THE FIRST NATIONAL

ANNUAL CITY ELECTION

Quiet Campaign Closes Next Tuesday With Indications of a Light Vote

LICENSE WILL BE VOTED ON

The city election to be held next Tuesday will close one of the quietest and most orderly campaigns ever held in Alliance. The beauty of deciding by direct vote questions of public interest, especially the question of licensing saloons, is shown more plainly as the campaign progresses. Whatever may be the result of the election, the campaign preceding it can be looked upon ever after as a credit to the city. Differences of opinion on public issues will exist the same when decided by direct vote as when settled by the election of a candidate for or against, but the bitter personalities common to the latter will be avoided.

We have not much to say in trying to predict the result of the election next Tuesday. It looks now as though the votes will be pretty much divided among the candidates for most of the offices, so much so that we do not care to hazard many guesses as to who will be elected. Reuben E. Knight, who is the only candidate on the ticket for city engineer, will be elected of course, and it seems quite probable that Jay Emerick will be re-elected city clerk. He has given general satisfaction in that office during the year just closed, and there is a strong sentiment in favor of giving an acceptable official a second term. A list of all of the candidates for the city offices has already been published in The Herald except two or three. L. H. Highland, who has yielded to the requests of his friends to make the race for mayor, is on the ticket as a candidate for that office. He is well and favorably known in this city as a straightforward and able business man, and while we do not venture to guess whether he will be elected or not, there can be no question but that he will have a strong support on election day.

Karl J. Stern is one of the three candidates for councilman in the second ward. He is well known, especially among railroad men, and is held in highest esteem by all his acquaintances. He will probably receive a good support at the polls.

The question of licensing saloons in which, without doubt, the voters of the city are more interested in this coming election than they are in the candidates themselves, we would like to have discussed somewhat before the election, but on account of being crowded with our work we have been unable to do so, except so far as it has been mentioned through our W. C. T. U. department, etc. We do not believe that saloons have been a help to other lines of business in general in Alliance during the past year, but do not care to reiterate the statement without giving our reasons. We are delighted that the question is to be settled in the sensible way, by direct vote of the people, and are willing to let the matter rest at that.

Nohe's popular restaurant at 117 Box Butte avenue will soon present an elegant appearance. A new floor has been laid, new paper is being put on the walls and ceiling, booths will be put in for the accommodation of guests who wish a private room in which to eat their meals, and an elegant plate glass front will be put in. This will give the place a fine appearance from the outside as well as the inside. This restaurant has a large patronage and the proprietor says he intends to make it the finest place in town.

Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Scoggin and Mrs. Cartright of Bridgeport came up to Alliance yesterday to attend the tabernacle meeting last night. They returned on 302 this morning.

John Wiker left this morning going about thirty-five miles south into the sand hills on business for the Bennett Company.

The annual contest of the North Platte Valley High School Association, held at Alliance last Friday night, resulted in a victory for Alliance. Our contestants won first place in two of the three classes and second place in one. The schools represented were Alliance, Bridgeport, Scottsbluff, Sidney and Dalton.

COMING TO ALLIANCE

Hon. R. L. Metcalf Will Visit This City Next Thursday Forenoon

TO BE GIVEN ROYAL WELCOME

Hon. Richard L. Metcalf, candidate for the democratic nomination for governor, will be in Alliance next Thursday forenoon, April 4. He will arrive on the early morning train and will remain in the city until 1:10 p.m.

Arrangements have been made to give him a royal welcome. Friends of progressive government from outside of Alliance, as well as those in the city, are requested to be on hand at that time to greet Mr. Metcalf.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS

The change in advertising rates, recently announced to begin April 1, will be deferred until May 1. We make this change in our plans on account of the Daily which is being published now, and on account of which we think it best to defer the change in rates for a month.

UNION REVIVAL MEETINGS

We have not said much about the revival meetings in the weekly edition of The Herald for the reason that so much attention has been given the same in The Daily for which those who are interested in the meetings should subscribe. We still have some copies of each issue of the Daily and until the same are exhausted, can begin subscriptions with the first number if desired. The price of The Daily for one month giving an account of the entire series of meetings is fifty cents, one week fifteen cents, single copies five cents.

For the benefit of those of our readers who are not subscribers to The Daily, will say that the union revival meetings have created a great interest already in the surrounding country. The total attendance of the meetings up to date is estimated to be between 8,000 and 9,000; total number of converts to date, 114. We believe that the readers of the weekly paper who are interested in the meetings will feel that they should be subscribers to The Daily.

RAIL ROAD NOTES

The weekly instalment of railroad notes for this week will appear in the Daily on Friday or Saturday.

PROMINENT MEN HERE

Hon. John H. Morehead of Falls City, candidate for democratic nomination for governor, and Hon. Woodruff Ball of Valentine, candidate for republican nomination for state senator, are in Alliance today. The Herald acknowledges a pleasant call from both of these gentlemen. We
