COL. ROOSEVELT SHOT

New York Lunatic Follows Ex-President to Milwaukee

No Politics in the Case

Monday evening it was reported in Alliance that ex-President Roosevelt had been shot in Milwaukee, just before beginning a political speech. Full details of the occurrence were not received here until the daily papers arrived the next day. A man by the name of John Schrank who had evidently been following Roosevelt for some time with the intention of assassinating him, leveled a revolver at him as he was leaving his hotel for the auditorium, where he was to deliver an address, and fired. The shot took effect in the right breast, fracturing the fourth rib. The force of the bullet was broken by the manuscript of the speech which was in the colonel's coat pocket. Had it not been for this, the shot would no doubt have proved fatal.

Colonel Roosevelt's courage, which is one cause of his great popularity, was shown by his insisting on proceeding to the auditorium and delivering his speech, occupying nearly an hour, before even permitting an examination by the physicians.

That some newspaper correspondents' minds naturally run in narrow channels is shown by the report sent out immediately after the shooting that the assassin "was probably a socialist." The man who did the shooting and who is the son of a New York saloonkeeper, is evidently a republican, if anything in politics; but it is absurd to charge his crime to any political party or its adherents. The following letter found in his pocket shows him to be a maniac:

"September 15, 1912. "September 15, 1891, 1:30 a.m. In a dream I saw President McKinley sit up in a moon's attire in whom I recognized Theodore Roosevelt. The dead president said: 'This is my murderer, avenge my death.'"

"September 12, 1912, 1:30 a.m. While writing a poem, someone tapped me on the shoulder and said: 'Let not a murderer take the presidential chair. Avenge my death.'"

"I could plainly see Mr. McKinley's features. "Before the Almighty God, I swear that above writing is nothing but the truth."

Another note in the man's pockets reads:

"So long as Japan could rise to the greatest power of the world despite her surviving a tradition more than 2,000 years old, as General Nogi so nobly demonstrated, it is the duty of the United States of America to uphold the third term tradition. Let every third term be regarded as a traitor to the American cause. Let it be the right and duty of every citizen to forcibly remove a third term. Never let a third term party emblem appear on the official ballot."

"I am willing to die for my country. God has called me to be his instrument, so help me God. (Signed.) "Innocent Guilty."

"In German a strong tower is our God."

BOSTON RED SOX WORLD CHAMPIONS

Score by Innings R H E
Boston 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 2-3 8 4
New York 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 1-2 9 2

Batteries: Mathewson and Meyers; Bedient, Wood and Cady.

Fenway Park, Boston, Oct. 16.—The Boston American league club won the world's championship for 1912 today defeating the New York Nationals by a score of 3 to 2 in a ten-inning contest before 30,000 people. Mathewson pitched a wonderful game until the final inning when he weakened.

The Red Sox were one run behind when they came to the bat at the end of the tenth inning. A glaring muff by Snodgrass of Engle's long fly put the batter on second.

After Hooper had fled out Speaker came thru with a single and Engle rushed across the plate with the tying score. On the throwing Speaker went to second, Yerkes having gone to third on the play. Lewis was purposely passed in order that a forced play could be made at the plate.

Then Gardner came to the plate. The stands were in a turmoil of excitement. Gardner caught an inshoot on the end of his bat and sent it to Devore, whose throw to the plate was too wide to catch Yerkes at the plate and Boston held the world's title.

The crowd rushed on the field and gathered around the Red Sox bunch, cheering the home players. Some spectator addressed an insulting remark to McGraw and there was an exchange of blows.

McGraw was on his way to the Red Sox bench to congratulate Stahl on his victory. The crowd pressed about Mathewson and patted him on the back for his clever work. Bedient and Wood pitched effectively for Boston.

A CASE OF COLD FEET

Congressman Kinkaid's Illness Proves to be Fear of Defeat

Re-enters Race for Congress

The "Big Sixth" congressional district has just had an example of quick recovery from an acute attack of cold feet. When it was announced last week that your Uncle Moses P. Kinkaid had decided to withdraw from the race as a candidate for reelection to congress again, and had gone so far as to transmit his withdrawal to the secretary of state, giving ill health as an excuse for doing so, a good many voters looked askance. Of course, they did not like to question his sincerity, but it did look strange that his health was quite good during that period of the campaign that he was trying to land the endorsement of the progressives, but as soon as they emphatically declined in their convention to endorse such a rank standpatter and nominated another man as their candidate, he at once discovered that his health was in a precarious condition. The republican congressional committee got together at Crawford and although they had better material to select from, from the viewpoint of real statesmanship, they well knew, as has been pointed out in this paper, that Mr. Kinkaid was an over-rated man and had a hold on a large number of votes to which he is not entitled by his ability and record as a congressman. By some means which they have not published to the world they persuaded him to re-enter the race, and now he is the standpat, or Taft republican candidate, by nomination of the congressional central committee. But we shall see what we shall see.

OVER THE GREAT DIVIDE

Highly Respected Pioneer Citizen Succumbs to Cancer of Stomach After Long Illness

JOHN C. BERRY OF ANTIOCH

Last Saturday morning, October 12, the wires brought the sad, but not unexpected, news to Alliance that J. C. Berry of Reno had passed away. He had many friends in this city as well as in Sheridan and Garden counties, by whom he was held in highest esteem and whose hearts are made sad by his demise.

John Clinton Berry was born in 1852, at New Salem, in Fairfield county, Ohio, where he lived until twelve years of age. His father died in 1857 and two years later his mother married Samuel Stewart. The family removed to Chariton, Iowa, in 1864. At the age of twenty-three Mr. Berry began work for the C. B. & Q. railroad, where he continued until 1875.

In 1875, Mr. Berry was married to Miss Nebraska Louise Wilson of Lucas county, Iowa, moving with his family to this locality in November, 1888. To Mr. and Mrs. Berry were born seven children, all of whom were at his bedside at the time of his death, with the exception of one who had preceded him to the better world.

He is survived by his widow and the following children: Minnie L. Blair and Fannie L. Seitzer, both of Reno, Neb.; Todd P. Berry, Boise, Idaho; Nellie E. Moulton, Anselmo, Neb.; Myrtle E. Betebenner, San Juan, Texas; Manchie R. Berry, Reno, Neb.; and also by three brothers and one sister. One brother, W. H. Stewart of Chariton, Iowa, was present at the funeral.

Mr. Berry was allowed 60 years, 6 months and 5 days to complete his work here upon earth, but in this short time he made good use of it. He was an earnest Christian, uniting with the Presbyterian church when a boy and on coming to Nebraska united with the Congregational church at Reno. He was always ready to give his services in any way, acting as superintendent of the Sabbath school, deacon of the church, or in any way he might aid in the Lord's work. Hence, there is a vacancy which will be felt for years in the Christian work. He was a loving husband and a devoted father, and highly respected by his neighbors and friends.

He was a patient sufferer for two years from cancer of the stomach, undergoing an operation for same at Rochester, Minn., one year ago, which gave him temporary relief.

The funeral was conducted Monday, at 10 o'clock, a.m., at the Reno Congregational church, by Rev. J. B. Brown, former pastor. After the funeral service at the church the remains were brought to Alliance on the train and taken to Greenwood cemetery for interment.

HERALD TO THE FRONT

Splendid Increase in Business in Every Department

Success Pleases Many Friends

The three departments which constitute the business of the Herald Publishing Company are enjoying an increase that is not only gratifying to us but is very pleasing to the many friends of The Alliance Herald.

The Alliance Herald stands for "Decency and Democracy" in the truest sense. We may have made mistakes in the advocacy of what we believe the paper ought to stand for—and who has not made mistakes—but that the people have confidence in, and appreciate, our efforts is increasing lately. We are glad to inform its many friends—and it has a host of friends—that the business dictated by the way business has been hit the high road to prosperity. During the past few weeks subscriptions have come in splendidly, both new and renewals. Orders for job printing have come in such quantities as to make an increase in our working force necessary. This issue will show the demand for advertising space, making the printing of twelve pages necessary this week, with prospects of having to continue the same.
