries of the world.

You are welcome to join and the officers of the Society, Pressly J. Barr, Omaha, Nebr., President and E. O. Halstead, Box 406, Omaha, Nebr., Secretary, will gladly furnish any needed assistance or advice to any one, in tracing their genealogy.

LIQUOR AND LABOR

As is well known by persons conversant with labor conditions in this country, the Knights of Labor try hard to discourage the use of liquor as a beverage by members of that organization. They do this, not on sentimental grounds, but on purely business principles. The man who does not use liquor, they argue, will be less liable to commit rash and violent acts. Moreover, his employer will not have his liquor habits as an excuse for getting rid of him, and will listen to his grievances more respectfully if he is a man of sobriety and good habits. A man who drinks, they say, is a slave to his employer, and drink defeats him in a contest with that employer.

INTERESTING ADVERTISEMENT

Attention is called to the page advertisement this week of the North Platte Canal & Colonization Company of Lingle, Wyoming. Many Box Butte county people have gone to Idaho and other points to secure irrigated lands under the Carey Act, taking up lands with which they were not acquainted.

The lands of this company are near home, and the people here are much better acquainted with the character of the country, soil, water, etc. The North Platte Valley is rapidly becoming one of the most thickly settled and prosperous sections of the country.

Anyone looking for a home will do well to investigate the proposition of this company.

There will be German Lutheran services next Friday, May 7, in Mark's Hall, commencing at 10:30 a. m. Everybody is welcome and cordially invited to attend. Titus Lang, Pastor.

THE CORN SILO

By D. Clem Deaver

Corn silage is perhaps the most economical stock food a farmer can raise. It can be successfully grown on any land between the 100th meridian and the Rocky Mountains where Buffalo grass grows. The corn stock, ear and all, is chopped up fine or shredded, before being put into the silo, and it contains its strongest feeding qualities if cut just before frost, therefore corn for silage purposes can be grown even in localities where the seasons are very short, for the reason it is not necessary for corn to mature to be profitably put into the silo.

A corn silo is simply a big sauer kraut barrel filled with chopped up corn stalks instead of chopped up cabbage; there is no more mystery about a silo than there is about a sauer kraut barrel, and any farmer who knows how to make sauer kraut can fill a corn silo. A round silo 12 feet indiameter, 20 feet high, will hold 38 tons of corn silage. Five acres of corn planted with a lister, dropping the grains 8 to 10 inches apart, will fill a silo of this size. The contents, together with hay or grass, will feed twelve milch cows eight months. Twelve ordinary milch cows so fed and properly cared for will bring a gross income, from cream alone, of $75.00 per month, leaving the separated milk for calf and pig feeding.

A round silo 18 feet in diameter, 30 feet high, will hold 151 tons of corn silage. Twenty acres of corn will fill the silo. The contents of this silo will feed 700 lambs three months, and together with hay will put them in shape to top the market for fat lambs; or, together with hay, will feed 45 steers six months, or 96 steers three months.

Corn silage has passed the experimental stage. Practically every university in the central and eastern states has demonstrated that corn silage is the cheapest stock food grown, considering its value as a milk and fat producer.

A farmer located on the Burlington Route at Belmont, Nebr., in the extreme northwestern part of the state, at an altitude of 4,500 feet, has successfully grown corn silage for many years, and during the past seven years he has grown an average of eight tons per acre. What this farmer has done can be done by every other farmer in the Burlington territory west of the 100th meridian.

If you want to make money easy, build a silo on your farm.
