ANSWERS THE CALL

Alliance People Have Found That This is True.

A cold, a strain, a sudden wrench, a little cause may hurt the kidneys.

Spells of backache often follow, Or some irregularity of the urine.

A splendid remedy for such attacks, A medicine that has cured thousands.

Is Doan's Kidney Pills, a true kidney remedy.

Many Alliance people rely on it. Here is Alliance proof.

Mrs. L. A. Benedict, Sweetwater St., Alliance, Nebr., says: "For several years I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and consider them an excellent kidney remedy. During the winter months my kidneys become disordered but I always procure a supply of Doan's Pills at Holsten's Drug Store and they drive away my trouble. Doan's Kidney Pills have been taken by other members of my family and have brought great benefit. I highly recommend this remedy to other kidney sufferers."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

CANTON CONTRIBUTION

J. D. McAuley of Peru, Nebr., accompanied by Earl Armstrong, whose home is in Peru, but who is now clerking for Frank Caha of Hemingford, was in this vicinity last week looking at some property with a view to trading for it. They were in the care of Robert Ball of Ball Bros., real estate men of Canton and Hemingford.

K. L. Pierce and a Mr. Maillard, representing an eastern investment company, were in this vicinity last week viewing some lands upon which the owners had applied for loans. They were very favorably impressed with the character of the country and predicted a bright future. They stayed over night at Canton.

Lawrence Romer is drilling a well for Emmett Johnson, who had the misfortune to have his old well badly damaged during one of the late thaws.

Joel Brown, the evangelist, whose homestead is located just south of Canton, came down from Lead, S. D., Friday for a brief stay.

Arthur Bass, who was at Scottsbluff when the recent storm began, came home Sunday in the face of the storm, which was the worst ever experienced by the oldest inhabitant.

John Keane and little son, M. E. Hubert and wife, Earnest Eisea, Joel Brown and Robert Ball were marooned at Canton from Saturday noon until Sunday noon on account of the storm.

Ben Curtis, we are informed, lost a valuable stallion by death during the late storm.

J. B. Curry came near perishing in the late storm. He went out to drive the cattle in and was unable to do so, but succeeded in sheltering them at Mrs. Alice Curtis' place, while he himself made his way to Ben Curtis' place, something like a half mile southeast, very nearly exhausted.

Casualties so far as reported during the late storm are as follows: I. G. Ware, C. W. Zimmerman and Mrs. Henry Safford had their wind mills blown down; James Curry and J. F. McCart had some of their buildings unroofed; loss of stock on many ranches was from one to ten head, and we are told that J. L. Sandford lost one hundred head.

Miss Wilmetta Hawkins, who has been visiting for several weeks with relatives here, left for Alliance Tuesday morning.

Mrs. E. L. Hawkins expects to leave this week for Corvallis, Oregon, where she will visit with her mother and other relatives. She expects to take Nyle and Nellie with her.

NEW BRICK YARD AT EDMONT

Alliance Man Opens Plant in South Dakota Town

From Edgemont Enterprise, April 12: This week there was consummated the deal for the ground which S. C. Reck of Alliance desired for a location for his brick yard, the deed being taken up by him. The tract purchased embraces the hill between the school house and the railroad tracks, and will give Mr. Reck trackage both for installing his machinery and the out-put of his factory. The shale contained in the hill will make a brick of superior quality to last many years.

Mr. Reck will hurry the construction of the plant as rapidly as possible, and expects to manufacture about one million brick this year.

DEATH CLAIMS GEN. FRED GRANT

Passes Away Suddenly of Heart Failure in New York Hotel.

MRS. GRANT WITH HIM AT END

Lack of Warning Caused Delay in Securing Doctors—Attack of Diabetes and Indigestion Caused Trouble Was Son of Ulysses S. Grant.

New York, April 12.—Grant is dead. The news flashed from the apartments of Major General Frederick Dent Grant at the Hotel Buckingham early this morning sent a shock through the city such as that which startled the whole country on the death of his father 27 years ago. The news was far more sudden. It came less than an hour after the first alarm had been sounded that General Grant was even seriously ill. The alarm itself had come before it had been generally learned that General Grant was even in the city, as his presence here had been kept a secret.

"Get a physician quick, the general is dying." This telephone message, received at the night desk of the Buckingham shortly before midnight, was the first news.

A bellboy was dispatched to the office of Dr. Abbey, nearby, but the physician was not at home. Mrs. Grant was notified and, chafing at the delay, she cried back hysterically: "Get an ambulance, get anybody!"

The alarm was sent to police headquarters, from which an ambulance was dispatched. Calls were put in at random also for physicians in the Fifth avenue district and within a few minutes two had responded.

When the ambulance arrived, within four minutes of the alarm, it was said General Grant was dying. He was in too dangerous a condition to be removed and the ambulance drove away a few minutes later the general died.

The first information as to the cause of death was choking, but later it was stated that the cause was heart failure, following diabetes and attending digestive disturbances.

Statement of Physicians. The following statement was made by General Grant's attending physicians, Drs. Abbey and Beach:

"General Frederick Dent Grant died suddenly of heart failure without premonition at the Buckingham hotel after retiring apparently in better condition than for several weeks. He had returned from his recent trip much improved and looking remarkably well and vigorous. His condition since his return had given no special anxiety to his physician, who had been with him during the afternoon and congratulated him on his good health. He expressed himself as feeling rejoiced at his renewed strength. General Grant had been suffering from diabetes and the attendant digestive disturbances which seemed, however, to be perfectly under control. This sudden fatal termination came as a great surprise. His wife and nurse were with him at the time and physicians who were called at once found the heart had stopped instantly."

Sketch of His Career.

Major General Frederick Dent Grant, eldest son of General Ulysses S. Grant, eighteenth president of the United States, was born at St. Louis Mo., May 30, 1850. He was with his father during a part of the civil war witnessed the capture of Forts Henry and Donelson and went with his father's command through the Virginia campaign. He witnessed also the fights at Corinth, Vicksburg, Nashville and Petersburg.

After the war young Grant entered West Point, and was graduated in 1871. For a year he served as a civil engineer for the Union Pacific railway and in 1872 accompanied General Sherman on a trip to Europe.

Grant served as an aide-de-camp of General Sheridan and took part in the campaign against the Indians. He served with Major General Stanley in the Yellowstone expedition and in 1874 in the Black Hills expedition, after which he accompanied his father around the world. He resigned his commission as colonel in the army in 1881, and for a number of years he was engaged in various enterprises.

At the outbreak of the war with Spain he became a member in the Fourteenth New York Infantry, and was appointed brigadier general. He reached the grade of major general five years later.

POPE PIUS IS WELL

Report of His Death Due to Mistake in Word.

Madrid, April 12.—The erroneous report of the pope's death originated through a telegram which was sent to an attaché at the papal nunciature, announcing the death of his father. The word used was "papa," which means either "pope" or "father."

The attaché announced that it was the pope who was dead and he so informed the Spanish government. Premier Canalejas in turn communicated the news to the reporters. They flashed the report over the world. King Alfonso and members of the cabinet were informed and sent messages of condolence to the nunciature. The papal nuncio was absent when the messages arrived and the mistake was not discovered until he returned.
