ERNST VON FORELL
Democratic Candidate for STATE SENATOR

27th Senatorial District.

Some of the Things for Which I Stand

A dry land experiment station and a moving experiment station for the Twenty-seventh senatorial district.

A county superintendent of agriculture in each county in the state.

For a systematic method of improving the highways

A revision of our tax laws which will put an end to the present methods of fixing men for improving their real estate.

ERNST VON FORELL.

An important business change has taken place in Alliance within the last week, Link Lowry having leased the Speedway Garage and equipment of J. C. McCorkle and has purchased his interest in the automobile business. This will permit Lowry to devote his entire time and attention to the garage and automobile business which he will be able to handle in fine shape, while McCorkle will give his entire time and attention to the land business, assisted by his son, Norman. The land office will be on the second floor of the McCorkle block. Mr. McCorkle is one of the best known real estate men in western Nebraska and now that buyers are coming in from the east he is kept busy showing and selling land, with prospects of a heavy real estate business this fall and coming winter.

MR. TAFT WILL HAVE TO EXPLAIN.

What Shall We Do With the Negro?

By CHARLES STELZLE

BOOKER T. WASHINGTON once said, "The only way that you can keep the negro in the gutter is to stay there with him." No doubt Washington is right. But here he is—ten millions strong. What shall we do with him? The negro will not return to Africa to establish a Liberian republic, as some people have fondly wished. He came to the United States against his will, and he's going to stay here.

It's simply a question as to whether he is to be a "good" negro or a "bad" negro, and the answer to this question depends as much upon the whites as it does upon the blacks.

The fact that the negro is dying in such large numbers of tuberculosis and other still more frightful diseases is, of course, due to his ignorance and to

THE NEGRO.

Proportion between Total Population and Negro Population in the United States. Relative decrease of Negroes as compared with Whites largely due to unsanitary living conditions

In sixty years the total Population increased about four-fold. The negro population increased about two and two-thirds-fold. Actual increase negro population from 1900 to 1910—994,300 other reasons for which he is largely responsible, but we cannot forget that it is also to be charged to the fact that he is compelled to live in the worst sections of our towns and cities, often without drainage or sewerage or garbage service, without water within a reasonable distance and scarcely any of the sanitary conditions in house or yard or street which whites consider an absolute necessity. We drive the worst forms of immorality into the negro quarters and then curse the negro because of his moral weakness. We subject him to the severest test of our city life—physical, moral and political—and then cynically declare that the "nigger" is no good anyway. Considering the short time that the negro has had any sort of chance for preparing himself for citizenship in a democracy he has done marvelously well. Let's give him a square deal—a man's chance. Neither race hatred nor mawkish sentimentality will settle this very delicate question. The south cannot settle it alone, and the north cannot do the work for the south. The north and the south, the city and the country, must tackle the thing together, for this is a national problem.

DEMOCRACY MUST BE A WORTHY INSTRUMENT

People Trust It, Says Woodrow Wilson, and It Must Make Good.

Sea Girt, N. J.—Woodrow Wilson at the "Little White House" at Sea Girt is daily called upon to demonstrate his ability as a ready speaker.

There is not a day passes but what he meets various delegations who call to assure him of their support.

In speaking of political machines to the Brooklyn Democratic club Governor Wilson said: "Machines are bad, but an organization may be very essential. For instance, I have been surrounded by an organization here in New Jersey while doing my best work. A machine uses its political opportunities for the selfish ends of its members. No members of our organization would ever think of doing that. Public opinion in New Jersey has drawn the distinction. It has killed the machines, and it is going to keep the organization going."

"It seems to me that we are standing in the presence of something higher than allegiance to the Democratic party. The country has been disappointed in the Republican party, and it is turning to the Democratic party. That party is willing to show the way toward those things which must be realized."

"Some gentlemen seem to find it easy to make personalities out of politics, but it seems to me that whenever that is done politics is debased."

"Men who are in search of reform are now resorting to the Democratic party, because, for my own part, I do not know where else they will turn to expect the results. There is no discounting the strength and serviceability of a united party, and the splendid part is that the Democratic party is united."

"Speaking seriously, nothing affords me more genuine pleasure than to receive such greetings from men in Jersey who have at least tested my qualities. Because you have known me at close range and if you will be kind enough to vouch for me perhaps the rest of the country will be credulous of your report."

"I have spent a great deal of time since I became governor of New Jersey defending my character. It was supposed in the old days, when the board of guardians was in charge of the state, that you were all of you disposed to give the most monopolistic trusts in the country a great ringing welcome in New Jersey."

"New Jersey was known as the mother of trusts—a very troublesome and questionable family—and I had to spend my time outside New Jersey assuring the people of the Union that it had not been the fault or the disposition of the people of New Jersey that there were certain gentlemen who had undertaken to carry the Republican party in their pockets and to administer independently of the rank and file of Republicans in the state."

ATTENTION, DEMOCRATS

A mass meeting will be held in the Court House in Alliance on Tuesday evening, September 10, 1912, for the purpose of organizing a Wilson and Marshall club. All democrats of Box Butte county are requested to be present, and all those who favor the candidacy of Wilson and Marshall, regardless of former political affiliations, are cordially invited to be present and participate in the organization. Hon. W. H. Thompson of Grand Island will be present and will speak on political issues. Democratic County Central Committee, W. S. RIDGEL, Chairman. JOE WESTOVER, Sec'y.

Weekly Weather Report

We have been having good weather during the past week, but not quite as suitable as the weather the previous week. Last Thursday afternoon a rain and hail storm passed northeast of Alliance about 10 miles thru the Fairview neighborhood, doing some damage, the wind at the Lawrence amounting to almost a tornado. Tuesday night of this week a heavy rain fell at Alliance. With the above exceptions, the weather has been just about what the people have wanted here, warm and without rain.

Mrs. R. Simmons, the milliner, leaves tonight for a two days' business trip to Denver.

THE GREAT DUTY OF ADJUSTMENT.

We are servants of the people, the whole people. The nation has been unnecessarily, unreasonably at war with itself. Interest has clashed with interest when there were common principles of right and of fair dealing which might and should have bound them all together not as rivals, but as partners. As the servants of all we are bound to undertake the great son's Speech Accepting the Democratic Nomination. duty of accommodation and adjustment.—From Woodrow Wilson.

Wilson will make the most accessible president who has ever occupied the White House. He is typically a Democratic man.

Wilson is the best equipped man nominated for the presidency since Lincoln.

George W. Perkins is sure a "bully" Progressive.

EXPLANATION POSTPONED

The explanation promised in the last issue of The Herald in regard to opposition of certain parties to this paper's stand for progressive principles and the men who advocate them, particularly W. J. Bryan, is necessarily postponed till next week.

SCOTTS BLUFF COUNTY FAIR

The twenty-second annual county fair of the Scotts Bluff County Agricultural Association will be held at Mitchell, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week. The attractions will consist of races, ball games and other sports, and a grand exhibition of farm products.
