HARNESS HORSE NEWS

Clark's Weekly Letter Condensed for This Issue

HORSEMEN AND RECIPROCIETY

The Herald finds it necessary to condense Palmer L. Clark's weekly harness horse news letter this week, but we give two items from it that will be interesting to horsemen, one in regard to the race meet at Cleveland, and the other regarding reciprocity with Canada and its effect upon horse breeding business:

By another week the Grand Circuit entourage, the elite of the campaign trotters and pacers, will have reached Cleveland in its itinerary and another great trotting meeting will be held at the hospitable lake metropolis. The knights of the sulky are at Detroit this week in keen contest for this year's renewals of the classic "M and M" and the other rich stakes which the Michigan track offers but every campaigner is looking forward to the week at Cleveland; for, if there is any one city in all America where the Grand Circuiters are made more welcome than elsewhere, that one city is Cleveland, Cuyahoga county, Ohio. Grand Circuit week at Cleveland is the gala society function of the year and the annual arrival of the sulky brigade is the call to arms for the mesdames of Cleveland society and their satellites to adorn themselves in best "bib and tucker" that enjoyment be had of a full week of Cuyahoga sunshine with the world's greatest trotters and pacers at the magnificent new racing plant at North Randall, just outside the city limits of Cleveland.

Horse breeders, owners, dealers and trainers of the States are feeling quite comfortable over the adoption of the reciprocity treaty with Canada by the Senate, and now if the Canadian Parliament will up and do likewise horse interests between the two countries will surely reach a stage beyond the expectations of those who were in favor of the treaty and calm the fears of those who regarded it with disfavor. With the expense and annoyance of the duty removed on horses, trade is bound to increase rapidly, not only to the immediate profit of those engaged in the business, but to a vast improvement and enlargement of the breeding industry of both countries.

A great trade is opening up in the Canadian Northwest which has been increasing gradually for the past five years, even with the burdensome restrictions in force. With these removed, trade will only be limited by the supply. Hundreds of good broodmares have been shipped into the Saskatchewan country and other sections of the rapidly growing northwest have bought largely, to say nothing of the older portions of the Dominion. No matter what else the treaty will benefit, the reciprocal trade in horses looks mighty promising.

BUT A FEW DAYS TILL CIRCUS

Ringling Brothers' World's Greatest Shows Due Here Next Saturday

Next Saturday is Ringling Day, and Young America is thumping the calendar with much impatience. When Ringling Brothers come to town it's a holiday, whether so declared at Washington or not. Compared to Ringling Day the Fourth of July is a tame affair. So says Young America.

The railroads are making extensive preparations. They expect to bring a record crowd to town. Excursions will be run and horses and wagons will bring visitors from all directions. Word has come from other cities where the circus has already appeared. It is to the effect that the Ringling Brothers have outdone all their previous records. They have a larger and much more attractive show than when it was last seen here.

It will arrive in the city on the longest circus train ever handled by a railroad. There will be five sections of it, all heavily burdened with the choicest of the world's wonderful people and things. At 10 o'clock in the forenoon will occur the great street parade. It is three miles long and entirely rebuilt. In it will be seen 1,280 people, 650 horses, forty elephants and 1,000 other menagerie animals. There will be two performances here. Each will be identical with those presented at the opening of the show in the spring. Not a detail has been changed. New York City stamps its "O. K." on this show in great golden letters.

Early on the morning of show day a downtown branch ticket office will be opened in Holsten's Drug Store. Reserved seats and admissions can be bought there at the regular prices. Busy people and those who dislike to brave the crowds on the show grounds are advised to take advantage of the downtown method of getting seats in advance.

Summed in a paragraph here is some idea of what a visit to the circus means in the way of novelties. In the menagerie is Tiny Tom Tinker, the smallest elephant in the world; also Jennie, another elephant that has passed its 214th birthday. There is a big family of giraffes and there are wonderful specimens of the hippopotami, rhinoceri, and wild African viak vaark and everything else in the animal kingdom from a big house full of monkeys to a sad-eyed Philippine cow.

On the program in the main exhibition tent are the Bonsetti family of Italian riders, a troupe of baby elephant actors, a somersaulting dog rider, three herds of elephants that talk on telephones, the Parker family of Gypsy riders, the Alex family of aerialists, the wonderful Schuman German horse riders and Mijarez, the Mexican wire wizard. Some of the advance men are already in the city making final preparations for the arrival of the show.

CIRCUS FURNISHES ITS OWN LIGHT

Ringling Brothers carry their own electric lighting plant. They have four dynamos furnishing power for 4,000 incandescent lamps, fifty flaring arcs and a battery of search lights used on the grounds while loading the show onto the wagons. Gas is used in the dressing rooms. It is generated on the grounds.

CURIOUS NEWSPAPERS

The Herald is in receipt of a bundle of foreign newspapers, sent to us by the Chamberlain Medicine Co., of Des Moines, Iowa. They are all of recent date but some of them look queer to one who is accustomed to reading periodicals of only American publication. A few of them look quite like American publications, while some of them look about as much like the papers which we are accustomed to read as a hand bill looks like a copy of the Chicago Record-Herald. Schools, public libraries and similar institutions can secure a bundle of these papers, free of charge, by addressing a request for the same to the Chamberlain Medicine Co., who receive them, we suppose, by advertising in all parts of the world—where newspapers are published.

MEETS WITH ACCIDENT

Mrs. Frances Danos returned Sunday morning from Denver where she went a week ago last Friday to be with her sister, wife of Capt. Baird, who was to undergo a surgical operation at Mercy hospital. Mrs. Danos rode a cavalry horse from Ft. Logan, where she stopped, to the city daily, carrying her babe on the horse in front of her. Last Thursday morning her horse was frightened at a piece of paper blowing in front of it. She had never before been thrown from a horse and could have managed her mount this time had it not been for protecting her child, which she succeeded in doing, although she herself was dragged a half block and badly injured. Her face was badly bruised and four teeth were knocked out. She is thankful that the injury to herself was no worse and that the child was not hurt.

HEED THE WARNING

Many Alliance People Have Done So

When the kidneys are sick they give unmistakable warnings that should not be ignored. By examining the urine and treating the kidneys upon the first sign of disorder, many days of suffering may be saved. Sick kidneys expel a dark, ill-smelling urine, full of "brickdust" sediment, and painful in passage. Sluggish kidneys cause a dull pain in the small of the back, headaches, dizzy spells, tired, languid feelings, and frequent rheumatic twinges.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys only. If you suffer from any of the above symptoms you can use no better remedy.

Alliance people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. L. A. Benedict, Sweetwater Ave., Alliance, Nebr., says: "For several years I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and consider them an excellent kidney remedy. During the winter months my kidneys became disordered but I always procure a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills at Fred E. Holsten's Drug Store and they drive away my trouble. Doan's Kidney Pills have been taken by other members of my family and have brought great benefit. I highly recommend this remedy to other kidney sufferers."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

YOUNG COUPLE DISAPPOINTED

The Chadron Chronicle of July 27 relates the following amusing, but to the parties most concerned not very funny, incident: Two bright eyed young people came into the office of County Clerk Chas. Naylor at four o'clock Tuesday afternoon, accompanied by a few of their friends, and it could be noticeable upon the face of the young man that he had a very delicate subject upon which he desired to talk with Mr. Naylor. It was learned from him that his mission was to secure a license, but owing to the recent death of County Judge C. Dana Sayrs, there was no one qualified to issue the license, but the county commissioners being in session at once proceeded to ballot upon a man to fill the unexpired term and one who might issue the license to the young people, but after balloting for more than two hours, during which time fifty ballots were cast, they adjourned for supper and during this time the young man returned several times to learn the outcome, but learned that no judge no license, and they were compelled to return home and the wedding was postponed. What became of the wedding supper that evening we have not as yet learned.

THE BOY SCOUTS

We have given the laws that govern this organization. In this article we shall speak of four things that these laws teach to boys.

1. Honesty. A boy is put on his honor when he joins the Scouts, and he is kept there. The glory of Scout-hood is that the boys can be depended on to speak the truth; to act honorably at all times.

2. Courtesy. The time to begin the cultivation of the social graces is in early youth. The gentlemanly boy is respected by everybody and stands far better chances to succeed in the world than the rowdy.

3. Love of Nature. Most of us live too much indoors. We get to measuring the world by the four walls that we call home. We ought to live out of doors more. So had the boys and girls. The Scouts are to spend a day now and then studying nature.

4. Self Reliance. A Scout learns to depend on himself and not on other people. As an illustration:—a boy who has become a Scout must earn the money himself to buy his uniform, badges, etc. All Scout expenses are borne by the Scouts themselves.

I have merely called attention to these four things as I haven't space to enlarge on them. But this is enough to show that the Scout movement is entirely different from any other work for boys. It has in it permanent elements. I had some extended experience with the Boys' Brigade that some years ago was so popular. But the only thing that held that work together was the soldier part of it. The Scout movement is not to be mentioned in the same breath with that, however. The one had for its object army drilling; the latter, character building.

Now a word to parents, we want your cooperation. If you believe in the Scout idea, let your boy come to our meetings, encourage him to become a Scout.

FRANKLIN McNEILL, Scoutmaster.
