With the price of butter out of sight, "Hot gravy," says the Atchison Globe, "isn't a bad thing to fight the butter trust with." Pass the gravy, please.

Another thing the Atchison Globe says that seems to us worth quoting: "As a general rule, a man who doesn't smoke too much doesn't smoke." And we guess that's right, too.

A new postmaster is to be appointed for Broken Bow, and now a movement is on foot to call an election at that place to give the patrons of the office an opportunity to express their choice, by a preferential ballot, as to who shall serve them in that capacity.

We are reminded of the editor who was dying, when the doctor bent over him, placed his ear to the editor's breast and said, "Poor man, circulation almost gone!" The dying editor looked up and shouted, "You're a liar! We have the largest circulation in the county."

Hon. J. A. O'Leary, Jr., of Ord, has been spoken of frequently as a probable candidate for democratic nomination for state railroad commissioner. He is a man well fitted for that responsible position, and worthy of it, but in a statement dated January 30 he declines to become a candidate for the reason that he has other business which demands his attention.

We have a copy of the Dayton Herald of Dayton, Ohio, in which some information is given about Florida lands mentioned in this paper a few weeks ago. From this we learn that these lands are now selling at $60 per acre, which is given as a "remarkably low price," although quite an advance over what they could have been purchased for a short time ago.

While we are quoting from the Atchison Globe, here's another: "Aside from leaving it alone there is no system of beating the booze game. We used to know a man who tried to keep drunk all the time to beat the busthead attendant on sobbing up. But, in the end, he saw pale green jabberwocks and things crawling on the bed clothes, and another system had failed."

The Nebraska seed corn trains which were scheduled to start out February 19 will not begin their runs through the state until one week later. There will be four of these trains. The Burlington will run two, one to start from Omaha and the other from Lincoln. The Northwestern will run one train, as will also the Union Pacific. They will start February 26. Many leading agriculturalists of the state will be on these trains, and also Prof. L. L. Zook, the corn specialist of the department of agriculture at Washington, D. C., who will be on each of the trains during a part of the trip.

The editor of the Crete Democrat isn't a prohibitionist, but when he has anything to say on the temperance question he speaks right out just the same. His paper of January 31 had the following editorial remark about beer drinking: "Every man over 50 realizes that his kidneys are easily affected by drinking and especially of beer, hence the distressing pains and disease of these vital organs. You had better cut out beer after 50, even if the brewer tries to induce you to continue to use their stuff so they can get some of your earnings. They have become rich on the nickles you pass over the counter for their beer."

L. H. Highland of the Alliance Grocery made a business trip to Denver the first of the week.

ALLIANCE VS. SIDNEY

Basket Ball Game at Sidney Last Saturday Night Results in Tie Score, 22 to 22

GIRLS' GAME HERE SATURDAY

The High School basket ball team, accompanied by about fifty rooters, went to Sidney last Saturday to play the High School team of that place. The game was probably the most evenly matched ever played on the Sidney floor and at the close of the second half the score was 22 to 22. In playing off a tie score it is necessary for a team to lead by two points to win the game, the first team securing a lead of two points being the winner. Alliance threw a foul, making the score 23 to 22, and shortly afterward threw another foul, making the score (if the foul should be counted) 24 to 22 in favor of Alliance. Sidney contested the second foul, and as no amicable agreement could be reached, the game was declared off and no victory awarded.

The Alliance boys, collectively and individually, played a great game under adverse circumstances, adverse because the field is small, has a wall on one side, and two pillars within the field, and the Alliance High School has every reason to be proud of the showing made.

The Sidney and Alliance High School girls' teams will play in the Alliance gymnasium Saturday of this week. The game will be called promptly at 8:30. Show your loyalty to the High School by your attendance.

END OF PROLONGED ILLNESS

Death of James Collins at His Home, Northeast of Alliance

The funeral of James Collins will be held at 2:30 this afternoon at Holy Eucharist church, interment being in Calvary cemetery. For the past year or more he has been an invalid, his ailment being a complication of tuberculosis and brights disease. He died at his late home near Long Lake, in Sheridan county, twenty-two miles northeast of this city. He had resided in that community some eight or ten years and had many friends who will sincerely mourn his demise.

He leaves a wife and six children, four children at home and two married daughters, Mrs. James McKinney, of Alliance, whose husband is employed at Tiele's drug store, and Mrs. Jack Campbell of Long Lake. To the sorrowing relatives The Herald wishes to give expression to the spirit of condolence which we know will be felt by many who read these lines. Deceased was a member of the M. B. A. and M. W. A. delegations from which lodges will attend the funeral.

NO LONGER QUARANTINED

The Herald does not believe in creating unnecessary fear in regard to contagious diseases when there is no real danger. The home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Katen has been sorely afflicted within the last few months by diphtheria, but as a strict quarantine was maintained and there was no danger of the disease spreading, we thought it best not to mention the matter at the time. We wish to pay respect to the two daughters who were taken from the home. Gladys Onets, the lovely four year old daughter, died on January 7. Her seven year old sister, Anna Leota, died January 19, her death being due to a weak heart, she having recovered from diphtheria. The latter had been a student at St. Agnes Academy and her many friends as well as relatives mourn her departure. Mr. and Mrs. Katen wish to express their gratitude to the friends for their kindness and assistance in a card of thanks. They have had the sympathy of The Herald during all of their affliction.

CARD OF THANKS

To the friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted us during the sickness and death of our little girls, we wish to express our sincere thanks, and especially to the K. of C. and D. of I. MR. AND MRS. THOS. KATEN and Family.

If you want a piece of old fashioned chicken pie, the kind your mother used to make, go to the chicken pie supper and bazaar which the Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. church will give in the Phelan opera house, February 20.

The Herald has been trying, since the grand jury adjourned to secure a detailed report for publication but there are some items which we wish to include and which we have not yet been able to secure.
