LOCALS AND PERSONALS

Ex-County Commissioner Geo. W. Lore had business at the county seat Saturday, returning to Hemingford on delayed 43 Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Simmons reside now at 414 Big Horn avenue, being nicely located in the Hancock house. They moved Monday of this week.

Mrs. Bowles, proprietor of the New York Hat Shop, made a business trip to Hemingford this week, going Monday and returning Wednesday.

Jay Denslow returned Friday from a three weeks' trip to eastern Nebraska. On his return he stopped two days in Denver to attend the horse show, and one day in Alliance, where he purchased land.—Crawford Courier, Jan. 20.

The Bee Hive store at the northeast corner of Box Butte avenue and 4th street now presents the regular racket store appearance, the front having recently been painted a bright red. A new sign also adorns the side of the building.

T. S. Fielding, the tailor, comes to the front this week on the front page with a reasonable ad. Somehow or other, we know not why, his name has not been on The Herald subscription list recently, but we are glad to comply with his order, and place it there this week.

The Civil Service examination to be held in Alliance Saturday, February 3, will be held in the court house in the district court room, commencing at 9 a. m. This is the regular civil service examination previously announced, and not the one mentioned in another item in this issue of The Herald for immigrant inspector.

August Kohrman came to town last Saturday with his brother-in-law, Frank Trenkle, and favored The Herald with a pleasant call, leaving three dollars on subscription and taking one of the premium wall charts. He first subscribed for the paper when about to leave for Grand Island to attend business college two years ago, and evidently is pleased with it as he continues his subscription, paying ahead.

A very pleasant surprise party was given D. W. Hughes last Wednesday evening by the First Presbyterian Sunday school, of which he was superintendent for thirteen years, up to the first of this year. The Herald failed to secure information in regard to this happy event in time for last week's issue, which of course we regret, but there are some things that it is better to mention late than never, and this is one of them.

P. F. Banks of Denver travels the state of Colorado for the Knapp Art Co. of New York and comes home to Alliance often enough to keep in touch with friends and home folks. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Banks, reside in the Marple neighborhood; his sister, Miss Leora Banks, who is an Alliance High school student, subscribes for The Herald for her brother to keep him posted on Box Butte county news.

Glen G. Hampton was being given the glad hand by his many Alliance friends the fore part of this week. He and his four-year-old son, William, arrived from Gothenburg Sunday, remaining here until last night, when they went to Denver to meet Mrs. Hampton and the baby, who have been visiting at the home of Mr. Hampton's parents. Of all the former residents of this city who receive a cordial greeting upon their return, none receive a more hearty welcome or from a larger number of persons than does Glen. He reports conditions good and business prosperous at Gothenburg, where he is cashier of the Gothenburg National Bank.

J. B. Johnston, who has been working on Nels Worley's ranch, met with an accident last Tuesday evening that will lay him up for some time. A horse which he was riding fell on his left foot, badly bruising him. He was brought to town and taken to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Johnston, and an examination made, but so far the physicians have been unable to ascertain whether any bones were broken.

Mrs. E. A. McFall came up from Lakeside yesterday on 43, returning today on 44.

Thos. Squibbs, formerly a blacksmith at Marsland but late a rancher twenty miles southeast of Alliance, was in town a couple of days last week.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. church will be entertained at the home of Mrs. E. T. Kibble, at 936 Box Butte avenue, at 2:30 next Wednesday afternoon. All members and friends are cordially invited.

John Hassenstab was formerly a subscriber to The Herald but his name was off the list for a while. We are pleased to receive his order this week to be reinstated as a subscriber. He receives his mail at within a few miles of his claim, Mumper, Garden county, which is mentioned in another item in this issue.

For a special attraction at the Crystal theatre next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights, the management of this popular theatre have secured the consent of Louis Luft to let Joe, the educated bear, perform. This bear is owned by Louis Luft and trained by Henry Jennings, and does some of the most difficult tricks ever performed by a bear, being only eight months old and trained but thirty days. As this bear is owned and trained at some every man, woman and child should not fail to see him.

BISHOP BEECHER'S VISIT

On Last Sunday at Episcopal Church Large Audiences Listened to Eloquent Discourses

RECEPTION SATURDAY NIGHT

Rt. Rev. George Allen Beecher, bishop of the district of Kearney, preached at the Episcopal church at both services on last Sunday. Large audiences listened to the two able discourses. The house was well filled Sunday morning and at the night service the people could not all be seated, many standing during the entire service. His subject Sunday night was "Social Purity". The discourse was replete with sound sense and spirituality.

During the bishop's visit here he baptized twenty-eight people, including children, and administered the right of confirmation to thirty persons, including many leading citizens of Alliance.

On Saturday night the hospitable home of Mayor and Mrs. F. W. Harris was filled to overflowing by the friends of Bishop Beecher, who took this occasion to give him a reception. During the evening Mrs. G. J. Rousseau and Miss Alma Weidenhauer favored the company with vocal solos, being ably accompanied by Mrs. Edith Barker. Mr. Elting Bennett furnished a piano solo, and the Episcopal ladies' quartet sang to the delight of those who were so fortunate as to hear them.

Phelan Opera House Wednesday, January 31

This is a comedy play never having been played before in Alliance, but it is one of the standard plays familiar to all playgoers. The story concerns Bob Blake, a drummer for a cloak and suit house who finds himself marooned in a small western city on Christmas day. He inquires of the station agent, Beth Elliott, about the departure of the next train, and from her manner and answers, Blake immediately falls in love with her. At dinner following the acquaintance he hears that she is owner of a supposedly worthless tract of land. In a poker game next day, Blake overhears a conversation that convinces him of the value of the land and frustrates a plan calculated to beat the girl out of it. Being under age herself, she marries Blake, who as her husband becomes her legal guardian to handle the property. The entire play is a delicious comedy that pleases everybody in an audience. The company is composed of high grade players and the show is owned by a standard New York company, so that it can be guaranteed as a high-class production. All special scenery will be used by the company together with special electrical effects. Prices are 75 cents and $1.00 for reserved seats and 50 cents for the gallery.

UNION REVIVAL MEETINGS

Churches Unite for Series of Services. Tabernacle to be Erected in Convenient Location

EVANGELIST AND SINGER

Final word has come from Evangelists Lowry and Moody that they will come to Alliance either March 10th or 17th for a four weeks' campaign. The business men of this city have guaranteed between $800 and $900 to stand back of the erection of a large tabernacle which will soon be built. Special care will be taken to make this building warm and we are assured by the evangelist that it will be easier to heat than an ordinary church. As Rev. Oscar Lowry is now holding a meeting in Moscow, Idaho, in a tabernacle, and as he has just closed a similar meeting at Montrose, Colo., we believe that his advice in this matter can be safely taken.

At a meeting held a few days ago the following committees were appointed:

Executive Committee—Revs. A. L. Godfrey (chairman), O. S. Baker, Geo. A. Witte, J. B. Brown; Messrs. J. N. Johnston, Geo. Duncan, A. H. Morris, H. U. Carpenter, S. K. Warrick, A. F. Bundy, D. W. Hughes, Lloyd Smith (financial secretary), Reuben Knight (treasurer), Prof. Pate.

Music Committee—Mrs. C. C. Smith (chairman), Mrs. F. G. Leavitt, Mrs. Philip Nohe, Mr. Geo. W. Duncan.

Ushers Committee—Messrs. I. E. Tash (chairman), Webster Bernhardt, W. R. Harper, Fred Mollring, A. R. Acheson, Chester Johnston, Orville Johnston, Verne Hamilton, A. F. Bundy, Dr. Tyler, G. H. Stanton, Reuben Knight, A. H. Morris, H. U. Carpenter, F. G. Leavitt, W. B. Young.

Advertising Committee—Rev. J. B. Brown (chairman), Messrs. Chester Johnston, F. G. Leavitt, Prof. Pate

Warrick (chairman), D. W. Hughes, J. N. Johnston, W. B. Young.

If for any reason any of the above are unable to serve it is requested that notification be sent at once to one of the pastors. Instructions will be forwarded at once to the various chairmen by Rev. Lowry. The Executive Committee is requested to meet No. 44 on Thursday, Feb. 1st, for a conference with Rev. Oscar Lowry, as he passes through on his way to Beatrice.

DR. SLAGLE GOES EAST

Will Spend a Few Weeks in Study of Surgery and Special Medicine

Although he is one of the younger members of the medical fraternity of western Nebraska, Dr. Chas. E. Slagle stands in the front rank as a physician and surgeon. His success since he has been practicing medicine in Alliance has been due, not only to his native tact and ability and the thorough preparation made before entering upon the practice of his profession, but also to his indomitable determination to leave nothing undone that may increase his efficiency.

Following this determination he has arranged to leave for the east next Sunday or Monday to be gone several weeks, which time he will spend in study of surgery and special medicine. He will go first to Omaha, thence to Rochester, Minnesota, where the celebrated Mayo hospital is located, and from there to Chicago. In this special study he will have the benefit of clinical work at each of the three places mentioned, which, for the practical purposes of a graduate physician, is the best kind of study.

George A. Hills has reopened his harness shop, as will be seen by the reading notice which he inserts in this issue, which will be of special interest to many of our readers. The tanning in particular will be quite an accommodation to some who have wanted that kind of work done and knew of no place convenient to leave their orders.
