FREE UNTIL JANUARY 1ST

Here is a special offer that will interest old subscribers to The Herald as well as new. Persons who subscribe for The Herald before January 1st, 1912, and pay a year's subscription, will receive the paper until January 1st, 1913, thus getting it from the time payment is made on subscription to the first of next January free. Our subscribers who are in arrears, and who pay before January 1st, 1912, and also one year in advance will be credited to January 1st, 1913, thus they will be practically getting the paper from the date of their payment on subscription until the first of the year free of charge. We prefer having subscriptions end on January 1st, so that in making this offer we are not losing anything by it, but it will make a saving worth taking advantage of for those subscribers who pay a year in advance immediately.

BUBBLES
The workman fell from the topmost floor of the Singer Building, but on passing the fourth floor seized the outstretched hand of a beautiful stenographer, climbed up on the window sill, bowed to the crowd and said:
"If the Government would build a ship with 1,000 foot masts, would the skyscraper?"
Quick, boys, the life-boat!

The Herald publishes a cut of C. E. Harmon, democratic and people's independent candidate for railway commissioner. There was a hard fight made by some democrats against Mr. Harmon's nomination and a good deal of dust stirred up, but it looks to us like a good deal of the opposition to his nomination had its root in the bearing it might have upon the candidacy of another party running for another office another year. We are of the opinion that it will be much better to elect him than the republican candidate this year, and we have several reasons for thinking so, one of which is that he will represent a part of the state not now represented on the board. If his opponent is elected there will be two railway commissioners from Lincoln and one from Omaha, but none from the western part of the state.

No need of hunting up a calendar to count the days, we'll save you the trouble: It's just fifty-three days from the date of this paper till Christmas. "Do your shopping early," but wait till Christmas advertisements begin appearing in The Herald. They will tell you where to find the best stocks of Christmas goods.

UNCLAIMED WEALTH OF FOREIGN AND AMERICAN HEIRS

Well Known "Next-of-Kin" Agency in Pittsburgh is Looking Up Money and Estates That Have Been Left

In an effort to trace heirs who, unknown to themselves, are in positions to claim fortunes in foreign lands and this country, the International Claim Agency has an old established "Next-of-Kin" office at Pittsburgh, Pa., and is prepared to trace claims to foreign estates. While it is not generally known, there are many fortunes awaiting American claimants, according to the data secured by this agency. To aid in the work, the agency has issued a publication of 490 pages containing in alphabetical order names of persons who have been advertised for in the last 200 years up to the present, including many names from the chancery courts of England and Ireland and lists of lost relatives, unclaimed bank dividends, etc. Thousands of names appear in the book which may lead to unclaimed estates. Correspondents have long been established by the agency in Europe to aid in the work. By writing to the International Claim Agency, Pittsburgh, Pa., inclosing stamp and mentioning the name of this paper, anyone may secure one of their free booklets. 47-11-704.

"I had been given up to die by three of our best doctors,
I could not stand it to be on my feet and I was so swelled in the abdomen I could hardly breathe.

But thanks to Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy and Nervine I am able to be about the streets, a walking advertisement of the curative qualities of your remedies, although I am 70 years old."

JOHN R. COCHRAN,
Lewistown, Ill.
Better than any statement we could make regarding the value of Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy are these words of Mr. Cochran. He speaks from experience, the highest possible source of knowledge. If you have any of the signs of a weak heart, such as pain in the left shoulder or arm, fainting and hungry spells, shortness of breath, smothering spells, fluttering or palpitation of the heart, you need Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy which for over twenty years has been recognized as the best preparation of its kind to be had. Sold under a guarantee assuring the return of the price of the first bottle if it fails to benefit. AT ALL DRUGGISTS. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

SCHOOL BOND PROPOSITION

City Schools in Alliance and Other Nebraska Towns

The proposition to bond the Alliance school district which will be voted upon at the election one week from next Tuesday, should receive the careful attention of all voters. Ordinarily The Herald is slow to advise issuing bonds, but we believe it pays to follow a liberal policy in educational matters, and as our city is lacking in public school facilities it is evident that something must be done to relieve the present cramped condition of the schools. The following data furnished The Herald by Supt. W. R. Pate will interest our Alliance readers, and we are pleased to give it to them:

At the election next Tuesday you will be called upon to vote for or against the school bond issue. The reasons the Board of Education has called for a bond issue are as follows:

1. Central school is overcrowded, poorly ventilated and poorly lighted. The overcrowding at the Central building is due to the transfer of Emerson pupils to that building, which was made necessary by the crowded condition at Emerson. An addition at Emerson will relieve the situation by providing enough room at the Emerson school for the children of the Emerson district. At the beginning of the school year it was necessary, because of the large number enrolled there, to transfer two grades from Emerson to Central. There are now at the Emerson building only four grades; viz., the first, second, third and fifth. All other grades, because of lack of room, have been transferred to the Central school or to the High school.

2. Neither the Central nor the Emerson school is equipped with indoor toilets. To place them indoors would prevent much exposure and sickness, especially with the children of the lower grades. Furthermore, it will only be a short time until toilets not connected with the sewer system will be declared a nuisance and ordered removed. At the present time there is not an available foot of space at either of these buildings for the housing of indoor toilets.

A comparison of the amount of money invested in school buildings and grounds by the Alliance City School District and that invested by other cities of equal size in the state shows much less invested here than elsewhere. According to the report of the secretary of the Board of Education, D. W. Hughes, the amount thus invested by the Alliance City School District is $61,500. Of this amount, $4,500 is invested in grounds and $57,000 in buildings. The following figures, secured from the superintendents of the schools mentioned, will show how Alliance compares with other cities of the state.

City	School children census 1910	Amt. invested bldg., grounds
Alliance	1010	$ 61,500.
Albion	607	65,000.
Aurora	824	86,500.
Holdrege	844	90,000.
North Platte	1413	90,000.
Lexington	738	99,000.
Blair	998	100,000.
Fairbury	1274	110,000.
McCook	1185	117,000.

The above figures hardly need comment. It will be observed, however, that McCook, a city with about the same number of school children as has Alliance (our 1911 census was 1110), a railroad center as is Alliance, and located in the western part of the state as is Alliance, has almost twice the amount of money invested in school buildings and grounds as has Alliance.

So far as the teaching force of the city is concerned, Alliance is as well equipped as any city in the state and the work done here will bear comparison with that done elsewhere, but the conditions under which the children must work does not compare favorably with other cities of our class. It is your children who must suffer if the buildings are crowded, poorly ventilated, poorly lighted, and insanitary. You will have an opportunity at the coming election to express your sentiments. If you wish the conditions made better register your vote for the bond issue.

SOME BIG SUGAR BEETS

Lloyd C. Thomas, who is secretary-treasurer of the North Platte Canal & Colonization Co., with headquarters at Lingle, Wyo., is also editor of The Lingle Herald. At the opening of the beet harvest season he offered a prize of five dollars for the largest sugar beet to be brought to his office this fall. Soon the big beets began coming in—eight pounds, ten and eleven pounds, twelve, thirteen and fourteen pounds, till a Mr. Ackersblade brought in one weighing fifteen and one-half pounds, which at the close of the contest proved to be the biggest beet of the season. These beets were dipped in paraffine to keep them from shrinking and will be preserved for exhibition. On his visit to Alliance last week Mr. Thomas brought one of them weighing fourteen pounds and left it at The Herald office. Of course he could not part with the largest but the one he gave us is some beet, as any of our readers may see by calling at this office.

(Since writing the above a beet grown by Ed. Beach, weighing sixteen pounds and five ounces, has been added to the collection.)

ANTON YOUNG MEETS DEATH

Word has just been received that Anton Young, a former Alliance boy, was killed by a train while crossing the railroad tracks at Kent, Wash. On account of the heavy fog he could not see the train in time to get out of the way.

Mr. Young was the eldest son of Mrs. C. F. Kroll of this city. He had been away for twenty years and had not been heard from for eighteen years until the message came announcing his death, which was a great shock to relatives. He leaves one brother, E. C. Young, and five sisters, Mrs. C. E. Wykoff; Mrs. J. F. Richards; Mrs. E. W. Ray, of this city; Mrs. Anna Wendleborn, of Globe, Ariz.; Mrs. Clara Blair, of Mo.

Mrs. E. W. Ray and Mrs. J. F. Richards left Tuesday on 41 to bring the remains to this city. The funeral will be held Sunday at 2 o'clock, from the residence of E. W. Ray, 6th St. and Platte Ave.

RAN SHORT OF PAPERS

Usually we print a number of extra copies of The Herald in order to supply any demand that we may have for the same, but last week by some miscalculation we did not print enough to complete our mailing list, consequently had to cut off most of our exchanges and a few subscribers for that issue.

SHERIDAN COUNTY CROPS

E. D. Skudies and Fred Meyer of the Peters neighborhood in Sheridan county drove over to Alliance, a distance of about forty miles, Monday. They report the people prosperous in their locality. Corn was a good crop for a dry year, some going forty bushels per acre.
